

Checkwriting — IRA Information and Terms

Helpful To Know

- You must be at least age 59½.
- You must complete a separate form for each account.
- This form REPLACES any checkwriting information currently on your account.
- Do not use this form to order additional checks. Instead, visit Fidelity.com or call 1-800-544-6666.

Tax Withholding

- Any amount withheld for taxes will be in addition to the amount of each check you write. Withholding increases the amount of your IRA distribution and also means that the maximum for which you can write a check is less than the balance shown in your account.

Who Needs To Sign

- The IRA owner must sign. If you want an individual who has Power of Attorney to be able to write checks on your IRA, that individual must also sign. If an account owner is incapacitated and cannot sign, attach a physician's letter stating this.

Name/Address

- Be sure we have your name and address correct in our records, because this is the information we will use when we print and mail your checks.
- If updating your signature because of a name change, complete and attach a Name Change form, as well as appropriate documentation, such as a marriage certificate or divorce decree.

Feature Specifics

- Any checks that you write from your IRA will be considered IRA Distributions and will be reported to you and the IRS on Form 1099-R for the year in which the check cleared. If writing a check to meet your minimum required distribution (MRD), be sure to allow adequate time for it to clear before year-end.
- Checks are reported on your statement.
- For copies of cancelled checks (which may involve a fee), go to Fidelity.com or call us.

Brokerage Accounts

- Checks are drawn on your account's core position.

Mutual Fund Accounts

- For information on minimum balances, fees, and which funds are eligible for checkwriting, see the applicable fund prospectus.
- To add checkwriting to more than one fund, set it up on any eligible fund, then call Fidelity to have it added to other funds.

Terms and Conditions Keep this for your records

3. Tax Withholding

Distributions from your Fidelity IRA via checkwriting are subject to federal (and where applicable state) income tax withholding unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect not to have withholding apply to your check distributions by completing the election below. If you do not elect out of withholding, federal income tax will be withheld at the rate of 10% from your total IRA distribution amount, even if you have made nondeductible contributions to your IRA. This may result in excess withholding from your distribution. If you elect not to have withholding apply to your distribution or if you do not have enough federal income tax withheld from your distribution, you may be responsible for payment of estimated tax. You may incur penalties under the estimated tax rules if your withholding and estimated tax payments are not sufficient.

If your state of residence is AR, CA, DE, IA, KS, MA, ME, NC, NE, OK, OR, VT and federal income tax withholding is applied to your distribution, state income tax will also apply based on your state's minimum withholding requirement. MI generally requires state income tax withholding of at least your state's minimum requirements regardless of whether or not federal income tax is withheld.

Withholding instructions provided will remain effective for all distributions via checkwriting until you either revoke them or give us new instructions in writing. The permanent / legal address on file determines which state's tax rules apply.

Check one. Withhold federal taxes at the rate of 10%, and any state taxes at the applicable rate. Default if no choice is indicated.

Do NOT withhold federal or state taxes unless required by law. Not available for accounts whose permanent/legal address is outside the U.S.

4. Signatures and Dates Account owner must sign and date.

By signing below, you agree to all of the "Terms and Conditions" on the previous page. Checkwriting can only be granted to an account owner or to an individual who has been given adequate power of attorney. If you are requesting checkwriting for a person with power of attorney, that person must sign the form.
