Part Two: Requirements regarding Identification

Recording identification particulars

2. (a) A banking corporation shall not open an account without recording the following identification particulars in respect of each of the account holders and authorized signatories, and in respect of anyone applying to open an account if not one of the above, and authenticating them as set forth in section 3:
- (1) name;
 - (2) identification number;
 - (3) for an individual—date of birth, and sex; for a corporation—date of incorporation;
 - (4) address.
- (b) A banking corporation shall not open an account without recording the particulars in subsections (a)(1) and (2) in respect of a beneficiary; the particulars shall be recorded according to a declaration as per section 4; if the banking corporation does not have the beneficiary's identity number, after having taken reasonable measures to obtain one, instead of the identity number the banking corporation shall record the details listed in subsection (a)(3) herein, and the country of citizenship or incorporation, as applicable; the provisions of this subparagraph shall not apply

⁶ Sefer Ha-Chukkim of 5725, p. 270.

- (1) where the banking corporation discovers on opening the account that the account is in favor of a beneficiary whose identity cannot be discovered from the declaration made by the person who applied to open the account, giving as the reason that the identity of the beneficiary was not known yet. In this case the banking corporation shall draw the attention of the person who applied to open the account, in writing, to his obligation to provide the banking corporation with the particulars of the beneficiary as soon as the identity of the beneficiary becomes known.
 - (2) in the case of an applicant wishing to open an account who has been appointed by a court, religious court or the chief of the execution office, provided the applicant has declared his appointment, the banking corporation shall indicate the appointment in the account records and shall keep a copy of the letter of appointment.
- (c) A banking corporation shall not open an account for a corporation without recording the identification particulars as in subsections (a)(1) and a(2) herein of those holding controlling interests in it. The particulars shall be recorded according to a declaration as per section 4; where the banking corporation does not possess such identity number, after having taken reasonable measures to obtain one, it may instead record the details as in subsection (a)(3), and the country of citizenship.
- (d) A banking corporation shall not add to an account
- (1) an account holder or authorized signatory without recording in respect thereof the identification particulars as per subsection (a) herein and authenticating them as set forth in section 3;
 - (2) a beneficiary without recording in respect thereof the identification particulars as per subsection (b) herein;
 - (3) a holder of a controlling interest of a corporation without recording in respect thereof the identification particulars as per subsection (c) herein.

Valid 12.6.2007

- (e) The opening of an account and adding an account holder, adding a beneficiary, and adding a holder of a controlling interest shall be accompanied by a declaration as per section 4; the said declaration made at the opening of an account shall bear an original signature.
- (f) A banking corporation shall not carry out a transaction which requires a report pursuant to the provisions of section 8 and which is not recorded in an account in which the party performing the transaction is recorded as an account holder or authorized signatory, without recording the identification particulars of the party performing the transaction as per subsection (a) herein according to an identification certificate as set forth in section 3, or a certificate issued by the State of Israel bearing the party's name, identity number, date of birth and photograph, and shall keep a photocopy of the identification certificate. In the said transaction which is not recorded in any account of a customer, the banking corporation shall authenticate the particulars of the party performing the transaction as set forth in section 3, with the necessary alterations.
- (g) A banking corporation shall not carry out a transaction which does not require a report pursuant to section 8 and which is not recorded in an account in which the party performing the transaction is recorded as an account holder, authorized signatory or guarantor, without identifying the party performing the transaction and recording the name and the identity number in accordance with the identification certificate as provided in section 3, or a certificate issued by the State of Israel bearing the party's name, identity number, date of birth and photograph; in this subsection, "transaction" means a transaction in cash involving NIS 10,000 or more, or another transaction involving NIS 50,000 or more.
- (h) For purposes of subsection (f), according to an instruction from the person responsible for the fulfillment of the obligations pursuant to section 8 of the Law regarding a particular account and for purposes of subsection (g) in a transaction the instruction for which appears to bear an account holder's or authorized signatory's signature, the apparent signatory on the instruction shall be considered to be the party that performed the transaction.

- (i) When a guarantee is signed for a customer in favor of the banking corporation, the banking corporation shall record the identification particulars of the guarantor pursuant to subsections a(1) to a(4), according to the identification certificate set forth in section 3, and shall retain a photocopy of the identification certificate.
- (j) In subsections (a) to (e) above, "account"—including a safe-deposit box.

Authentication of particulars and the documents required

- 3. (a) A banking corporation shall authenticate the identification particulars of the service recipient in a banking activity as per sections 2(a)(1), 2(d)(1), and 2(f), and shall obtain documents as set forth below.
 - (1) For an individual who is a resident, in the matter of recording the identification particulars as per sections 2(a)(1) to 2(a)(3)—an identity card or a certified copy of it a photocopy of one of which, insofar as the certificate relates to such identification particulars, shall be retained by the banking corporation; the banking corporation shall authenticate the identification particulars vis-à-vis the population registry, shall compare the date of issue of the certificate shown in it with the date of issue of the last certificate recorded in the population registry in the Ministry of the Interior, and shall retain the documentation of this check; For purposes of this subsection, an immigrant certificate up to 30 days from its date of issue and an Israeli passport in cases when the identification took place abroad or when the person responsible for the fulfillment of the obligations pursuant to section 8 of the Law is convinced that the individual is no longer permanently resident in Israel, but the obligation to compare the date of issue of the document shall not apply in these cases;

- (2) For an individual who is a foreign resident, in the matter of recording of the identification particulars as per sections 2(a)(1) to 2(a)(3)—a foreign passport or laissez- passer, or a certified copy of it, the banking corporation shall compare the identification particulars with another document bearing a photograph and identity number; in the absence thereof—a document bearing a name or identity number and also an address or date of birth. The photocopies of the identification certificates, insofar as they relate to such identification particulars, shall be retained by the banking corporation.
- (3) For a corporation registered in Israel, in the matter of recording of the identification particulars of the corporation as per sections 2(a)(1) to 2(a)(3)—the registration certificate or a certified copy of it; if one of the said particulars does not appear in the certificate, the recording of the particulars shall be effected in accordance with an attorney's certification. The banking corporation shall obtain and retain the following documents or photocopies of them:
- (a) a certified copy of the corporation's registration certificate;
 - (b) certified copies of the corporation's foundation documents establishing the corporation;
 - (c) an attorney's certification of the corporation's existence, its name and identity number; alternatively, the banking corporation may authenticate the corporation's registration vis-à-vis the relevant registers;
 - (d) a certified copy of a resolution of the competent organ in the corporation to open an account, or an attorney's certificate that such a resolution was duly passed;
 - (e) a certified copy of a resolution of the competent organ in the corporation as to the authorized signatories in the account, or an attorney's certificate as to the authorized signatories in the account;

- (3a) The provisions of section (3) notwithstanding, in an account by virtue of an agreement for settling transactions performed by debit cards, subsections (b) and (d) in that section shall not apply.

in this subsection attorney means someone licensed to practise law in Israel.

- (4) For a corporation that is not registered in Israel, in the matter of recording of the identification particulars of the corporation as provided in sections 2(a)(1) to 2(a)(4)— a document attesting to its registration or a certified copy of the said document insofar as such particulars appear in the document; if one of the said particulars does not appear in the document, the recording of the particulars shall be effected in accordance with an attorney's certificate; the banking corporation shall obtain a document attesting to the corporation's registration and documents as set forth in subsections (3)(b) to (3)(e); for a corporation incorporated in a country in which there is no registration in respect of corporations of its type—the banking corporation shall obtain a certificate from an attorney that there is no registration in the country of incorporation; the banking corporation shall retain these documents or photocopies of them.
- (5) For a public institution and a foreign corporation established by legislation abroad, in the matter of registering the name—a declaration by the applicant wishing to open an account, and for a corporation established by legislation as per the legislation by virtue of which the corporation was established, or an attorney's certificate that such legislation exists; the banking corporation shall obtain the documents as per subsections (3)(d) and (3)(e), with the necessary alterations; the banking corporation shall retain these documents or photocopies of them.
- (6) For a recognized entity, in the matter of registering the name and address—a declaration by the applicant after the banking corporation has ascertained, pursuant to a document, that the applicant to open the account is authorized to act on the recognized entity's behalf; the banking corporation shall retain this document or a photocopy of it.

- (7) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (2) and (4) herein, if steps were taken to open the account abroad, the banking corporation may record the identification particulars according to the usual identification certificates in the banking system in the country in which the identification was made, provided that in the said country legislation exists which requires customer identification; the banking corporation shall retain photocopies of the identification certificates.
 - (8) For a minor aged less than 16 years—an identification certificate of one of his guardians; from three months after the account holder reached the age of 18 years, the banking corporation shall not carry out any transaction in the account initiated by the account holder unless the relevant provisions set out in subsections (1) and (2) have been met.
- (b) In this section “certified copy” means a copy matching the source authenticated by one of the following:
- (1) the authority which issued the source document;
 - (2) an attorney licensed to practise law in Israel and for a corporation incorporated in a member country of the OECD (the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development), also an attorney licensed to practise law in the country where the incorporation took place;
 - (3) an official of the banking corporation to whom the source document has been presented;
 - (4) an authority as per the Convention Abolishing the Requirement of Legalization for Foreign Public Documents (henceforth “the Convention to Abolish the Legalization Requirement”)⁷.
 - (5) an Israeli diplomatic or consular representative abroad.
- (c) The provisions of this section notwithstanding, the Supervisor of Banks may in special circumstances issue a directive specifying alternative ways of authenticating particulars and alternative documentation requirements; if the Supervisor did so issue a directive, he shall send a reasoned notification stating so to the Constitution, Law and Justice Committee of the Knesset (henceforth the “Constitution Committee”) within thirty days.

Declaration about a beneficiary and a holder of a controlling interest

4. (a) When opening an account the banking corporation shall require the applicant wishing to open an account to give a declaration bearing an original signature stating whether he is acting for himself or on behalf of another; if the applicant declares that he is acting on behalf of another, the declaration shall include the particulars as set forth in section 2(b) in respect of each of the beneficiaries; if the account is not opened by the account holder, the banking corporation, prior to performing the first transaction in the account, shall require also the account holder to make the above declaration. However

(1) If the beneficiary is unknown, as in section 2(b)(1), the applicant wishing to open an account shall declare accordingly.

(2) If the banking corporation is asked to open an account pursuant section 2(b)(2), it shall keep a copy of the decision of the court, religious court or the chief of the execution office relating to the appointment.

(b) When opening an account for a corporation, the banking corporation shall require a declaration bearing an original signature from the corporation or an attorney’s certificate confirming the identification particulars of the holders of the controlling interest in the corporation as per section 2(c).

(b1) When performing a transaction pursuant to section 8, if it is performed other than via a customer account, the bank shall require the service recipient give a declaration bearing an original signature stating whether he is acting for himself or on behalf of another; if the service recipient declares that he is acting on behalf of another, the declaration shall include the particulars as set forth in section 2(b) in respect of each of the beneficiaries.

(c) The declarations herein pursuant to subsections (a) to (b1) shall be made in the format shown in the First Schedule.

Partial exemption

5. (a) The provisions of sections 2(b), 2(d)(2) and 4(a) pertaining to registering a beneficiary in an account shall not apply to:
- (1) an account of a public institution;
 - (2) an account of a banking corporation, the Postal Bank, an insurer, a member of the Stock Exchange, a provident fund and a managing company on behalf of a provident fund under its management, an account on behalf of a fund, and an account of a portfolio manager on behalf of his clients;
 - (3) a securities account that an overseas entity wishes to open for its customers, including a monetary account directly relating to such a securities account, provided that legislation or provisions of the competent authority obliging customer identification in the matter of the prevention of money laundering and the prevention of the financing of terrorism apply to the said entity, and that the entity submitted a declaration thereon to the banking corporation;
 - (4) an account of a recognized entity;
 - (5) an account on behalf of a public charity registered by the Public Charities Registrar.
 - (5a) an account on behalf of a rabbinical public charity which has been granted a certificate by a rabbinical court that it is a rabbinical public charity whose objectives are aimed at benefiting the public, unless the banking corporation has received a notification from the rabbinical court that the certificate has been cancelled.
 - (6) (a) an account managed for communal purposes for the benefit of a large or indeterminate group of beneficiaries, provided consent has been obtained from the person responsible for the fulfilment of the obligations pursuant to section 8 of the Law; opening an account pursuant to this subsection shall be conditional on a declaration by the applicant wishing to open an account, by means of the form in purpose, “means of control” is as defined in Banking (Licensing) Law, 5741–1981;¹⁰

- (2) When opening the account, the banking corporation shall obtain the following documents:
 - (a) In the case of a foreign corporation, a copy of the latest annual financial statement or summary thereof published in a public data base;
 - (b) A letter requesting the opening of an account, to be retained for at least seven years after the account is closed.
- (3) When opening a correspondent account for a corporation incorporated abroad in a country that is not a member of the OECD, the banking corporation shall obtain also the following documents, and shall retain them for at least seven years after the account is closed:
 - (a) a license from the supervisory authority;
 - (b) the incorporation documents;
 - (c) one of the following:
 - (1) letters of reference from banks in OECD member countries that manage correspondent accounts of the corporation applying to open an account in the banking corporation.
 - (2) a document certifying that the corporation applying to open an account in a banking corporation manages a correspondent account in banks as stated, and a declaration by the corporation that legal provisions or provisions of a competent authority that require identification of its customers for purposes of the prevention of money laundering and the prevention of financing terrorism apply to it.

Face-to-face identification

6. (a) The banking corporation shall identify the account holder and authorized signatory by means of an identification certificate pursuant to section 3 prior to the first transaction by each of them in the account. For such purpose, face-to-face identification also includes:

- (1) identification by a representative or agent of the banking corporation;
 - (2) identification by an attorney licensed to practise law in Israel;
 - (3) identification by an Israeli diplomatic or consular representative abroad;
 - (4) identification by an authority as per section 6 of the Convention to Abolish the Legalization Requirement;
 - (5) any other method of identification approved by the Supervisor of Banks.
- (b) The banking corporation shall identify face-to-face a person performing a transaction that requires a report pursuant to the provisions of section 8 and which is not recorded in any account in which the person performing the transaction is registered as an account holder or authorized signatory.

Issuing a debit card

6a (a) Before issuing a debit card, a banking corporation may act as follows, instead of acting as stated in sections 2, 3, 4 and 6:

- (1) If a debit card has been issued to the holder of or authorized signatory in a current account in the issuing banking corporation or in the banking corporation that is a party to an arrangement to issue debit cards, the banking corporation shall register the identification particulars detailed in section 2(a) of the owner of the debit card.
- (2) If a debit card has been issued to an individual whose debits incurred via the card are settled via a current account in a banking corporation that did not issue the card or is not a party to an arrangement to issue debit cards, and the credit facility of the card is limited to a total of NIS 50,000, or if another debit card specified by the Supervisor of Banks has been issued, the issuing banking corporation shall register the identification particulars detailed in section 2(a) of the owner of the debit card, as they appear in a copy of an identity certificate as provided in section 3, that it shall retain.

(b) In addition to the provisions of subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2), the banking corporation shall register the following particulars for a current account against which activity via a debit card is settled: the number of the banking corporation, the branch number, and the account number and name, and it shall also authenticate the identity particulars of the owner of the debit card vis-à-vis the population registry, and shall retain the documentation relating to this check.

(c) In this section, “an arrangement to issue debit cards” means an arrangement between banking corporations made for the purpose of issuing debit cards, one party to which is a banking corporation in which the current account is managed, and the other party to which is an auxiliary corporation which is a credit card company, and the debits incurred by transactions with the debit card are settled via the current account.

Retaining identification certificates

7. The banking corporation shall retain the identification certificates for a period of at least seven years after the account is closed or after a transaction has been carried out as in subsection 2(f); the retention of identity certificates, excluding a declaration bearing an original signature, may be by computerized scanning as specified in regulation 3a of the Testimony Regulations (Photocopies), 5730–1969;¹¹ in this matter, “identification certificates” means any document provided for purposes of identification and authentication, including a declaration given under this order.

Part Three: Reporting Requirements

Reporting by size of transaction

8. (a) A banking corporation shall report the following transactions to the competent authority:

Part Four: Miscellaneous

Management and retention of records

14. (a) A banking corporation shall maintain a computerized database of account numbers, identification particulars of account holders, authorized signatories, beneficiaries and holders of controlling interests.

(b) A banking corporation shall retain the document attesting to the instruction to the banking corporation to carry out a transaction which it reported to the competent authority and the instruction document, the value of which transaction is equivalent to at least NIS 10,000, for a period of at least seven years from the date on which the transaction was recorded in the banking corporation’s books; in the absence of an document attesting to the instruction, the banking corporation shall retain the computerized record attesting to the instruction to perform the transaction.

Limitation of applicability

15. (a) The provisions of Part Two shall not apply to an overseas branch of a banking corporation to which identification and authentication requirements regarding the prevention of money laundering and the prevention of the financing of terrorism apply.
- (b) The provisions of Part Three and section 14 shall not apply to an overseas branch of a banking corporation.

Commencement date

16. This Order shall be effective from the date determined by the Minister of Justice as per section 35 of the Law, or one year from the publication date of this Order, whichever is the later.

Transitional provision

17. (a) From 18 months after this Order comes into force, the banking corporation shall not carry out any transaction in accounts that were opened prior to the commencement of this Order, unless the provisions of sections 2 and 3 and 5a, as relevant, have been fulfilled, except for the withdrawal of the existing balance and closure of the account, and repayment of debts; in an account of a resident and a company registered in Israel, examining the identification particulars vis-à-vis the appropriate registers shall be deemed authentication pursuant to section 3.

In this context, a transaction is one initiated by a customer after the 19 Av, 5763 (17 August, 2003).

- (b) Subsection (a) herein notwithstanding, non-receipt of the account-holder's declaration stating whether he is acting on his own behalf or on behalf of another, and non-receipt of an additional identity certificate in the case of a foreign resident shall not be deemed non-fulfillment of the provisions of sections 2 and 3, provided the banking corporation took steps to obtain the said declaration.

- (c) Subsection (a) herein shall not apply to an account whose holder is in a country in which he cannot be contacted due to the state of relations between Israel and that country. In this case the banking corporation shall make a reasonable effort to complete the missing identification particulars as soon as possible.
