The CDF Historical Society & Museum and Turner Publishing Company are pleased to offer this exciting new commemorative volume celebrating the 100th Anniversary of CDF.

100 Years of CDF traces the proud history of the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection, with a detailed overview of the department in 2005 including statewide regions, units and stations, plus full-color group photos featuring existing personnel. This book provides a unique perspective on the role of CDF, its mission, and the thousands of men and women who serve all.

The diverse work of the modern CDF is presented, including the Board of Forestry & Fire Protection, Fire & Emergency Response, Resource Management, Office of the State Fire Marshal, CDF Regions & Units, and much more.

This landmark collector's book is a 9x12-inch coffee-table volume with 400 pages, including thousands of full-color and historic photos. This is the perfect addition to your library... a must for all active and retired CDF members, or anyone interested in the history of this great organization. Order Today!
