You also authorise us to cancel your card and replace it with any alternative card if, for any reason, we decide that your current card is no longer appropriate for you.

12 Cancelling cards

- The card is our property and you must return it to us if we ask. We can take away your right to use the card. We can do this without giving you notice beforehand if we have a valid reason. This could be to prevent fraud or because we think that you may not be able to pay your card account in full and on time. If we do this, we will tell you immediately afterwards. We may list cancelled cards in our 'Cancellation Bulletin' and tell service establishments of these cancellations. If a service
- establishment asks you to give it your card, you must do so.
 You or a supplementary cardmenber may cancel a supplementary card. After we have received notice of cancellation, you and the supplementary cardmember will continue to be responsible for all charges on the supplementary card (under paragraph 3b) until you cut the supplementary card in two. We may help you get the supplementary card back, if this is appropriate.

- Changing this agreement
 We can change this agreement at any time and will tell you immediately if we do this. We will consider that you have accepted the change if you continue to keep and use the card.
- We can transfer our rights under this agreement and will tell you immediately if we do this. We will consider that you have accepted this transfer if you continue to keep and use the card.
- If you do not accept any changes to this agreement, you can end the agreement by cutting the card in two and writing to us that you want to cancel the card account. You will still be liable for all charges (including fees and late payment charges) up to the date you end this agreement. Please do not return the destroyed card to us.
