Dear Fellow Hoyas,

Join the Georgetown Travel Society from October 27 to November 4, 2015, to explore a treasure trove of rare sites rich in epic histories and stunning archaeological finds. It was here that the “Ionian awakening” led to the birth of the golden age of classical Greek civilization, where Lycians, Persians, Macedonians and Romans followed, contributing to the advancement of education, philosophy, communication and mathematics.

Stop in seldom-visited ports inaccessible to larger vessels as you cruise aboard the exclusively chartered M.Y. VARIETY VOYAGER, a small ship that carries only 60 guests and provides deluxe accommodations and an intimate atmosphere. Expert lectures on board will enhance your experience in these enigmatic destinations.

Follow in the footsteps of Alexander the Great, St. Paul and Roman emperors as you visit places that most people only read about. In the UNESCO World Heritage site of Pergamon, see the ruins of the library and theater that made the city a locus of scholarship and culture, and envision the lives of the Roman Empire’s most prominent citizens in the wonderfully preserved chambers of the often-overlooked Terrace Houses of Ephesus. Visit the ancient maritime hub of Patara, where St. Paul stopped en route to Jerusalem during his third missionary journey. Learn more about the ancient language of the Lycians, carved into the rocks and monoliths in the rich archaeological site of Xanthos-Letoon, and experience the solemn beauty of the cliffside Lycian tombs in Myra. Explore the Byzantine basilica in Demre made famous by St. Nicholas, the fourth-century bishop who inspired the character of Santa Claus; and take in panoramic views from the well-preserved Roman theater in Aspendos and the acropolis in Perge.

Extend your journey with optional pre- and post-cruise extensions. Visit UNESCO World Heritage sites of spectacular Athens, Greece’s enduring city of wisdom and democracy; sacred Delphi, the center of the Grecian world; Cappadocia, Turkey’s lunar landscape; and Istanbul, the majestic city straddling East and West—by joining the Pre- and Post-Cruise Options.

Travel in the company of alumni, friends and participants from cosponsoring associations on this comprehensive itinerary and explore the heart of the classical world. Space is very limited and sure to fill quickly. Contact the Travel Society today to reserve your place on this epic journey through history.

Sincerely,

William G. Reynolds, C’79, Parent ’10, ’13

SUPERIOR

Our programs are classified in three categories: Value, Superior and Luxury

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF GODS, EMPERORS AND PHILOSOPHERS

Journey to the crossroads of the classical world on this unique itinerary along the Turquoise Coast and through the ancient lands conquered by Alexander the Great. These storied locales gave birth to mythical gods like Apollo, served as fertile ground for the prolific building campaigns of Roman emperors and fostered cultures that were shaped by the philosophies of Socrates, the pioneering medicine of Hippocrates and the teachings of St. Paul. Here in Anatolia, the paths of Lycians, Greeks, Persians, Macedonians and Romans converged over time, leaving in their wake exquisitely preserved treasures of antiquity bearing the mark of great leaders and philosophers alike. This spectacular coastal voyage will allow you to experience unmatched archaeological remains and provides an unexpected charm and historical rarity that will awe and captivate.

Athens, Greece

Birthplace of democracy and home to many of history's greatest philosophers and poets from Socrates to Herodotus, Athens is unmatched in its contributions to early Western civilization. Today, the ancient city's grandeur is embodied in the spectacular Acropolis, a UNESCO World Heritage site, and the perfectly proportioned Parthenon dedicated to the goddess Athena in 438 B.C.

Pergamon, Turkey

The UNESCO World Heritage site of Pergamon is one of Turkey's finest classical ruins. Visit the Acropolis, one of the great centers of Hellenism, where the monumental Library of Pergamon once stood in the second century B.C. With over 200,000 manuscripts, the library rivaled its counterpart in Alexandria as the center of ancient scholarship.

Nearby, see the foundations of the sanctuaries of Zeus and Athena and the magnificent theater where audiences once viewed the plays of Aeschylus and Sophocles. Visit the Asclepion, a shrine dedicated to the Greco-Roman god of healing; in ancient times, this sanctuary drew healthseekers across all lands of the eastern Mediterranean.

Cover photo: The iconic Library of Celsus in Ephesus once stored 12,000 scrolls in galleries designed to prevent damage from dampness.

Ephesus

The Greco-Roman city of Ephesus, liberated from Persian rule by Alexander the Great in 334 B.C., offers an enthralling glimpse into ancient coastal life. See the beautifully restored façade of the Library of Celsus and the Marble Way, which leads to an impressive 24,000-seat theater where St. Paul delivered his Epistle to the Ephesians. According to legend, St. John the Apostle traveled with Mary, the mother of Jesus, to Ephesus, where he wrote his Gospel of John and later died and was buried.

By special arrangement, visit the Roman Terrace Houses, where the most prominent families of first-century Ephesus once lived. Admire the monumental arched colonnades, well-preserved mosaics and brightly colored frescoes of these beautifully crafted residences, rarely seen by today's visitors to Ephesus.

Kuşadası

Travel to Ephesus from Kuşadası, a gateway port first inhabited around 3000 B.C. and later fortified with an island citadel during the Ottoman Empire.

Xanthos-Letoon/Patara

The UNESCO World Heritage site of Xanthos-Letoon showcases the most extensive Lycian antiquities in the world and is one of the most remarkable archaeological sites in Turkey, with finds dating from the eighth century B.C. See the inscriptions on the Xanthian Obelisk, which contains a rare trilingual written record, critical to understanding the cryptic Lycian language, and the elaborately decorated, 25-foot-high “Harpy Tomb.” Visit nearby Letoon, a sacred ancient religious center dedicated to Leto and her children with Zeus—Artemis and Apollo.

Continue to Patara, a former naval and trading port visited by Roman emperors Hadrian and Vespasian. Patara’s oracle was said to rival that of Delphi and it was believed that Apollo spent his winters here.

Bodrum’s St. Peter’s Castle houses the Museum of Underwater Archaeology, displaying shipwreck artifacts from the 16th century B.C. to the 16th century A.D.

Antalya

Amidst extensive ancient ruins, verdant mountains and sweeping beaches, Antalya has long been known as one of the most classically beautiful cities in Turkey. Visit the Antalya Museum to view its outstanding archaeological finds including the ornate Alexander Sarcophagus and a marble lion from the Tomb of Mausolus. Enjoy time at leisure to explore Antalya’s attractive harbor on the Turkish Riviera. Stroll along the narrow cobbled streets of Kaleiçi, the old quarter, lined with historic Ottoman-era buildings in traditional Turkish and local Greek architectural styles.

Perge

A base for many regional campaigns of Alexander the Great and where St. Paul gave his first sermon in A.D. 46, the Roman city of Perge also gave the world the advancements of the philosopher Varius, the physician Asklepiades, the mathematician Apollonius, and the city’s female Roman ruler, Plancia Magna. The ruins of its imposing city gates provide a magnificent entrance for the colonnaded, marble-paved street, lined with intricate porticoes and fountains, concluding at a hilltop acropolis with impressive panoramic views.

Arykanda’s well-preserved first-century B.C. 3000 spectators and still provides spectacular

The gracefully proportioned Parthenon occupies the highest spot on the spectacular Acropolis of Athens.

Aspendos

Home to an unrivaled Roman theater with near-perfect acoustics, Aspendos is replete with extraordinary remains. Built during the reign of Marcus Aurelius and designed by the Greek architect Zeno, the tall stage wall serves to nearly isolate the audience from the outside world. Modern performances are still held in this amazing 15,000-seat Hellenistic structure.

Arykanda

A highlight of your odyssey, the lesser-visited but spectacular Arykanda is one of the oldest and best preserved Lycian archaeological sites and was once a prosperous terraced town that has been left untouched for over one thousand years. See the remains of the Roman-era living quarters and the incredible second-century stadium, 1500 feet above sea level, as you ascend through the ruins of this ancient Hellenistic town.

Myra/Demre

Travel to Myra and Demre through scenic valley landscapes to the foothills of the Western Taurus mountain range. The seldom-visited treasures of Myra include spectacular Lycian rock tombs chiseled into steep cliffs in the form of temple facades, originally painted in bright reds, yellows and blues, and Lycia's largest Greco-Roman amphitheater, the finest display of Lycian stonework and architecture, featuring intricately carved theatrical masks and mythological scenes. In nearby Demre, visit the 11th-century church now known for its legendary fourth-century bishop St. Nicholas, known today as Santa Claus.

Greco-Roman theater once seated approximately 15,000 spectators with views of the western Taurus Mountains.

Kekova

Cruise aboard a private underwater-viewing boat through the clear waters of Kekova Bay for an amazing view of the city walls, terraces and other sunken remains of Kekova, a city submerged in the aftermath of a second-century B.C. earthquake. Along the shore, see the city's ancient necropolis featuring Roman and Lycian sarcophagi.

Bodrum

Known in ancient times as Halicarnassus, Bodrum is dominated by the imposing Castle of St. Peter, built by the Knights Hospitaller in the 15th century and a highlight of medieval architecture. Visit the castle and its citadel, including the unique Museum of Underwater Archaeology. See the remains of the Tomb of Mausolus, from which the word "mausoleum" was derived. Once the most splendid sarcophagus in the known world, richly ornamented with statues and relief carvings, it was considered one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.

The dramatic Lycian rock tombs in Myra were expertly carved into the rocky cliff and some resemble ornate temples.
