Endoscopic Simulation Workshop

22 August 2015

8:30am – 12:30pm

Closing Date: 7 August 2015

INTRODUCTION

This Endoscopic Simulation Workshop is primarily an introduction to simulation training. Participants will be shown how to utilise the various modules in the simulators to improve their skills in gastroscopy and colonoscopy. These modules include administration and use of sedation, case scenarios as well as biopsies and polypectomies. The simulators allow for assessment of percentage of mucosa visualization, rate of missed lesions as well as a log of the number of bowel perforations during the course of training. The laparoscopic simulators in the Surgical Simulation Centre allow familiarization of basic laparoscopic skills and handling of laparoscopic instruments.

This is a training course that has a practical curriculum spanning of 3 to 6 months. Participants will be provided with 6 months open access to Surgical Simulation Centre, allowing them continued practice on the simulators at their leisure. Participants, after 6 months, should be confident of the technicalities of endoscopy and be better able to begin their training on patients.
