Personal Information

Name: _____

Grade: _____ Teacher: _____

School: _____ Year: _____

For this school year, this is your goal:

To read 25 books or their equal in articles, magazines or text- books. You choose what you want to read, but to fulfill your “25 books” goal, you need to do the following:

- Choose books and other materials that are appropriate for your grade level or are of high quality.
- Choose a variety of materials and kinds of books to show you have read widely.
- Choose at least three different genres or kinds of books (for example, realistic fiction, fantasy, historical fiction, biographies, and how-to books).
- Choose at least five different writers.
- Choose at least four books about one subject, or by a single writer, or of the same kind.

CONTRACT

I, _____ will read
2-5 books or their equal before the end of the school year.
I will also follow my teacher's instructions on how to pace my reading and how to keep this log.

READING BUDDIES

For each book you read, choose a reading buddy.
Reading buddies can be parents, older sisters or brothers,
other relatives, students in upper grades, and volunteers.
A ready buddy will read the same book you do, talk with you about the book, and sign off in this log when the book is completed. You can choose one reading buddy for all or just some of your books or you can have many different buddies.

My reading buddies are _____

(Add the names of your reading buddies as you go along.)

How do your books rate?

This system of rating will help you remember what you thought of each book you read. Other people will be interested too. For example, for a book you thought was the best, you can give it “four happy faces.” Write the words, draw the symbols, or use stickers as you log in your reading in the following pages.

😊😊😊😊 Four Happy Faces = Great book! I was interested from the beginning, the story got my attention, and I liked the characters.

😊😊😊 Three Happy Faces = This book was easy to read. The story sounds real, like something that could happen to me.

• 😞🔴 Two Happy Faces = This book was okay, but I would not read it again.

😊 One Happy Face = I would read this only if I had nothing else to read.

😞 One Sad Face = This book was hard to understand or did not keep my attention

😞 Upside down Sad Face = I would not recommend this book!
