Healthfinder

www.healthfinder.gov/default.aspx

This website, aimed more towards patients and their families rather than health professionals, was initially produced by the US Department of Health and Human Services, and is maintained by the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion. There is a really useful A-Z of around 1600 health topics, with information from reputable sources such as the American Academy of Family Physicians and the American Nurses Association. The site is also searchable.

Procrasta.net

Metvuw

www.metvuw.com

Keep up to date with weather forecasts, and see fantastic photos of New Zealand weather and its consequences with this site. It's really useful for those who love the great outdoors, or those who just love weather. There are links to satellite images, forecast charts and ocean forecasts, along with other weather-related information. The site is maintained by Dr James McGregor, Senior Lecturer at the School of Geography, Environment and Earth Sciences at Victoria University of Wellington.
