TOWN TALK.

Additional local will be found on the first page.

The first cranberries of the season were brought into town yesterday.

Sunday services as usual, morning and evening, at the Congregational Church.

The Cross Village Indians made this place quite an extended visit on Thursday.

Another doctor is about to locate in Cheboygan. He arrived on the Champlain on Tuesday.

Read C. A. Brace's advertisement and then call upon him for your stationery, book binding, blanks, &c.

Williams & Co.'s dredge No. 1 broke its dipper last Monday while at work in the river near Hurd's dock.

A new barber shop will be opened in the room adjoining "Johnny Hop's" saloon sometime during the coming week.

The sea was so high on Thursday night that the tugs Eva English and North Star failed to make their home trip.

Mackinaw was visited by an excursion from Lansing on Tuesday. The Truscott took over several parties from here to meet them.

Goshen, Ind., will start an excursion to Mackinaw on the 13th inst. It is probable that a few of the party will visit Cheboygan.

Williams & Co.'s dredge No. 2 finished her repairs and commenced work on McArthur, Smith & Co.'s new dock Wednesday evening.

Mr. E. T. Williams, of L'Anse, Mich., the senior of the dredging firm was in town a few days this week. He went south on the St. Joe.

New wheat is commencing to arrive at the flouring mill for grinding. Some of it is quite badly grown, making it impossible to make good flour of it.

Mr. C. T. Palmer, an old acquaintance of the editor, formerly of Adrian, Mich., but now of Detroit, spent Thursday in town and made our office a friendly call.

Some of the tug men complain of the way the lumbermen leave booms in the river. A little carelessness in this respect might be the cause of serious damage.

If the looks of several fields of corn in the vicinity of the village is any criterion to judge by, we would say that this country may yet count corn among her crops.

Morris Wertheimer insists that a sailor's life hath no charms for him. He commanded the schooner Dreadnaught on a recent trip to the north shore, and the return trip fully quenched all his sea-going aspirations.

We would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. J. F. Hall which appears in another column. Mr. Hall has just added stoves to his general hardware business; also, new goods in every line. He will doubtless enjoy his share of trade.

J. J. Barker insists that Indians have no "music in their souls." Lathrop's store was filled with Indians Thursday when the Lansing band serenaded it, and they paid not the least attention to it, but went on with their trading as though there was no outside attraction.

STATE TAXES.—The Auditor General has apportioned to the several counties in this vicinity state taxes for the year 1875 as follows: Cheboygan, $372.31; Chippewa, $372.31; Emmett, $82.74; Mackinaw, $372.31; Presque Isle, $372.31. The aggregate of real and personal estate as equalized by the State Board of Equalization for 1874 for Emmett County was $100,000, and for the other counties named $450,000.

PRESIDING ELDER.—Rev. J. W. Miller, who has for the past four years been presiding elder of this M. E. Conference, having served the limited term allowed by the rules of his church, will be transferred to some new field of labor by the annual conference which has been held this week at Battle Creek. The elder has done good service throughout this entire district, and his many friends will regret to have him leave.

ANOTHER SURPRISE.

This Time it is an Excursion Party from Lansing.

They Come on the Steamer Music and take a Two Hours Glance at Our Town.

This has been a great year for excursions. We can scarce pick up a paper from any part of the country but that gives an account of some excursion. For the first time in its history Cheboygan has been visited by several parties. This shows that the town is becoming better and more favorably known abroad. Although the visits of these parties must necessarily be short they will have a great influence in spreading the advantages of the place abroad, for what is lacking in time is made up by the number of visitors.

THE LANSING EXCURSION PARTY Arrived about ten o'clock Thursday morning on the steamer Music, much to the surprise of the principal portion of our citizens, who had not even heard such a party had left Lansing, much less that they intended to make Cheboygan a visit. The party consisted of about two hundred and eighty people from Lansing and vicinity, who left that place Tuesday afternoon bound for a cheap trip to Mackinaw, and the original trip only contemplated that much, Cheboygan being an after consideration. The party arrived in Mackinaw Wednesday about two o'clock, and proceeded at once to a survey of the island. Through the kindness and liberality of Mr. H. D. Wallen, superintendent of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad, the Music was taken off her regular trip to permit her to make a trip to Cheboygan with the excursionists. This action on the part of the management of this popular road only adds another to the many obligations that this place is under to that road, and can be considered as an expression of kindly feeling towards this place by the company.

The excursion was accompanied by the Knights Templar band of Lansing, one of the best bands in the state. As the Music came in the channel, with her flags flying, she presented a beautiful appearance, while her entrance was cheered by stirring strains of Music by the band. The party landed and were escorted as far as the Spencer House by the band, at which place they scattered and wandered over the town at pleasure. Some of the party were taken in carriages by our citizens and shown the principal points of interest. After a short detention

THE BAND

Were taken in wagons and conveyed about town. They stopped and serenaded the principal business houses, much to the gratification of numerous listeners who seldom have had the pleasure of hearing such excellent music.

The excursion was under the management of Mr. E. D. Gould, of Lansing, who planned the affair and carried it to a successful termination. By his presence and courteous treatment of all, he added much to the enjoyment of the excursionists. The transportation department was under the personal supervision of Messrs. H. D. Wallen, superintendent, and G. W. Munsen, traveling passenger agent of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad. These gentlemen spared no pains to insure the comfort of every member of the excursion, and if we may judge from the remarks of commendation which we heard we should say that they succeeded in every respect.

Every one of the visitors whom we heard express themselves seemed very favorably impressed with the place. The visit will do as much good in disseminating information abroad regarding the place. The more excursions the better. It would, however, be a pleasure to our citizens to be able to show more attention to strangers, if they only knew in advance of their arrival.

A Bear Story.

The Traverse Bay Eagle is responsible for the following bear story: Mr. J. C. Phillips and Mr. James Schaffer were out on Crooked Lake on Sunday, the 29th ult., in a small boat, intending to visit a small island in about the center of the lake. They approached the island about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and when within about ten rods of shore they were met by a large she bear swimming towards them with jaws open ready for an attack. Having nothing except pine paddles with which to defend themselves, and fearing that if allowed to come too near the bear might swamp their boat, they beat a hasty retreat, her ladyship keeping in hot pursuit for a distance of about forty rods out into the lake. This action is certainly very unusual for a bear, but it is supposed her cubs were near when Messrs. Phillips and Schaffer were about to land, wh ch caused her to act in the manner she did.

Stolen Property Recovered.

After the examination of Thomas Dougherty for burglarizing Post & VanArsdale's store, and failing to get clear, he told the officers where the rest of the stolen property could be found. A search showed the revolvers where he stated. With the exception of the money taken all the property has now been recovered. It is still thought by the officers that Dougherty had some confederates, but as yet it has not been discovered who they are. We hope if there were any others connected with this affair that they will be detected and punished.

MARINE.

The following vessels entered at the port for the week ending Sept. 9:

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING.

A Small Attendance and very Little Interest Manifested.

According to the notice previously given, the annual school meeting of this village was held at the school building on Monday evening. Although the meeting was a most important one, at which is levied nearly one-half the taxes paid by this village, and at which trustees were elected to have charge of the schools, and the disbursement of the monies raised, there seemed to be very little interest manifested in it by our citizens. By actual count there were only nineteen persons present. This is not as it should be.

The meeting was called to order by M. W. Horne, moderator. The Secretary of the Board, A. M. Gerow, read the following report of the business of year just closed:

A Postoffice Reform.

Some weeks since the announcement was made that a large number of postmasters in small places had been discharged for a violation of the postoffice regulations in the disposition of postage stamps, thus adding to their salaries, their salaries being regulated by the amount of stamps sold. These postmasters have not been guilty of converting to their own uses money received from the sale of stamps as might be supposed from the brief reference to some of the cases which have been made in the telegraphic dispatches. Had this been the case the crime would have been detected by the discrepancy in their accounts, and would be punished not merely by discharge but by criminal prosecution. Most of them kept groceries or dry good stores. They thus had an opportunity to increase their sale of postage stamps, and consequently their own salaries, by paying the wholesale dealers of whom they bought goods in postage stamps. In this way their sale of stamps was treble or quadruple what it would be from legitimate business, and their salaries were accordingly increased, defrauding the government out of some thousands of dollars every year. The facts came to the knowledge of Mr. Jewell, and after a due investigation he has discharged all postmasters against whom this practice has been proved. It should be understood henceforth by every postmaster that the use of stamps for the payment of his individual debts, no matter if his stamp account with the department is kept perfectly correct, is an offence against the postoffice regulations which will be punished by discharge.

A New Store and New Goods.

As stated in previous issues of the TRIBUNE, Messrs. McArthur, Smith & Co. have in process of erection a new and spacious addition to their large storeroom. This will enable them to show their goods to much better advantage, something that will be fully appreciated by their numerous customers. At the same time that they are making this improvement, Mr. Ward B. McArthur of their firm, is outside purchasing a full supply of seasonable goods for all departments. This is another matter which will be duly appreciated. The goods have already commenced to arrive, and every boat which now stops at this port will add to the supply.

Messrs. McArthur, Smith & Co. have also added a delivery wagon to their conveniences and will hereafter deliver goods to any part of the city free of charge. A glance at their mammoth advertisement will show the advantage they offer to purchasers.

LAND OFFICE BUSINESS.—During the month of August there were 45 homestead entries at the United States Land Office, Traverse City, covering 51,082-7-100 acres; 37 final proofs, covering 43,041 80-100 acres; 20 soldiers' homestead declarations, covering about 3,200 acres; cash entries to the amount of $330 60, covering 138 40-100 acres,

THE NEW SAULT ST. MARIE LOCK.

Some Particulars of the Enterprise and of the Work.

When we mentioned this great work a few weeks since it was our intention as soon as space permitted to give more particulars of the work as it now appears in progress.

The lock is 515 feet long by 80 feet in width in the chamber, and 60 feet at the gates, with sixteen feet of water on the mitre sills. Water is supplied by means of two box culverts, extending the entire length of the lock, each eight feet wide by eighteen deep, with frequent openings two feet by six for the admission of water into the body of the lock. By this means the lock can be very quickly filled, and without "surging." The floor is of the most substantial kind; stringers or sills, consisting of timber twelve inches square, are first laid lengthwise of the lock at intervals of ten feet, and are securely bolted to the solid rock underlying the whole structure. The space between these sills is filled with concrete, composed of lime water, crushed sandstone and fine sand. Over this and at right angels with the sills are other timbers twelve inches square, placed in couples within four inches of each other, and securely bolted to the solid rock by bolts from five to eight feet long. The space between these timbers is filled with cement. Over the whole of this "foundation floor" are spiked two courses of three inch plank rendered as nearly water tight as possible.

The mason work is not yet commenced, although the stone is being quarried and dressed and will be partly delivered this fall. The stone for the facing is obtained at Sagetown, Ill., and is shipped by water from Chicago. Stone for the "backing" will be obtained on some point on the St. Mary's River, probably at Lime Island. In the work of excavating some 30,000 cubic yards of stone and 90,000 of earth were removed.

The entrance to the canals, the new and the old, will be, when completed, about 250 feet in width. Vessels will be able to pass through the new locks in less than half the time it takes to pass through the present lock.

The entire cost of the work will not be far from $1,700,000, of which $1,500,000 has already been appropriated by Congress.

It will require some three years yet to complete the work; but when done it will be of the utmost importance to the commerce of the lakes.
