- iv. WILLIAM WHITEHEAD, b. 26 July 1884; d. 28 July 1884.

69. MARGARET (MAGGIE)⁴ WHITEHEAD (SARAH³ MCCUTCHAN, SAMUAL², WILLIAM¹) was born 20 September 1855, and died 17 September 1928. She married ALBERT ASBURY SWOPE 06 September 1877 in First Avenue Pres. Church, Evansville, In., son of JAMES SWOPE and JANE PATTERSON. He was born 29 April 1842, and died 04 January 1904 in 1000 Vine Street Evansville, Ind..

Notes for ALBERT ASBURY SWOPE:

When a young man (Albert A.), the father learned the carpenter's trade, and eventually engaged in contracting, but afterward returned to agricultural life, purchasing one hundred and ten acres of land in Center township. It was covered with timber, but with characteristic energy he began to clear away the trees, burning the brush and preparing the fields for cultivation. His labors were soon manifest in the excellent appearance of the place, which indicated the careful supervision of a practical and progressive owner. He erected thereon a fine residence, substantial barns and commodious outbuildings and carried on farming with success until 1893, when he returned to Evansville and again engaged in the contracting business. His skill and knowledge in that line enabled him to command a liberal patronage and he always employed good workmen, so that in the execution of contracts he met the desires of his patrons and won satisfactory returns. He continued in that business until his death, which occurred in January, 1904. For more than a quarter of a century he had survived his wife, she died in 1875. They were numbered among the highly respected residents of their native county, their good qualities gaining them the friendship of all with whom they came in contact.

Albert A. Swope was a carpenter by trade, but later on in life became a farmer, and he too, cleared up a farm which was located, as was that of his father, in Center township. For four years he served in the Union army as a member of Company F, Twenty-fourth Indiana Volunteer Infantry, and only two members of this company are now living, they being Capt. William Leich and William Warren. During his military service he was in a number of engagements, and during one of them was wounded in the calf of the left leg. Following his return to private life he was elected a member of the county board of commissioners and served on it for six years, being elected on the Republican ticket. He also was a justice of the peace for a long period. During all of his mature years he was very active in politics and a leader of the local Republican party. Fraternally he belonged to the Masonic order, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and to the Grand Army of the Republic. The death of this most excellent and representative man occurred in 1904, but his wife died in 1873.

Kenneth P. McCutchan

Mr. Kenneth McCutchan, pioneer in the radio broadcasting field, community historian, and art collector, died Friday, August 16, 2002. He was born April 21, 1913, and lived the first 78 years of his life on property purchased from the U.S. government by his great-grandfather, Samuel McCutchan, in November 1835. In 1991, he moved to Solarbron Retirement community.

The family history sparked his lifelong interest in community history and led to his authorship of six books, From Then 'Til Now: The Story of McCutchanville (1969); A Pictorial Study of the Old Vanderburgh County Court House (1972); Saundersville: The English Settlement (1978); At the Bend of the River: The Story of Evansville (1982); Dearest Lizzie (1988); and Old Tales Retold (1996). While researching the first book, he came across the legend of Isaac Knight, which he developed into a fascinating children's book published by Greenwich Book Publishers of New York.

Mr. McCutchan was a member of Central High School's Class of 1931 and in 1970 was named to its Distinguished Alumnus Hall of Fame. He graduated from Evansville College in 1935, and in 1979 received the University's Alumni Certificate of Excellence.

He also was elected to UE's Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1987, and subsequently served as vice president of the Academy in 1992.

Mr. McCutchan served with the Army Corps of Engineers in North Africa and Europe during World War II. After the war, while still in Europe, he enrolled in the Sorbonne in Paris and earned a certificate in French language and culture. When he returned to the United States, he became a veteran's counselor and produced a radio show targeted to assisting service personnel in finding postwar employment. Through that program, he was invited to help launch a new radio station, WIKY. Mr. McCutchan was the first on-air voice on August 4, 1947, and worked there for 26 years in all areas of the station -disc jockey, special programs and news.

For five years, during its heyday, Mr. McCutchan was the house emcee at Mesker Amphitheater, and served as the on-stage host for many of the great musical entertainers of the '50s and '60s. He was a member of the Evansville Community Players and had lead roles in many of its productions. He had been an in-demand public speaker and, for a time, wrote a weekly column on area history for The Evansville Courier. Mr. McCutchan served on the boards of numerous local and state organizations, including 15 years with the Conrad Baker Foundation, actively working to preserve and restore the Old Courthouse in Evansville. In 1988, he received the Conrad Baker Foundation Governor Orr Award for Historic Preservation. He also received the Preservation Alliance Achievement Award in 1989. Mr. McCutchan was a life member of the Indiana Historical Society and had served on the Editor's Advisory Committee for The Indiana Magazine of History at Indiana University. In addition, Mr. McCutchan had been chairman of the Official Board of the McCutchanville Methodist Church, president of the McCutchanville Cemetery Association, president of the Ohio-Wabash Valley Historical Society, board member of the Wesselman Nature Center, board member and chairman of the history committee of the Evansville Museum of Arts and Science, member of the Vanderburgh and Southwestern Indiana Historical societies. He also had taught classes in local history at the University of Evansville.

A man of many interests, he painted for pleasure and collected the works of Indiana artists, amassing what was probably the largest private collection of Hoosier art in Southern Indiana. He gave a large portion of his collection to the University of Southern Indiana for display and use as a teaching collection. He also collected the works of Indiana writers and gave much of that collection to Historic New Harmony. USI's Rice Library Archives is the repository of many valuable historic manuscripts from Mr. McCutchan's collection. The University of Southern Indiana recognized his lifelong service to his community and his contributions to the University by conferring an honorary Doctor of Letters on him in 1996. Kenneth is survived by his cousins, Carol B. McCutchan of McCutchanville, Ind., Ellen McCutchan of Evansville, Ind., William M. McCutchan of Evansville, Ind., Susan Huck of Evansville, Ind., Louise Tiedeman of Plantation, Fla., and James Peva of Indianapolis, Ind. Arrangements are pending at Alexander North Chapel, 4200 Stringtown Road. Remembrances may be made online at www.mem.com

The Evansville Courier - Sunday, November 21, 1993
Tabloid Newspapers Reported Local Affair
Old Tales Retold
by Ken McCutchan

Back in the 1920s, Lynch Road between Oak Hill Road and U.S. 41 was nothing more than a lonely, narrow dirt track that ran between dense woods and cornfields. Because of its isolation, it was a popular lovers' lane.

There was in Evansville at that time a prominent, handsome young attorney with a reputation of being quite an ardent ladies' man.

His first wife divorced him when she discovered he was having a dalliance with his secretary. Subsequently he and his secretary were married.

As time passed it became common knowledge among his close associates that he was involved in another affair, this time with his current secretary.

On the night of Sept. 14, 1928, this unmitigated Lothario and a woman were parked on a desolate stretch of Lynch Road when they were accosted by two men who apparently were intent on robbing them.

A shoot out followed in which one of his assailants was killed. His body was found the next day, lying in a ditch beside the road. The attorney received a mortal wound. Semiconscious, he was driven home by his companion, who pulled up in front of his house, blew the car's horn frantically, jumped out and ran away into the night.

The noise attracted the attorney's wife, who came out to find her husband dying in the front seat of the car. He was rushed to a hospital but succumbed a few hours later.

Next morning an intensive investigation was begun. Since his affair with his secretary was known by several of his colleagues, it was assumed that she was the woman involved.

However, upon questioning, it was learned that she could not possibly have been with him. She had spent the entire evening at a party with friends who all testified that she had never left them for a moment.

The next shocking development in the case occurred the following day when the secretary committed suicide by taking poison. An autopsy revealed she was pregnant.

All the lurid details of the case were spread across the front pages of scandal tabloids in several large cities.

The identity of the mysterious woman who ran away in the dark was never learned (at least not revealed), but a few people in the know suspected that she was the wife of a local judge.

The "First" wife referred to was Clara Mae (Whitehead) Bohannan, and the young attorney was William O. Bohannan.

He is buried in McCutchanville cemetery.

He was born 07 September 1892 in Evansville, Ind., and died 27 April 1948 in Evansville, Ind..

Notes for MARGARET LORENA WHITEHEAD:

Entered by PAUL SWOPE as remembered and from MARGARETS telling

Margaret was raised on a farm west of Earl and just north of Boonville New Harmony Road. They lived off what the farm would provide and for cash what produce they could sell in Evansville. In the late 1890s her Father built a new house on the farm. She told how they struggled each year to pay the interest on the one hundred dollar mortgage. The lumber for the house was cut from the farm.

She would ride to Evansville with her Father in the wagon to sell produce and deliver eggs. The trip to town and back would take all day. They would stop at the round stone watering trough in front of the farmers market to water the horses. Today that watering trough is preserved as a fountain on Main street in Evansville. She told how her Father would take her to a relatives house for lunch. Her Father would then go to a tavern, buy a five cent beer, and eat the free lunch.

Margaret went to grade school at a school on Boonville New Harmony Road that was near their home. She went to high school in McCutchanville. In the spring when the thaw would come, the road to McCutchanville would be so bad that the wagon would not make it through the mud. They would have to ride a horse to school. At high school is where she met Ralph Swope.

Margaret and Ralph married in 1914 and lived in a small house on Ralph'S Fathers farm. Their first two children, Dwight and Ralph L., were born in this house. Later they moved to Terre Haute and Ralph was a Jeweler in the Nehf Swope Jewelry store. During this time is when they bought the Brunswick record player and Margaret said she would listen to music while doing her house work. The only transportation they had at first was a motor cycle and side car. She said it was great when they got their first car and it had side curtains to keep out the wind.

In 1924 they moved back to McCutchanville in an old farm house with two and one half acres on Browning road. This property had a barn and they had a cow, chickens, and sheep. Her two other children, Paul and Nancy were born in this house. This house had no electricity until 1932 when electricity came to McCutchanville. Indoor plumbing was installed in 1946.

When Ralph died in 1948 Margaret took over the store for a while. Later she rented the store and did baby sitting.

Margaret lived alone for quite some time. Later she lived with Nancy for a time, and then in a nursing home until her death.

Margaret was quite sentimental.

This is a poem she wrote when her mother died.

MY MOTHER'S GARDEN.

She had some roses white and red

Some purple pansies in a bed.

Corn flowers blue against a wall

Sunflowers big, so straight and tall.

My mother loved them all so much

She really had that "Green Thumb" touch.

Now she is gone my mother dear,

I think I've shed a million tear.

I hope she's in a happy place

With sunshine soft upon her face.

And flowers growing without end

For her to love, to see, to tend.

When Donna Died.

DONNA KAY

Our baby girl she died at three.

My heart died too inside of me.

She was so sweet so full of fun

Her little life had just begun.

God grant that some day I may hold

That babe of ours with hair of gold.

One year anniversary of Donnas death.

DONNAS GONE

Just one year ago today

Our darling baby ceased her play

Folded her tiny hands so sweet

And closed her pretty eyes in sleep.

We know she must be happy there,

Free from all want and pain and care,

But why, when we all loved her so,

I wonder why she had to go?

On Ralphs death.

APRIL 27, 1948

I'm like a ship without a sail

Tipped and turned by every gale.

I cannot think I only cry

I only wish I to could die.

I can't go on, the way's too rough

This hard old world is really tough.

My shield, my help, my partners gone

I have to face the world alone.

Memories written by MARGARET SWOPE and transcribed by PAULA SWOPE

I was born April 15th 1893, a half mile west of Earl, in Vanderburg County. In a small frame house. When I was six months old we moved into a large eight room (every room larger than most you see now) two story frame house three porches, 3 fire places. It was the nicest house for miles. I was the seventh child, the eight and last of the family was born three years and eight days later. Their names Sarah Ann, Clara May, Cecelia Ellen, William Earl (only boy) Emma Selina, Frances Elizabeth, (me, Margaret Lorena) and Minna Evelyn. My parents Anne Eliza and John Edward were both very hard workers and expected everyone else to work as hard as they did. We lived on a 115 acre farm which we owned. Lots of work to take care of the house and farm. I can remember as I was growing up I worried because we owed $100 on the house and had to pay interest every year. I was afraid sometime my dad wouldn't be able to pay it and we would lose everything.

About the only thing I can remember before I started to school was finding some almost black egg-shells under the back steps about Easter time. (They didn't turn out well I guess) Of course we believed earnestly in the Easter bunny. On Easter morning Minna and I would get up early and get our Easter eggs, always hidden in the violet leaves in the garden. Then we would get into bed with our mother and gloat over them awhile. This was a very special occasion and I don't remember any other time we ever got in bed with our mother.

Christmas was another wonderful time. One year I woke up at three O'clock, my dad heard me and made me go back to bed. Our tree was trimmed with pop corn strings, most things home made, and candles which weren't lit very much, my dad was afraid of fire, always a cedar from our own fields. Did we love it! We each received only two or three gifts, mostly small things. I remember the year Minna and I each got a doll with real hair! And patterns to sew clothes for them. That was the only doll I ever had except a large china headed one Aunt Carrie gave me which was hers (Isabel was her name). Ruth was the one I got for Christmas and I had a small one, named Julia which we broke and had a funeral for her. I could still go to the grave yard where we buried her, and chickens birds, any pet we had that passed on.

Starting to school was a very great event in my life. We had only about 1/8 mile to walk. I had lots of company on the way to and from school, our family was the biggest in the school and was I proud of that. My mother kept us as clean as pins, she sewed everything we wore, often sitting up past midnight sewing. We went home to lunch in nice weather but in winter when it was blustery and cold our dad would bring a wonderful basket of hot food which our mother cooked for us, and gosh how the other kids envied us. We had hot mince pie and lots of other goodies while they ate cold boiled eggs and other very common things.

Oh! The fun we had as children growing up. Everything we ate we grew. Our meat was beef, hogs, chickens, ducks all of which we grew, we cured the bacon and hams, canned the sausage. Our eggs, syrup from our own sugarcane, traded wheat for flour. Made our own hominy from corn, canned tomatoes and pickles from the garden. Canned peaches made jellies & preserves from our own fruit. Had our own milk and butter from our own cows, also sold butter. Cooked wheat and ate it as cereal, and was it good. We raised our own popcorn, potatoes, walnuts, apples for winter, also pecans.

We had any kind of a pet you could name, cats, dogs, calves, horses, birds, lambs, We had a baby squirrel until he grew up and got so mean, we had pet pigs, chickens, ducks. Minna and I had a calf named Cherry Cheer, we hitched her to a small sled and hauled corn fodder and other things (including manure) she was a real pretty dark red calf, but one day she chewed our doll clothes all to pieces, we had hung them on the line to dry. We still loved her though and played with her until she was a big cow.

We really had an oversize imagination. We played like people lived in the "old house" Their name (strange enough) was Mr. & Mrs. Old house and their children. In the cherry tree lived the Cherry family. In the out-house Mr. and Mrs. Jones and family. The coal shed and smoke house also each housed a family. They were all kin to each other and lots of children were born in our make believe village.

Our dad made us a sled for sliding down hills in the winter, it was a dilly. I bet one couldn't be bought that was as strong, made of oak with bent runners. He also made us a flying ginny which was a wild thing. My mother hated both of these things, which one she hated the most I don't know. She was afraid her darlings would get hurt.

As we grew older we were taught to do all kinds of work. Sew our own clothes, milk cows, work in the garden, cut corn, shock wheat, load hay, drive horse to pull hay up into the hay loft. Strip sugar cane. Pasture cows, clean house, make beds, pick all kinds of fruit, sweep, scrub, bake cook, everything there was to do. Many a time I had blisters from cleaning the stables. It wasn't easy but we had loads of fun.

Every evening in the winter was like a party. We would sew or tear carpet rags and pop corn and talk and giggle in front of the grate fire and by the light of coal oil lamps. Then up the stairs to a cold room, the only two rooms heated in the house were the kitchen and dining room. When the supper dishes were washed we let the fire go out in the cook stove and closed the door to the kitchen. Many a morning I've seen the water bucket in the kitchen frozen. We slept between sheets on a feather-bed, after we got warm it was O. K. but not so nice to get up in the morning.

In the spring there was lots of work to do. One of the spring jobs was to watch the hen turkeys, where they laid their eggs so we could get the eggs before something else did. They were very fond of hiding their nests in fence corners and you had to be pretty clever to out-fox them. One nice old turkey hen I remember, laid her eggs in the hen house like a good old turkey hen should. How nice to take the large white eggs with lavender specks on them in the house to mother. She kept them very carefully in a dining room cupboard by the mending basket until she had about eleven or twelve, then they were put under a broody hen to hatch.

Right here I'd like to tell you of some of the things I was afraid. The turkey gobbler, the black and white bull (but not much, he had a chain in his nose) snakes, bumble bees, wasps. I didn't like lightening either, one time it struck our old house.

Oh, what fun when we got our first telephone. I had a boy friend on our line and we had our own ring which was three shorts. He would call me and play records to me. We didn't have records. I was about twelve years old at this time. Our favorite record or maybe his only record was "On the Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Soon I saw another boy whom I thought was pretty special, the very first time I saw him I was walking along the road with a crowd of other kids on our way to (of all things) my other boy friend's house. This new boy was Ralph Swope and he was riding an enormous horse. We stopped to talk a bit and boy! I flipped he was handsome, witty and had lovely manners. After we went on I couldn't get him out of my mind (Haven't yet). The first date I had with him was a year or two later. We had a box social at our school-house. I took a box lunch fixed up in a shoe box all decorated with crepe paper. They were auctioned off and the boy who bought yours got to eat it with you (sit with you in a school seat)! No one was supposed to know whose box he was buying but some how he found out. So Ralph bought my box and ate with me and walked me home afterward.

We had up to this point went to Sunday School at Blue Grass, drove a surrey and (Old Frank, a black horse). By now some of the others were married so Minna & I (imagine I had to put quite a bit of pressure on her) changed to McCutchanville Sunday School and I got to see him every Sunday. We were also corresponding, big deal.

After I got through Earl School, graduated from eighth grade. Guess where I went to school! Walked all the way to McCutchanville High School every day. Rain or snow, good weather or bad. All the other girls were after him too. I wasn't supposed to date until I was sixteen but one night when everything was covered with ice I was spending the night at Fans' (on Kansas road) so I made a date to go to a school social. I would be 16 the next spring so what? He came in his buggy and his big horse. From then on we were together when ever we could manage it. My first boy friend was going to Evansville High School (Central) and he rode a motor-cycle, some evenings he came past when my school was out and walked with me, pushing his motor-cycle, all the way to Earl. My dad wouldn't let me go to school (High School) in Evansville. I had a chance to stay at my Aunt Annie Sternes and go, but he said no! (He didn't know about the two boy friends.)

The first car in our family was a "ford touring car" which belonged to Fan and her husband George Schlensker. I think that was about 1908. We all got to take rides in it and that really was something.

I started to write this so my grand children could know how things were when I was a child so now I'm going to hurry along and touch on the rest of my life up to now.

In the first part of the year when I would be 21, mama and I started to make sheets pillow-slips, comforters and quilt, (yes Ralph and I were going to be married on my 21st birthday (1914). We also made a new wardrobe for me. White wedding dress, crepe dress, deep lace ruffles underwear trimmed profusely with lace all hand sewed onto the garment yards and yards of it. A tan checked suit, tan hat trimmed with aqua and tan. And a turquoise satin dress. I had white baby-doll slippers with my white wedding dress, and tan button shoes with the tan suit. I wore my long hair in two braids wrapped around my head.

The dresses were all ankle length. I wanted apple blossoms for my wedding but there weren't any flowers out that year, as spring was late. I had only a small bunch of sweet peas for the table. (I bought it at a green house in Evansville) .50). We spent our first night in the south bed-room upstairs then left for Terre-Haute where we spent the next night at Dwight Pitkins home. We slipped away. No one knew where we were and our friends had a big shivaree for us. We were home (at Swopes) the third night and they really had big shivaree then.

Ralph's parents were building us a darling small house east of their barn and it wasn't done until about four weeks after the wedding so we stayed with the Swopes until then. We lived there until Dec. 1919. We had two wonderful little boys while we were living there. One on March 13th , 1915 and another Oct. 5, 1916. We moved to Terre Haute on Dec. 1919. Ralph worked in the Swope jewelry store. The depression came in the twenties after we had lived there about five years. We moved back here and put our furniture in a house we had rented on Browning road. The people couldn't move out right away so we stayed at Swopes again until fall.

I must tell you about our cars. We had a ford touring car when we first got to Terre Haute then we joined a motor-cycle club and traded the car in for a motor cycle and double side-car. We had lots of good times with the motor cycle club. Our next car was a black ford sedan. I was scared of it on account of all the glass.

While we were living on Browning road Bub had his hip trouble he was in bed a year with weights on his leg. I carried him around, he couldn't walk and he was nine years old. He finally got all right and in 1928 on Oct. 20th we had another darling little boy. When he was almost three on Sept. 17th 1931 we had our first and only girl. Everyone was so excited, (they didn't think I could do it.

Notes for RALPH HENRY SWOPE:
Ralph Swope was raised on his fathers farm in McCutchanville Indiana. He went to grade school and high school at McCutchanville School. He worked on his fathers farm in his early years. In 1910 he went to Terre Haute Indiana and apprenticed at the Swope Nehf Jewelry store to be a jeweler. When he married in 1914 he moved back to his Fathers farm outside of Evansville for a few years. In December of 1919 he took his wife Margaret, two sons, Dwight and Ralph (Bub), and went back to Terre Haute and worked as a jeweler. During World War One he was in the Militia (Dec. 3, 1917 through April 21 1920) and spent some time in Gary Indiana because of the unrest in the coal mines. In 1924 the family left Terre Haute and came back to McCutchanville and Ralph went to work for B.K. Hardware Wholesalers in Evansville and traveled around the area selling hardware. When the family moved back to McCutchanville is when he bought the two and one half acres on Browning Road. Nancy and Paul was born in this house. Ralph dreamed of a store of his own. So it came about that in 1934 he leased the store, gas station and garage in McCutchanville. When Bub graduated from High School, he took over the garage. The store was on the north side of Highway 57 at the intersection with Whetstone Road. Highway 57 is now Petersburg Road. In 1936 the people that owned the store would not renew the lease when it ran out. Dad went across the road, leased land from Bailey France and built a store of his own. Ralph bought the land he built the store on in 1943. He ran this store until his death in 1948. Ralph Swope was instrumental in forming the McCutchanville Benefit Club and the McCutchanville Vol. Fire Department and was the first Fire Chief.

Notes for MINNA EVELYN WHITEHEAD:

Memories written by MINNA WHITEHEAD and transcribed by PAULA SWOPE

About 1902, I lived in the country 10 miles North of Evansville in a big 8 room house. Four large bed rooms up stairs that was never heated. Kitchen and room where we stayed in winter, this room had a grate and we burned wood. A parlor was heated on Sunday by grate. (There were) 8 children, I was youngest.

We went to Blue Grass Methodist Sunday School. The day before Christmas my father would go up in the woods and cut a Christmas tree sometimes he would let one of us go with him, he would bring it back and fit in the old mowing machine wheel. Then we would trim it. Popped corn and strung pop corn, paper chains if we had saved enough colored paper, the candles were small wax candles, colored, that fit in a holder and clamped on to the tree. When lit everyone was afraid that the tree might catch on fire. In the evening before Christmas, my father would hitch a team of horse to a wagon with straw in the bed where we kids rode. My mother and father on the seat. We would go up to Blue Grass Church, we would have (say) pieces and sing Christmas songs, then the big thing we got a bag of candy and nuts and an orange.

One Christmas morning my sister Margaret and I each got a hair ribbon and thimble. And we were very pleased. We were poor but we realized that as we were rich in love.

BIRTHDAYS

Birthdays are like stepping stones
Along life's winding hill
Special little vantage points
To pause and just stand still.

To look back over other times
Recall the bygone years
Reliving all the memories
The smiles, the joy, the tears.

Then to leave pasts backward view
And start to climb once more
With faith that years ahead will be
As full as those before.

Notes for GEORGE EDWARD JR. SCHLENSKER:

A TRIBUTE TO GEORGE

George Edward Schienser, Jr. was a remarkable man. His long life of productivity and achievement was equally remarkable. He was a farmer in the purest sense. George loved the land and he knew every inch of the acreage that was the Schlensker farm. Everyone in McCutchanville knows the Schlenskers. The family has been rooted in the area for five generations. The land was acquired by the family in 1865. George was the fourth generation to occupy the land that is known as the Schlensker Farm. He was born on the farm and lived there his entire life.

Born on the family farm in McCutchanville, IN, the son of Frances and George Schlensker, George Jr. had one sister, Isabelle. George learned the hard work ethic at a very young age. Farming in the early days of the 20th century represented hard labor and much strength. Farm machinery and equipment was, at best, barely adequate. The farmer's brawney body was responsible for most of the heavy and demanding work. Their days began before dawn and did not end until long after the sun went down. As a very young boy, George performed many of the chores that life on the farm demanded. He grew to be a farmer at heart. Focused on farming for a lifetime, George was contented and peaceful with the fruits of the earth. Riding the traction to Reitz High School was the mode of transportation, and George was a passenger for four years. Owning a Model A Ford represented the "best of times" for George when he was a teenager. The "rumble seat" made it extra special. Attending the World's Fair and seeing the Empire State Building with his friends in New York was an unforgettable experience. After graduating from Reitz High School, George began working at Sunbeam Incorporated. He still worked on the farm many long hours before going to work and after coming home. Yes, George was a farmer at heart.

Soon, George married a young lady named Opal Jackson. Opal became a farmer's wife. George built a house for Opal on the farm before they were married. She knew almost as much about farming as George. She was so very important to him--the mother of his children, his farming partner and his constant helpmate. Their happy union was blessed with four children: one daughter, Brenda, and three sons; Henry, Glen and Robert. Sadly, Robert died in 1977. Henry and Glen followed in their father's footsteps and became farmers. They still operate the Schienser farm today. George contributed in countless ways to improve the methods of farming and the status of farming. He was a member of the Vanderburgh County 4-H Club, the National Farmers Organization, and the McCutchanville Community Association. George was awarded the Rural Urban Award for Vanderburgh County 4-H Achievement. He and Opal were responsible for many of the improvements at the 4-H Center. After he retired, George installed a sewer line at the 4-H Center. At the Fair each year, George and Opal represented the best of farming for many years.

George's personal characteristics were unique, He was always "in charge." It was his way or no way. George knew how to stretch a dime and make 50 cents out of it. It was from his example that the children learned to work so hard and respect other people and their property. George was honest and straight-forward. If another person proved to be wrong, he was unafraid to be persistent and confront them for what was right. After Opal died in 1991, George was very lonely. He missed her, but continued to remain active. George gave up the tractor and retired when he was 65. However, he was probably the most active person who ever retired. George enjoyed woodworking and kept everyone supplied with his artifacts. After his health failed, George entered a nursing home for professional care. It surely was not his choice, but it was necessary. George wanted to be on the farm. His family helped in so many ways. Finally, he accepted life at the nursing home, teased the nurses and made the atmosphere lively. George found much pleasure in his grandchildren. They brought sunshine into his life.

George's journey with us ended on June 3, 2004. He was a great man and an even greater farmer. He left his mark on the community as a giver. As we say goodbye, we honor him for his devoted commitment to all that was good and great in the world of farming. As we pray for his family let us keep his memory deep within our hearts.

Mr. McCutchan was a first lieutenant during the World war (WWI), served for over one year and was mustered out at Lafayette, Indiana.

From the "History of Vanderburgh County" Iglehart Vol. 3 Page 458-459 dated 1923

From the book "FROM THEN TIL NOW" by Kenneth McCutchan

March 14, 1944 A P-47 Thunderbolt crashed into the Jason McCutchan residence on Swope Lane shortly after taking off from the Evansville Airport. The house was almost demolished, but miraculously no one was killed or seriously injured. The house was rebuilt, but two and a half years later, in November 1946, it caught fire one Sunday morning and burned to the ground.

Notes for MINNA EVELYN WHITEHEAD:

Memories written by MINNA WHITEHEAD and transcribed by PAULA SWOPE

About 1902, I lived in the country 10 miles North of Evansville in a big 8 room house. Four large bed rooms up stairs that was never heated. Kitchen and room where we stayed in winter, this room had a grate and we burned wood. A parlor was heated on Sunday by grate. (There were) 8 children, I was youngest.

We went to Blue Grass Methodist Sunday School. The day before Christmas my father would go up in the woods and cut a Christmas tree sometimes he would let one of us go with him, he would bring it back and fit in the old mowing machine wheel. Then we would trim it. Popped corn and strung pop corn, paper chains if we had saved enough colored paper, the candles were small wax candles, colored, that fit in a holder and clamped on to the tree. When lit everyone was afraid that the tree might catch on fire. In the evening before Christmas, my father would hitch a team of horse to a wagon with straw in the bed where we kids rode. My mother and father on the seat. We would go up to Blue Grass Church, we would have (say) pieces and sing Christmas songs, then the big thing we got a bag of candy and nuts and an orange.

One Christmas morning my sister Margaret and I each got a hair ribbon and thimble. And we were very pleased. We were poor but we realized that as we were rich in love.

In Remembrance of Grandpa

Sunrise, Sunset (1971)
"New life takes the place of old.
Coming in, going out---
The beginning and the end" ...Barb Hornby

During my late teens in the spring of 1971, I wrote the words above; it was a bittersweet time in my life. Just a few months after my father's death, I was blessed with the birth of my first child, Rachelle. Even today, after 32 years, I wish they had known one another. The words I wrote stuck with me over the years--- revisited in 1992 when my mother, Rae died and Cody, my second grandchild, arrived. Cody's birth announcement lay open on my mother's table when I entered her home after her death. It was a comfort to me that she knew my first grandchild, Jordan, and was aware of the arrival of Cody.

At the close of 2003, the words I wrote so many years ago seem fitting once again. My father-in-law, David, (like my mother and father) passed away during the season of the birth of Jesus Christ. Twelve days into the Christmas month, David went to live among the angels after a month-long hospitalization. In June of this year my first granddaughter, Caroline came into the world, bringing yet another sunrise into our lives.

Sadly, in all of these instances, the old left without getting to know the young--leaving the future sunrises to carry on the qualities reflective of previous sunsets. But fortunately, loved ones like David and my parents leave their dawning spirits and their impressive mark before they go over the horizon. Death, time, criticism, or denial can not extinguish the light they brought or the flame that continues to burn. Their guiding touch forever rests on the shoulders of those that knew them and in turn, on those who will learn the stories of their lives. I believe that both young and old prosper from the preceding generations and, hopefully, we can pattern our lives by their good works.

David Hornby contributed to and resided on this earth for 88 years. He left so much of himself behind for our benefit. His life was filled with subtle gifts that he gave to his family and to others. They did not come with fancy bows or wrapped packages. Instead, they came in the form of kindness, goodness, talents and abilities. Some people took these things for granted, but I did not.

David retired in Tucson for health reasons after years of farming and factory work in Indiana. He was a simple, prideful, honest and hard working man whom I loved and appreciated. I am most thankful to David for his influence on my husband, his youngest son. He taught Ed most of what he knows about fixing, repairing and making do with what one has. This skill came out of David's need for survival-- born to him at a time when the Great Depression demanded thriftiness and a conservative nature. David shared the resulting knowledge with his family, and it continues to greatly help us in our everyday lives. In the early years, I might have made my husband feel inferior because I praised David as being "the best" at fixing anything. David fixed things right nearly every time.

I particularly remember a 12-inch high plastic Breyer horse that Rachelle got at the age of 3 or 4 years old.

She took a notion to ride it, unwittingly thinking that the small figure could support her weight. We have kept the toy all these years as a remembrance of that somewhat comical error. But, most importantly we kept it as a reminder of grandpa's kindness---a kindness that did more than just fix a damaged toy. It consoled and mended the heart of a tearful child. It taught our children gratitude for grandpa's love and skill. This single fix-it act and many others thereafter meant more than a thousand spoken words. My attitude of always striving for perfection and David's abilities fortunately inspired my husband to live up to David's teachings. Ed is now, the Mr. fix-it grandpa of troubled hearts and broken gadgets.

I also feel grateful to David because I had few male influences in my life during my growing up years. My own father died when I was 17 years old. Luckily, David came along shortly thereafter. I had the privilege of knowing him for nearly 32 years (longer than I knew my own father). Both of my grandfathers died years before my dawning, and so naturally, David was welcomed as a source of friendship. He had a hard time expressing his love, but it was apparent just the same and he will always be grandpa to me and to my children.

David and I shared a fondness for history and he could quote a date and year easily, even after the passing of many years. Fortunately his stories will live on with us because he was willing to share tales about a time that came before us. I will miss David with all my heart, as will our family. His life, in the end, was fragile after suffering from diabetes, undergoing open-heart surgery, and facing the challenge and the weakness of not being able to care for himself. The sunset of David Hornby's life has come in 2003 but the sunrises of the future will still hold his spirit and his love. We will keep his spirit close throughout the coming years.

With Love,
Barb Hornby 12/12/03

...It reminds me of grandpa
WHAT WE KEEP
Author unknown

It was a way of life, and sometimes it made me crazy. All that re-fixing, re-heating, renewing. I wanted just once to be wasteful. Waste meant affluence. Throwing things away meant you knew there'd always be more. But then my father died, and on that clear winter's night, in the warmth of the hospital room, I was struck with the pain of learning that sometimes there "isn't any more". Sometimes, what we care about most gets all used up and goes away... never to return. So...while we have it...it's best to love it, care for it, fix it when it's broken and heal it when it's sick. This is true for marriage, old cars, and children with bad report cards. This is true for dogs with bad hips and aging parents and grandparents. We keep them and care for them because they are worth it and because we are worth it. Some things we just keep--like a best friend that moved away or a classmate we grew up with. Some things are important, like the people that we know who are special.

...So, we keep them close during our lives and in our fond remembr

She was born 04 October 1920, and died 19 August 1991.

Notes for GEORGE EDWARD JR. SCHLENSKER:

A TRIBUTE TO GEORGE

George Edward Schienser, Jr. was a remarkable man. His long life of productivity and achievement was equally remarkable. He was a farmer in the purest sense. George loved the land and he knew every inch of the acreage that was the Schlensker farm. Everyone in McCutchanville knows the Schlenskers. The family has been rooted in the area for five generations. The land was acquired by the family in 1865. George was the fourth generation to occupy the land that is known as the Schlensker Farm. He was born on the farm and lived there his entire life.

Born on the family farm in McCutchanville, IN, the son of Frances and George Schlensker, George Jr. had one sister, Isabelle. George learned the hard work ethic at a very young age. Farming in the early days of the 20th century represented hard labor and much strength. Farm machinery and equipment was, at best, barely adequate. The farmer's brawny body was responsible for most of the heavy and demanding work. Their days began before dawn and did not end until long after the sun went down. As a very young boy, George performed many of the chores that life on the farm demanded. He grew to be a farmer at heart. Focused on farming for a lifetime, George was contented and peaceful with the fruits of the earth. Riding the traction to Reitz High School was the mode of transportation, and George was a passenger for four years. Owning a Model A Ford represented the "best of times" for George when he was a teenager. The "rumble seat" made it extra special. Attending the World's Fair and seeing the Empire State Building with his friends in New York was an unforgettable experience. After graduating from Reitz High School, George began working at Sunbeam Incorporated. He still worked on the farm many long hours before going to work and after coming home. Yes, George was a fanner at heart.

Soon, George married a young lady named Opal Jackson. Opal became a farmer's wife. George built a house for Opal on the farm before they were married. She knew almost as much about farming as George. She was so very important to him--the mother of his children, his farming partner and his constant helpmate. Their happy union was blessed with four children: one daughter, Brenda, and three sons; Henry, Glen and Robert. Sadly, Robert died in 1977. Henry and Glen followed in their father's footsteps and became farmers. They still operate the Schienser farm today. George contributed in countless ways to improve the methods of farming and the status of farming. He was a member of the Vanderburgh County 4-H Club, the National Farmers Organization, and the McCutchanville Community Association. George was awarded the Rural Urban Award for Vanderburgh County 4-H Achievement. He and Opal were responsible for many of the improvements at the 4-H Center. After he retired, George installed a sewer line at the 4-H Center. At the Fair each year, George and Opal represented the best of farming for many years.

George's personal characteristics were unique, He was always "in charge." It was his way or no way. George knew how to stretch a dime and make 50 cents out of it. It was from his example that the children learned to work so hard and respect other people and their property. George was honest and straight-forward. If another person proved to be wrong, he was unafraid to be persistent and confront them for what was right. After Opal died in 1991, George was very lonely. He missed her, but continued to remain active. George gave up the tractor and retired when he was 65. However, he was probably the most active person who ever retired. George enjoyed woodworking and kept everyone supplied with his artifacts. After his health failed, George entered a nursing home for professional care. It surely was not his choice, but it was necessary. George wanted to be on the farm. His family helped in so many ways. Finally, he accepted life at the nursing home, teased the nurses and made the atmosphere lively. George found much pleasure in his grandchildren. They brought sunshine into his life.

George's journey with us ended on June 3, 2004. He was a great man and an even greater farmer. He left his mark on the community as a giver. As we say goodbye, we honor him for his devoted commitment to all that was good and great in the world of farming. As we pray for his family let us keep his memory deep within our hearts.

Dwight H. Swope, 73, longtime Social Security administrator, died at 2:30 a.m. today at his home at 2100 Jefferson Ave.

Mr. Swope retired in 1980 after 40 years with the Social Security office. He had been head of the local office from 1956 until his retirement. After his retiring, Mr. Swope worked as a CPA from his home.

He was born and raised in McCutchanville, and attended Indiana University in Bloomington. He graduated in 1936 with a degree in business administration. He entered the IU law school in Indianapolis and got a part-time job with the state employment office there. A year later the office promoted him and he quit school.

In late 1938 while still working for the state, he saw a federal job notice on a Post Office bulletin board and decided to apply for it. His federal career began a year later.

Mr. Swope went to Washington, D.C., for a training course as a field representative for the new Social Security program. His first assignment was in Indianapolis. In 1941, he became assistant manager of the New Albany district office. In 1950, he was sent to Vincennes to open a Social Security office there and be its manager. Mr. Swope stayed there until he was named to head the Evansville office in 1956.

Mr. Swope took his job far beyond the confines of his office. He was a frequent speaker to civic groups and conducted pre-retirement seminars for industry and labor groups. For many years, he wrote a weekly column in The Evansville Press. Mr. Swope also helped establish other services and programs for people his office served.

In the early 1970s he was founder of the Southwestern Indiana Council on Aging and was the council's president in 1980.

Mr. Swope enjoyed music. He was instrumental in getting the city recreation commission to start sponsoring the popular senior citizens' dances, which often featured the music of Art Engels' band, with Mr. Swope on the trombone. He had been an officer for many years in the musicians union.

Mr. Swope was a World War II veteran, and a member of the Funkhouser American Legion Post, and past president of the Northside Kiwanis Club.

He was a member of the Methodist Temple and the National Association of Retired Federal Employees.

Notes for MARILYN SUE ROGERS:

Memories by Marilyn Sue Swope to John, Karen and Paula December 1996.

Birth announcement showing; born Feb. 6, 1932, weighs 9 lbs

Started school at 5 years old in Newtonville, In. The school asked parents if she could start early because school didn't have enough enrollment. Went to many different elementary schools; Newtonville, Hazelton, and Dale, since father ministered in different churches. Graduated Reitz High School 1949, at 17 years old. Joined the Indiana Home Demonstration Chorus, Vanderburgh County Home Economics Choir. Sang in Bloomington, IN 1964; took first place in competition. Held practices at Central Library, Evansville, IN. Sue sang Tenor. Aunt Kathryn Riggs was also in choir.

Sue's father taught her mother how to cook. She was a real good cook. Linda and Sue would help mother pull taffy.

Sue's dad would allow her to set in a seat in the pulpit while church was going on. At Hazelton, her dad would take her to the river and collect muscels for bait for fishing. Sue didn't know how to swim, but would go under water to get muscels.

At Hazelton, Hobos would come by the house from the railway that was close by, and Sue's mother would feed them all.

Notes for CURTIS SWOPE FRANCE:

OLD SWOPE HOME by Curt France

SWOPE HOME

What the France's remember about living at the Swope home where Granddad and Grandma lived.

This came about because of a fire that destroyed the France home on Whetstone Road in McCutchanville.

One February night in 1944, Elnora France was across the valley back of our house up a hill to Petersburg Road planning a Valentine's party with Alta Paterson (a sister-in-law). When Elnora was on her way home through the valley over the fence, up the hill, she saw that the house was on fire.

Jean, the second oldest child, was up reading and smelled smoke, ran to the back of the house and saw the fire. She immediately got her brothers and sister (Lawrence. Ray, Curt (Bud) and Lois) out of the house and called Uncle Ralph Swope. Jim was away in World War II. Evelyn was in nurses training living in Evansville. Jean gave four long rings on the crank telephone, which meant emergency and everyone would answer. At that time, there was no fire department in McCutchanville and the well went dry. There was no electric pump, just a pitcher pump and that was in the back of the house where the fire started. Uncle Ralph and all the other men got all the furniture out of the house except the new kitchen range that was too hot and in the back of the house. Lois can remember waking up sitting by the big leaning tulip poplar tree in the front yard. She thought it was really great because right beside her was Bud's wooden box full of his farm animals. She was never allowed to play with them so this was special. Later someone took her and Bud over to the Moffets to spend the night. The house burnt to the ground.

Elnora had an old tin can (like a coffee can) filled with Indian head pennies in the hall closet. After the fire had cooled off about a week later, all went back digging through the rubble looking for all of the pennies! But it was never found. Someone else must have found them first.

The next day was the decision day! What to do and where to go. No one was living at the old Swope home so that is why and where they went. Trucks hauled all the belongings down the long lane to the large old Swope home. It was a large house with a large kitchen in the back with a pantry, stairway to the back cellar, a pitcher pump and sink to the right of the back door. There was a large coal stove along one wall where the bread was baked and for heat on those cold days and nights. The coal pile was outside and had to be carried in by buckets. In the winter, the snow had to be swept off before bringing into the house. From the kitchen was a long hall with no light in it. Grandma used to hang her coats etc.. in there. At the end of the hall was a dresser and a pot, no bathroom. A store room was in the back at the end and a door to the bedroom. On the other side of the kitchen was the door leading into the large dining room and there was a large built-in cabinet along the wall. The upper shelves are where Grandma Swope kept her good dishes but the bottom under the shelf we could get in and hide. There was a trap door in the floor that led down to the front cellar with an outside door on the east. That is where the carbide gas generator was kept for lights before electricity. There was an outside door to the west and on this wall was the crank phone and a large window with a couch in front of it. Under the stairway was a large closet where the kids could hide. From this room was the stairway to the upstairs.

From the dining room was the door to the bedroom and to both of the front rooms (as there were two front rooms). From the bedroom there was a door to the east outside porch and a deep well on the porch. The main outside door that was used was the one that came in through the bedroom. That door was never locked so if there was a knock on the door, someone would just yell, "Come in". Well, one winter evening, Lois was taking her weekly bath in the wash tub in the dining room (the only really warm room) behind a folding screen. There was a knock on the door and someone yelled, "Come In". Mr... Felker, a man from the church, walked in. He was quite a talker and he and Elnora talked forever it seemed to Lois. The bath water got cold and she just had to sit there quiet, afraid that he would hear her.

In the well, part way down, was a shelf where food was kept to keep cool (milk, eggs, etc..). In the east living room as Evelyn remembers, was Alice's baby grand piano in the corner of that large room. The two large doors between the two living rooms pushed back into the wall, one each way. There was a fireplace or so-called grate and a large bay window on the west wall. The Christmas tree was always in this bay window. The year Jim France was in the war, the tree was left up all summer until he came home that fall. There were double large windows in both of the front rooms looking to the South. It was very cold in that old house. The only heat was the cook range in the kitchen and a warm morning stove in the dining room. Often the pump in the corner of the kitchen froze overnight. The bedroom downstairs wasn't as cold as the ones upstairs so on really cold nights, Elnora would heat a brick or two on the stove in the dining room, wrap it in a towel and put them in the bed. The bed would be nice and warm when crawled into. When it snowed, the boys upstairs would wake with snow on the floor and blankets. There were two large rooms upstairs in the front of the house. The boys used the room on the East and Isabel's furniture was stored in the West room. There was another room up there in the back over the dining room where the girls slept. It was also cold but not quite as cold as the stairway door was sometimes left open. In the summer time, the boys would take a cot and sleep out on the large upstairs front porch

One night a tornado came through and damaged some P47s down at the airport and broke a window on the west side where Isabel's furniture was and that had to be fixed.

Evelyn remembers staying all night with Grandma and Grandpa Swope often with Marjorie and Jane McCutchan. She can remember that Granddad sat in his comfortable chair at the end of the dining room table with his pipe and read the paper. Grandma sat on the other side by the stairway. When Evelyn wanted to go uptown from Reitz High School, she would get off the bus at Franklin Street and walk up First Avenue. Then she would go to Granddad's office in the Court Building and ride home with him. But that was before we lived there. Granddad Swope lived in Evansville when we lived in the old house. It was said that he rode the clutch (kept his foot on the clutch).

There were lots of suppers with fried potatoes and stewed tomatoes. On Christmas, the oldest boys (Hugh, Bob, and Don Henry, Dwight and Bub Swope. and Harold McCutchan and adults ate first, then the cousins. The boys had to do dishes while the rest of them ate. After Grandma died and Grandpa still lived there, the M.Y.F. had a New Years party there. Elnora France went down and fixed oyster soup and chili then they played games.

When Evelyn graduated from nurses training in August 1945, she went to work at Deaconess Hospital and rode to and from work with Uncle Jack McCutchan. Sometimes she had to ride the Petersburg Bus which came out on Whetstone Road and get off at Uncle Ralph's store and walk down Petersburg Road, cutting down a path at the top of the long hill and coming out by Alice's house, then on down through Uncle Jack's pasture, passed the old barn to the house.

Granddad would often have 4th of July fireworks in the field in front of the house and always had peanuts in the hull.

The France's also moved the cows, chickens and ponies into the old barn and chicken house. There was no water at the barn so water either had to be carried from the house or let the cows go down to the pond. But in the wintertime, the pond froze over and in the summer it went dry. There was a large woods pasture for the cows and horses down a long lane past the pond

Uncle Jack had pigs and two big Percheron horses. Bob was black with some white and Ding, the bigger one, was gray. Bob was smart. Bing was not. In the spring and winter, the long lane from the road to the house would always get muddy with very deep ruts. Uncle Jack would often get stuck with his Model A Ford, so Ross would get Bob to pull the old Ford out of the ruts on his way back home.

The barn was very large with two large hay rooms with logs from floor way up to the roof. There was a silo on the west end from the cow manger. Horse stalls were all the way down the long entryway. There was a large swing from one of the large timbers that crossed the entryway. In the back was an old horse drawn sleigh and a wheat binder.

Ross McCutchan would bring Bob and Bing up and plow the garden and work it down. There was a large garden with grapes down the middle. The plow was so big that he could hardly get it upright to plow. There were many corn cob fights in that old barn and firecrackers were dropped from inside the top of the silo just to hear the extra loud bang. As of April, 1999, this silo still stands. Just look up the hill of Highway 57 and you can see it. Some of the Catalpa Trees are still there and the circle drive is there yet.

A P47 airplane from the airport ran into Uncle Jack's house while the France's were at the Swope home. It really nearly missed the house as one wing hit a tree on one side, the other wing hit the house and the rest of the plane went down the hill into a pig pen The pilot was not hurt.

At the back of the house was the outhouse, down a long cinder path under a big catalpa tree. In the summer were those big catalpa worms. This house was a three holer and before the days of soft wipes, so a Sears Roebuck catalog was always on the seat to look at and enjoy.

Out the back door of the house was a large concrete slab and a summer kitchen with a smokehouse attached where meat was cured. There was a dinner bell on one corner of this porch and two cisterns on the other. There was a large brooder house with a wood shed on end just beyond the porch on the way to the large chicken house.

There was a two car garage just beyond the wood shed and beyond that was the hog pens. When we got there, everything was in bad condition The hog house was about gone, the wood shed roof leaked and the barn was a total disaster. But those large timbers in the barn were as solid as a rock.

Cows, ponies and chickens had to be fed and watered before breakfast and off to school. Instead of walking down the long lane, we would cut through behind Aunt Laura and Alice's house through the pasture and come out at the top of the hill to catch the bus that Bub Swope often drove.

There were only 20 people in the nation so honored. He was also honored by the Mount Vernon Kiwanis Club with a "Distinguished Community Service Award". Harold retired from the U.S. Army Air Force as a Lt Colonel after 28 years in the service and reserve. He served as a County Extension Agent, was very active in 4-H work, and served as Vice-President in the Trust Department with People's Bank and Trust Company.

EVANSVILLE COURIER & PRESS Monday, September 13, 1999

MOUNT VERNON, Ind. - Harold A. "Mac" McCutchan spent 50 years of his life in Posey County, and earned many friendships for his civic duty, his brother said Sunday.
McCutchan, 79, died Saturday, Sept. 11, 1999, at Mount Vernon Nursing and Rehabilitation. "He was very well-known and very well-liked," said his brother, Ross McCutchan of Mount Vernon. A 1937 graduate of Reitz High School, McCutchan graduated from Purdue University and later attended the University of Wisconsin for graduate studies.
He was a World War 11 Army Air Force veteran, serving as a fighter pilot instructor, retiring with the rank of lieutenant colonel after 28 years in the service and reserves. He was a pilot for 49 years and a member of the Retired Air Force Officers Association.

McCutchan moved to Posey County in 1949, and became the county extension agent, his brother said. He also served as president of the Mount Vernon Air Board, and was vice president and Farm Department Manager of Peoples Bank and Trust Co.

Ross McCutchan said his brother was the first to begin Flying Farmers 'Day, aiding Southwestern Indiana farmers.

'He would pick out a field somewhere and take them up to show erosion problems," McCutchan said, McCutchan also served on the executive committee of the American Bankers Association, and served as president and director of the Indiana Agri-Bankers Association for several years.

He was a presidential appointee on the National Committee for Agriculture, a member of Southwestern Indiana Regional Council on Aging, the Masonic Lodge and Hadi Shrine, past commander and chaplain of Veterans of Foreign Wars 5 and he had served as treasurer and auditor for several charities.

He was also past president of St. Johns United Methodist Church Governing Council and was a lay leader. Also surviving are two daughters, Linda Walker of Mystic, Conn., and Marcia McCutchan of Mount Vernon; two sons, Keith and Brian, both of Mount Vernon; three sisters, Jane McCutchan of Evansville, Doris Dauble of Clearwater, Fla., and Marjorie Hart of French- town, Mont.; another brother, Neil of Winter Haven, Fla.; and seven grandchildren, Matthew and Laura Walker, and Philip, Chris, Katie, Noah and Khristian McCutchan.

His wife, Betty J. (Williams,), died in 1990.

Graveside services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Blue Grass Cemetery in McCutchanville, with military rites.

Friends may call from 4 to 8 p.m. today and from 2 to 8 p.m. Tuesday at Norvell Funeral Hum, with a memorial service at 7 p.m.,

Memorial contributions may be made to the Posey County Community Foundation, Mae McCutchan Scholarship Fund or to the Alzheimer's Association,

Notes for JOHN PAUL SWOPE:

In 1995, I graduated from Mt. Vernon Senior High School in Indiana. That summer I decided to attend the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. My main focus was to be a great wrestler, whatever that means?! The focus on wrestling and lack of it on school produced a much better, stronger wrestler but it also produced a wrestler on academic probation with a 1.5 GPA. With little to no good study habits I decided that college was not for me and joined the US Air Force on a split second decision coming home from work at five in the morning. I met the recruiter at the door that morning at 7:30am and told him I wanted to "jump out of planes". That is how I started my Air Force career. I blew through basic and then began the Indoctrination course for the Air Force's Special Operation Forces, my job was to be a Combat Controller. It was a very intense course that was ten weeks long. Aimed strictly at weeding out the men or boys that could not work as a team, had the tendency to quit, and would be more of a liability than an asset in combat. The class that I graduated from started with 90 men and finished with 9! From there we were off to complete what's called the Pipeline training which is a series of schools including Combat Dive School, Airborne Jump School, Survival/SERE School, Air Traffic Control School, HALO/HAHO Sky-diving School, and Combat Control School.

577. ii. SHANNON MICHELLE MINER.

535. DORIS JANE⁷ SOSBE (MARJORIE⁶ MCCUTCHAN, HENRY JASON⁵, HENRY ARPHAXAD⁴, ARAD³, GEORGE BOND², WILLIAM¹) was born 16 February 1952 in Evansville, Vand. Co. Indiana. She married (1) ANDREW AVELENO JR. MACIAS. She married (2) MANFRED FRITZ WILHELM SCHLOTTMANN. She married (3) ROY ALAN SR. VALIANT 14 June 1969 in McCutchanville, Vand. Co. Indiana. He was born 23 October 1949 in Elmherst, IL.

Notes for DORIS JANE SOSBE:

I was married to Roy Alan Valiant, June 14th 1969 at McCutchanville Methodist Church.

This marriage produced two children, Roy Alan Valiant, Jr born March 7, 1970 at St. Mary's Hospital in Evansville, Indiana and Christopher Michael Valiant born April 10, 1974 at Hillendale Hospital in Killeen, Texas.

Roy and I were divorced and on May 15, 1980 I married Andrew Avelino Macias, Jr. by Judge C.W. Storm who was born at Providence Hospital on December 3, 1946 and raised in Waco, TX. We were married in Coryell County in a small town called Copperas Cove, TX His mother was Margaret Gonzales Macias and his father was Andrew Avelino Macias. He was married before to a woman named Margarita Cobos and they were divorced when we met. They had a child whom I had since legally adopted at the age of 8 after she signed over all parental rights and have been proud to have him since. His name is Andrew A. Macias, III. and he was born January 13, 1973 at Hilicrest Hospital in Waco, IX My husband died of cancer on June 10th, 1990 at home with Hospice. He died of pancreatic cancer. This was the hardest time in my life, still dealing with some of it.

A very close friend of mine, Ruby Walters, recently lost her husband of a sudden heart attack. He died on a horse in a rodeo area of all things. Anyway, we have worked together and she is doing better but I never realized' all the things I had held back because I was always doing that, always .taking care of everyone but myself. We are so close now and I have added her to my folds for life.

I married Manfred Fritz Wilhelm Schlottmann on June 29, 1991 at 6:30 P.M. in Waco, TX at the Syrian Club, Judge Joe Johnson presiding, our honeymoon was spent in Germany, in a little town called Oppendorf which he has a lot of family in and Bremen, a thrill for me since I had never been in my life. Learned a whole new culture and way of life.

Manfred and Andrew had known each other for a long time so it was comforting for the kids to have Manfred in their lives. Manfred was born in Diephoiz, Germany on October 26, 1938 which thrilled my mother, Marjorie, that we had another Oct. birthday. His mother was Luise (Louise) Sander Schlottmann born December 12, 1913 and his Father was Fritz Gustav Schlottmann born January 26, 1911. He has one brother, Egon Schottmann. His father was shot down over Russia and the body was never found. To this day he still wonders about his dad. He came to America in 1952 (which is the year I was born incidentally) He received his citizenship in the Western District of Texas, El Paso, TX on October 7th, 1963 while he was in the Army. He was married before to Linda Eulene Aday and divorced and of that marriage had two children, Manfred Christopher Schlottmann born 12-12-62 (same day as his grandmother) and Frederick Craig Schlottmann born 9-9-65.

Manfred owns his own trucking company, Schlottmann Trucking (funny considering my dad Everett was a truck driver and he died on my birthday 2/16/62.) We usually run team but I have been into politics and help run a non profit organization for children called the Tadpole Foundation down here so stay pretty busy.

I love Texas, it has always been home for me.

I have two adopted daughters (not legally, but you can't convince them) that I have helped to raise. One just graduated from Baylor University on her own merits and is teaching in San Antonio and the other Margie is still going to Baylor at this time. She was in an automobile accident and lost both her legs years ago and has taught me the meaning of not feeling sorry for myself. She has taught me far more than I have learned from anyone. She water skis, right now is biking and practicing for a marathon, engaged to be married. Quite an inspiration and I have been so proud of her.

My boys, all three are big adults. I have no grandchildren except through default (through Manfred) so I guess I am a step grandmother, her name is Ashley Schlottmann and she is 16, head cheerleader and just like her grandfather, stubborn but we love her anyway. Probably the only reason she thinks I am cool is because I still have a motorcycle and I believe at last count the only grandmother down there who has one, which doesn't mean I have a brain but Ashley doesn't think that way.

We live in the county in a new house, I am learning all about plants, birds, pruning, wishing more than anything that Grandpa was around for advice. Would love to be able to surround this place with kids like my grandparents did but for now we are waiting.

Well how was that for pouring it out?

Memories of McCutchanville, just some of them,

Grandpa going to McCutchanville Methodist, dragging me along, I was so proud of him, he was the bell ringer. I didn't want to admit to anyone at my school that it was a recording later down the years. As far as I was concerned it was still Grandpa.

All of us wild kids showing up at our grandparents on the weekends. I remember it being a safe place, not fighting, Football, hide and seek. Grandpa taking me downstairs wiping my face off as I cried because grandma refused to call me Jo. She was the only one who called me Doris Jane and got away with it. I resent anyone saying that know that was grandma and my "thing".

Going to Aunt Grace's house and not understanding what was the big deal about wearing earrings, her chandelier or getting into a chest, finding a china doll and thinking it was a dead baby. (We were all weird back then) Always messing with the valuable things and never thinking about it, now realizing it and wondering why she didn't beat us to death.

Uncle Harold and his jokes, Ross was good too, but Harold always seemed too happy. Harold was so good, even when I took Andrew up there when Chester Hart (my step father) died Harold opened his arms to him as did Grandpa. Thank goodness Andrew met him, I wish Manfred could have. Harold always had something up his sleeve and you never knew what to expect. Want to always remember him as he was before he got sick.

Debbie, Donnie, Gerry, Dana, Jeff (did I forget someone) dancing, dancing and still dancing. You go to their house there was never a dull moment. Aunt Joyce constantly swatting at us and telling us to settle down. I don't remember that working well.

Grandpa walking over his acreage and explaining to me how to grow cherry trees, blackberries, green beans, apples, pears, now I wish I had listened better. Picking berries and eating more than putting in the basket and grandpa holding me later while I had belly cramps.

Grandma making me work on green beans out on the screened in porch and talking about canning and life which I again didn't listen. Too much like my dad I think.

Grandma listening to "The Days of Our Lives" with no picture. She had an old Kirby vacuum cleaner and she turned it off and stood there and listened to the whole soap, it was the first time I realized grandma was hooked.

Grandma's piano with all these Air Force guys across it and at the end a picture of my ex-husband Roy in a Army Uniform, the only reason she tolerated it was because at least he was a pilot, even though it was helicopters. I remember her or mom playing and everyone singing. I do miss those times. I bought a studio grand and have it here and would love to hear mom or grandma play, mom played so soft toward the end and then forgot a lot. My kids next door come over and play on it so it is not wasted. Poor Manfred was tricked on this so bad. I asked him if I bought one would he pay for half. He said yes, only after delivering it and having it here did he ask me to play and I informed him I couldn't. He was shocked at first and then couldn't quit laughing.

Grandma and Grandpa never saying a bad word about anyone no matter what happened, especially in our family. I learned to respect that in them and chose not to judge quickly no matter how much mom did, and mom did but that was a problem she had. I remember some things being bad but I have some good memories too.

Going to church with Grandma and Grandpa, after dad died, mom wouldn't go anymore. I think about that a whole lot since Manfred's mother died and we go to her church now. How nice and peaceful it is to go and know it is right to-do so. I love the way we live and I love, Manfred for giving me the peace to do it.

Found memories of Aunt Dotsie taking me in when dad died and times were hard at home. She was a port in a storm and I don't think she knew it. I always thought she was cool, and pretty, smart, and loving. Loved going to her house. Hated it when Ronald died and she was so miserable. Hated her being so hurt and not being able to do anything about it. Now I really understand it.

Being totally crushed when I found out I was named after Dotsie. Who calls here Doris?????????? I thought her name was Dotsie. Enough said.

You all are a gem thanks for listening have enjoyed this so much and learned just as much.

Thanks for listening. Jo

Marriage: 14 June 1969, McCutchanville, Vand. Co. Indiana

Children of DORIS SOSBE and ROY VALIANT are:
i. ROY ALAN JR.⁸ VALIANT, b. 07 March 1970.
ii. CHRISTOPHER MICHAEL VALIANT, b. 10 April 1974.

536. KATHRYN GALE⁷ SOSBE (MARJORIE⁶ MCCUTCHAN, HENRY JASON⁵, HENRY ARPHAXAD⁴, ARAD³, GEORGE BOND², WILLIAM¹) was born 14 May 1956 in Evansville, Ind.. She married H. JOE MARTIN February 1978.

Notes for KATHRYN GALE SOSBE:

I've been working at a daily newspaper (100,000-plus circulation) for 16 years now (1999). I've done everything here, from writing obits to editing copy. I'm back to writing now and love it beyond description. Having worked in management for several years, I've learned skills that have made me a better writer and reporter.

In addition to writing for the paper, I'm attempting to write a novel, have written a couple of children's stories (which I'm too chicken to submit) and about a dozen essays, which again will not be for print. The essays are helping me hone my craft and lighten my brain. They are also for my children. I want to see Grandpa and Grandma's house again, which is no longer in the family, as well as Aunt Grace's house. My fondest memories are of those two houses. I'll also visit daddy, who is buried at the church.

A LONG ROAD HOME

In finally going home again, writer Kathryn Sosbe finds family roots run deep - even after a long estrangement

By Kathryn Sosbe / The Gazette
Story editor Barbara Cotter

Every family has its issues. Where to celebrate the holidays. How to handle aging parents. Illnesses. Religion. Finances. Drugs. Relationships.

Some cope, creating a family bond strengthened by trauma. Rather than breaking loose, they hold tighter. Others find themselves embroiled in a bitter family feud that lasts for decades. Mothers and daughters fall into silence. Sisters and brothers pretend one another don't exist. But life goes on, even when families fall apart.

My family disintegrated on a warm summer's day in Evansville, Ind., in 1977.

It was the day my mother told me she did not want me or my newborn daughter in her home. Rather, she proposed meeting us at a nearby gas station. "It would be best," she said.

I didn't go. It wasn't best, for me or for my daughter - her granddaughter, a chubby-cheeked baby who looks remarkably like her. There was just one problem, at least for her: Her granddaughter, and later a second granddaughter, were fathered by a black man.

My daughters are interracial, a fact of life, like the color of their eyes, their opposite personalities and their infectious laughs. To me, it didn't matter if they were white, black, red or brown.

It mattered to my mother - a lot. When my first child was born, I had a sweet conversation with mother. She asked if we were both OK. Her questions were guarded, but at least she was interested. She even sent my daughter a handmade doll.

But that conversation faded soon as I realized she was not taking or returning my telephone calls. She didn't answer my letters, nor did she reach out in other ways.

So the day she suggested we meet at a gas station, I decided to cut off all ties with my family. Not just with her, but with everyone; I didn't want to face the possibility of more rejection.

Since then, I've had little contact with family. A few strained telephone calls to my mother. A brief but volatile encounter with one sister. Complete estrangement from every other family member except another sister, who is both friend and sister to me and aunt and grandmother to my children.

There were missed weddings, births and funerals. I never was able to properly say goodbye to my grandparents. Worse, my children never met their great-grandparents or funny Aunt Dotsie or a long line of cousins.

For 22 years, my attitude about my family has wavered between cool indifference to aching heartbreak to steaming anger. At times, I have lied, telling friends that my mother dotes on my children. Or that my mother was dead. Other times, I told the story matter-of-factly.

What is undeniable is that I always had a longing for family, but fear of further rejection - of me and my daughters - kept me from going home.

And then ...

Then came the invitation to attend a family reunion.

To go home again.

Summers in McCutchanville, Ind., north of Evansville, were humid and hot, but they were also Rockwellesque.

Summers meant home-cooked meals with produce from Grandpa and Grandma McCutchan's garden, hand-cranked ice cream and catching fireflies, locking them away in glass jails to control how they lit up the night.

Nothing else mattered except those days on Petersburg Road, a former Indian trail.

I was so enamored with life in McCutchanville that I would often hop my red Schwinn and pedal the seven miles from our working-class neighborhood in Evansville just to be with Grandpa.

At my house, life was vastly different. My father died in 1962 when I was 5 years old, and my mother struggled to raise three girls alone on a secretary's salary.

To me, she seemed fiercely strong. I don't remember her crying, except when my father died and as she watched the funeral of President Kennedy on our small black-and-white television.

Mother ruled with a strict hand. "Yes, ma'am," "Please," and "Thank you" were a regular part of our vocabulary. Spankings were usual and, even though she worked, she knew every move we made.

At night, she sewed some of our clothes and made gifts for family and friends. We had kitchen-chair haircuts, food gathered from relatives' gardens and plenty of chores.

There was no time for feeling sorry and no money except for the essentials.

Never did my mother seem to cave in to adversity, but maybe it's because her life had prepared her for it.

In 1944, when she was 22, a P-47 Thunderbolt airplane crashed into Grandpa's house, nearly killing her and her 5-year-old brother. She saved his life by knocking over his highchair seconds before the plane's wing would have hit him in the chest.

Grandpa rebuilt the house, and the family, including my mother, moved back in. But 2½ years later, it burned to the ground.

A few years later, she married; she was in her late 20s, which was old for those days. About 10 years later, her husband - my father - died of cancer.

Within days of his death, she was in a car accident. Soon after the funeral, she watched as Sears repossessed our freezer because she couldn't afford the payments.

A few years later, she suffered severe burns on her hands while putting out a fire that engulfed a baby sitter's dress.

Through it all, she always kept going, usually with help from family.

As poor as I remember being, it seemed like we were happy enough: me and my two sisters.

Still, there was a reserve about my mother that I always attributed to being of Midwestern stock or because she had me late in life, at 36.

I knew she took pride in my achievements, no matter how small, because she bragged to friends and family. But I also felt she grew tired of raising children, first helping to raise her siblings as the second of seven children, then going it alone with three headstrong girls.

She tolerated my fidgeting, my rebellion against crocheting and knitting and my forays into the political world, including skipping elementary school to protest the Vietnam War.

She once commented to my sister that she didn't understand me.

Admittedly, I was a wild child.

But never once did I believe that my mother would not want me or her grandchild. She already had four grandchildren and lived to spoil them. And even if she didn't like one of her daughters' chosen mates, she rose above her objections and treated them as sons.

Except for my husband, whom I met in the military.

I never fancied my mother as intolerant.

About two years ago, my sister Mary began talking about mother. We rarely talked about her or past times because it was too hard for me. Mary understood that.

But this was different; mother's health was failing, and it was evident she needed full-time care.

"She's not doing very well," Mary would say during calls from Montana, where she now lives.

I would remain quiet. I still did not want to know she was ailing. I didn't want to feel compassion.

By 1998, Mary was living in Montana, and moved mother there to care for her.

Throughout our conversations, Mary pressed me about making contact with my Uncle Neil, mother's baby brother who survived that airplane crash. She said I needed to know my family, and that my family loved me.

I resisted, but Mary's exhortations stirred up a lot in my mind. I had dreams of going home. Of buying Grandpa's house back from the strangers who now live there. Of hearing Aunt Dotsie, my mother's younger sister, laugh. Of seeing my cousins.

Finally, I took the e-mail address I'd gotten from my sister and began the note that would begin to change everything: "This is Margie's daughter, Kathy."

It wasn't long before I heard back from Uncle Neil, and that, in turn, made me dig deeper for my roots.

I found the Internet site that traced my family's genealogy and tracked down Paul Swope. We never had met, but he shared a family surname, and it turns out he's a first cousin once removed. He was planning the reunion.

Come home, he said. We want everyone to come home.

In my mind, I decided to go. My heart - and my nerves - were not so quick to follow. But I had to go. I wanted contact with family. I wanted to know if they hated me. I wanted to know why no one ever found me - or if they even tried. I wanted to know why our family is so darned stubborn. I wanted to heal.

And I knew the time had come to find the answers. My children are growing up. My oldest is on her own.

My youngest just started her first year in college. My hair is graying. Time is running out. Keep your mind open. Those are the words local family counselor Barry Weinhold said in the weeks before my reunion.

I had talked to Weinhold in preparation for a story on family estrangement. Maybe it was more to help myself.

This is not unusual, he told me. Family feuds are very common. Everyone has been there. Reunions are healing, Barry said.

You can't change anyone else, he said.

You can only be yourself, he said.

It will be a good thing, he promised.

I tried to keep his words in mind, but the apprehension I felt on the flight to Evansville was hard to overcome. I flipped through the magazines I bought. I drank three cups of coffee during a short layover. I began to cry when the pilot announced we were flying over Evansville.

A flight attendant touched my shoulder gently without saying a word and brought me back to the task at hand. I wiped the tears, then bit my lip and concentrated on what I needed to do when I got off the plane: get the rental car, drive to the cemetery to see Daddy, then downtown to the hotel, where I would meet Mary.

To my delight, she greeted me at the airport. We dissolved into tears. As we embraced, I noticed a man taking our picture. He looked like Grandpa but younger.

"I'll tell you the same thing I told your sister," my Uncle Neil said. "My, have you grown up!" I immediately hugged Uncle Neil. I couldn't let go. It felt like home. But I was still scared.

After awhile, we parted with Uncle Neil and Aunt Judy, and promised to catch up for dinner that night. Mary and I got into the rental car and began driving, laughing as I nearly ran off the road in excitement at each landmark I remembered. Aunt Grace's house next to Aunt Lucy and across the road from Grandpa. The McCutchanville United Methodist Church and cemetery, where my father is buried. Blue Grass Cemetery, where my grandparents are. My high school. My old house.

It was too much, yet not enough. I wanted more.

That evening, we all went to dinner at Wolf's, a favorite barbecue restaurant.

Inside, I was surprised to see my mother's sister, Aunt Jane, who hugged and kissed me, then grabbed my face and said, "I'm so proud of you. You are doing what you always wanted to do."

Aunt Jane was the one who encouraged my passion for writing. Her Chicago Tribune became mine, and my dream became her desire. It was Aunt Jane who encouraged my interest in journalism, even if it meant cleaning the floors. "You have to start somewhere," she would say.

After several minutes of tears and hugs, I turned to see my mother's brother, Uncle Ross, and his wife, Aunt Joyce. As a child, I was frequently in the middle of their brood of six children, getting an equal dose of love and discipline.

For hours we ate and talked. Took pictures. And talked. And ate.

Even after leaving the restaurant, we stood outside in the humid evening air for another 45 minutes. I didn't want to let go.

On Sunday, the official family reunion got under way after church. I met relatives that I either don't remember or never knew. I looked through dozens of family photographs, excitedly pointing out relatives I did remember.

There also were photographs of my mother, first as a slender young girl then as a pretty young woman. She was smiling.

But she wasn't there.

Mother was in a Montana nursing home, a victim of Alzheimer's - the same disease that slowly ate away at my grandmother's mind; the same disease that has confounded the logical mind of my Uncle Harold.

And with that disease, my mother's memories of me have vanished. Like they never happened. Like I never existed. Like her grandchildren never existed.

Gone, too, is any hope of reconciliation. We last spoke in the late 1980s; I can't even remember what we said. Any future conversations may or may not register with my mother, but it's a chance I'm willing to take.

During the reunion, my aunts and uncles asked about my family, my life and my job, but they didn't ask too many questions about what had happened between my mother and me. They knew I had joined the Army and thought that maybe I had married, but my mother didn't talk about me much after 1977. It was just her way, and no one seemed to challenge it.

Later I would discuss my estrangement in more detail with Uncle Neil and Aunt Dotsie. It's unfortunate that we lost touch, they said. But it's all in the past, and the future will be different.

I am loved unconditionally, they said. And so are my children.

The reunion connected my past to my present; it was the weekend I finally began to heal.

I just wish Mother had been there.
