

Payroll & HR software product of the year

This award is aimed at software products which are sold and supplied for companies to run their own payroll in-house. It will recognise an organisation that is committed to ensuring that its software is up to date, easy to use and well supported.

The award itself will be given to the software product and the judges will be looking for what makes your product better than other products aimed at your target market?

Product summary statement:

- Briefly highlight why this product should win, and where in the nomination the supporting evidence can be located
- This statement should be no more than 250 words

Nomination Rules

The following rules should be followed for all submissions to ensure that your nomination is accepted by the awards judges.

1. The criteria must be met. Templates for each award are available online at www.payrollawards.org.uk and must be used. Any nomination that is received which does not follow this template and meet the required criteria will not be submitted for judging
2. Testimonials supporting the nomination must be supplied on company letterhead, or via a company email, with contact details of the person supplying the testimonial. The maximum number of testimonials for each of the awards is three
3. Summary statements for each award should not exceed 250 words and should provide an overview of "why this nomination should win"
4. You can, and should, self nominate. If you don't shout about your success how can you expect others to?
5. CIPP staff members, and members of the CIPP board of directors, can not be nominated. Any nomination received for a member of the CIPP staff and/or board will be disregarded
6. CIPP tutors, as long as they are not members of the board, can be nominated
7. Awards judges and/or their employing organisations can be nominated. If a nomination is received for one of the judges they will not be permitted to judge for that category, nor will they see the other nominations. The CIPP representative facilitating the judging will ask the individual to leave the room while judging for that award takes place
8. All judges will be required to declare any conflict of interest prior to the judging taking place, and will be asked to leave the judging panel for any award that it is felt they will not judge fairly. The CIPP representative facilitating the judging will ensure that this is the case and that all awards are judged based on the nomination in front of them and without bias
9. The closing date for nominations is Friday 15 August 2014
10. Short-listed nominees will be contacted prior to the awards ceremony, however, winners will not be notified before the event on 9 October 2014
11. Nominations can not be withdrawn after the judging has taken place. The judges decision is final and will not be changed after the judging day in August 2014
