Helene Fuld College of Nursing Mission Statement:

Helene Fuld College of Nursing is an independent single-purpose institution. Its mission is to provide the opportunity, through a career-ladder approach, for men and women to enhance their education and improve their nursing practice. The College endeavors to produce high-quality and technically adaptable nurses who are able to function effectively in a changing society.

The College aims to teach its students the value of intellectual skills and to help them develop the capability of making choices based on knowledge and unbiased evaluations; to advance the student's knowledge of the profession and their proficiency in technical skills; to encourage personal growth, resourcefulness, a heightened sense of responsibility and a concern for people; to educate the students to recognize and appreciate diverse cultural value systems; to familiarize the students with resources for learning so that they can adapt to the increasing complexity of professional responsibilities; and to promote learning as a life-long commitment.

The College strives to provide leadership in non-traditional nursing education by educating licensed practical nurses to advance to the associate degree registered nurse level, and to educate associate degree registered nurses to advance to the baccalaureate degree level, and achieve a broader scope of practice with an emphasis on Environmental Urban Health Nursing (EUHN). The College also strives to offer opportunities to men and women of diverse racial, ethnic, and socio-economic backgrounds and to those who might otherwise have been excluded from career advancement; to prepare graduates who benefit from their increased level of expertise; and to provide the base for further professional education.

Helene Fuld College of Nursing continually seeks to provide its students with the broadest possible spectrum of learning opportunities by using the vast resources of New York City. The College is dedicated to serving its students, the profession of nursing, and the Harlem community of which it is an integral part.
