2011 Pennsylvania Community on Transition Conference

Breaking Boundaries – Achieving Goals

Description

The vision of the PA Community on Transition is that all Pennsylvania youth and young adults with disabilities will successfully transition to the role of productive, participating, adult citizens. Youth will be empowered to recognize their talents, strengths and voice and have equal access to resources that promote full participation in the communities of their choice.

The primary purpose of this conference is to expand the capacity of schools and communities, in partnership with youth, young adults and families, in promoting the successful transition of youth/young adults with disabilities to post-school outcomes of employment, post-secondary education and training, community participation and healthy lifestyles. Participants will have the opportunity to learn about effective practices to assist youth/young adults with disabilities to break through boundaries and achieve their goals.

Focus on Conference

The primary focal points of this year's conference are:

- Promoting success of all youth and young adults by addressing the transition needs of those who are at-risk and struggling
- Empowering families and caregivers with transition knowledge and resources
- Engaging youth and young adults in social interactions, understanding their potential, and building leadership skills
- Building leadership skills of all transition stakeholders to promote successful outcomes of youth and young adults
- Using transition and career assessment, universal design, accommodations and supports to build the foundation for self-determination and self-advocacy
- Linking transition, health and healthy lifestyles to promote success in adult life by empowerment through self-determination and self-advocacy
- Showcasing evidence-based and effective practices with youth outcome data
- Building and supporting community partnerships

The conference will feature:

- Keynote and feature presentations
- Approximately 80 breakout sessions
- Sessions and activities designed for youth and young adults by the PA Youth Leadership Network
- Family engaging sessions and networking opportunities
- Accommodations and Supports Expo, featuring a hands-on assistive technology exhibits, vendor displays and resource tables

Learner Outcomes

As a result of the conference, participants will be able to:

- Identify and apply the essential elements of effective transition practices, projects, and activities within the following post school outcome areas:
 - ❖ Employment
 - ❖ Healthy Lifestyles, Community Participation, and Independent Living
 - ❖ Postsecondary Education and Training
- Foster and strengthen interagency, family/caregiver, and youth/young adult partnerships
- Identify and apply practices that best prepare youth for careers and further education by improving access to the general education curriculum through improved instruction

Session Topic Descriptors

To assist participants in selecting sessions, topic areas have been identified for each session. As many sessions address multiple topics, the first topic listed best represents the content of the session. Sessions that are considered “Youth Engaging” and/or “Family Engaging” are listed accordingly. These codes are located under each session title.

The major topics of the conference include:

- A Focus on Youth Development & Youth Leadership
- Aligning Accommodations & Supports
- Building Knowledge, Engagement, and Empowerment of Families/Caregivers
- Employment
- Healthy Lifestyles, Independent Living & Community Participation
- Models of Success
- Partnerships
- Post-Secondary Education & Training
- Promoting Success of All Youth by Addressing the Transition Needs
- Transition & Career Assessment
- Unified, Holistic Planning

Credits Offered

Act 48 hours and CRCC credits are offered for all keynote, feature, and breakout sessions. Credits will be offered per day. To receive Act 48 credit, individuals attending this event must arrive on time and stay the duration of the day they are requesting credits.

Act 48 – up to 15 hours; CRCC – up to 15.75 credits

July 20, 2011: Act 48 – 5 hours; CRC – 5.5 hours

July 21, 2011: Act 48 – 6 hours; CRC – 6 hours

July 22, 2011: Act 48 – 4 hours; CRC – 4.25 hours

Conference Features

Keynote and Feature Presentations

Two keynote presentations will address the important topics of youth development and youth leadership and the utilization of a collaborative and integrated approach to successful transition planning. Three feature presentations will focus on the important role health care plays in transition planning, universal design for learning, and the strengths and barriers to secondary transition from the family and young adult perspective.

Sessions Designed by the PA Youth Leadership Network (PYLN)

The PYLN Governing Board is comprised of youth and young adults with disabilities. PYLN members have designed and will lead a number of sessions throughout the conference. These sessions are designed specifically for youth and young adults ages 16-21 who received a scholarship to attend the conference. During the sessions, PYLN members will foster an open dialogue with youth and young adults to assist them in creating, enhancing, or changing important issues that affect their everyday lives including: transition from high school to adult life; policies and practices that affect individuals with disabilities; and inclusion of youth and young adults with disabilities into all aspects of society at the national, state, and local level. The purpose of the PYLN is to develop the self-determination, empowerment, and leadership skills of youth that promotes successful post school outcomes in the areas of education, employment, independent living, and health and wellness among youth and young adults throughout Pennsylvania.

Youth Engaging Sessions

Based upon criteria established by the PYLN, sessions have been designed as “youth engaging” and would be of special interest to youth and young adults. Sessions that are considered “Youth Engaging” are identified under the session title in this brochure.

Family Engaging Sessions

Based upon criteria established by family organizations, sessions have been designed as “family engaging” and would be of special interest to families. Sessions that are considered “Family Engaging” are identified under the session title in this brochure.

Accommodations, Supports and Resources Expo, Reception & Raffle

This interactive, hands-on Expo is designed for participants to learn about specific assistive technology, resources, supports, and services available to youth. Participants can gather valuable information from transition partners, conference presenters, and community resources. Participants can visit the poster sessions presented by the recipients of the Bureau of Special Education Performance Grants – Transition from School to Community-Based Employment for Students with Autism Spectrum Disorders. Opportunities will be provided throughout the conference to earn raffle tickets. On Thursday afternoon, items representative of the Keystone state will be raffled off. You must be present to win at the reception!

Recreation, Leisure, and Activity Fair

Join us Friday morning, July 22nd for an active and engaging recreation, leisure, and activity fair. This event is designed for participants to learn about specific assistive technology, resources, supports, and services available throughout Pennsylvania to assist youth and young adults in maintaining a healthy and enjoyable lifestyle. Attendees can participate in hands-on activities and gather valuable information from transition partners, conference presenters, and community resources.

Feature Presenters

Jonathan R. Pletcher, MD, Assistant Professor, The Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh of UPMC

Dr. Pletcher is a Pediatrician and Adolescent Medicine Specialist who has worked extensively throughout Pennsylvania on issues related to Adolescent and Transitional Health Care. For over a decade, he has been involved with research, advocacy, program development, and direct care for youth with special needs as they transition to adult roles and responsibilities. His experience spans the state, having trained and begun his career at The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. He worked for nearly two years in Allentown with the Lehigh Valley Hospital Network designing and implementing an adolescent health center with a focus on preparing for transition. A native of Pittsburgh, he has been with Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh of UPMC for over a year, continuing to work on ways to prepare and support young adults and families before, during, and after the transfer to adult-oriented health care systems.

Thursday, July 21, 2011 - Feature Presentation – Session 502 (8:30 am–10:00 am) - Navigating the Maze: Transition from Pediatric to Adult Health Care

Lynnae Ruttledge, Commissioner, Rehabilitation Services Administration of the United States

Lynnae M. Ruttledge was appointed to her present position by President Barack Obama and confirmed by the U.S. Senate in December of 2009. Ms. Ruttledge began her public service career in Michigan as a classroom teacher in the public school system. Before her appointment as Commissioner, Ms. Ruttledge served as the Director of the Washington Department of Social and Health Service, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, where she was responsible for leading a program that worked annually with more than 23,000 individuals with significant disabilities to achieve their vocational goals. She has also served in leadership positions at the Oregon Department of Human Services, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation Services. Lynnae has received numerous recognitions and awards, including serving as a Mary E. Switzer Scholar on Emerging Workforce Issues with the National Rehabilitation Association in 2000. She was honored with the Oregon Governor's Award as Disabled Oregonian of the Year in 2000 and with the Washington Governor's Award for Leadership in Management in 2007. From 1988-2009 she served in the Mobility International USA disability rights international exchange programs in China, Russia, New Zealand/Australia, Germany, Zimbabwe, Uzbekistan, Peru, Qatar, Mali, and Canada. As Commissioner of the Rehabilitation Services Administration, Ms. Ruttledge provides national level leadership and serves as a catalyst for change to increase the employment of people with disabilities through more effective partnerships at the federal level.

Wednesday, July 20, 2011 – Opening Keynote Presentation – Session 101 (10:00 am-11:00 am) - Breaking Boundaries-Achieving Goals: An Integrated Approach to Successful Transition

Dr. Frances G. Smith, CVE Coordinator of Technology and Distance Learning with the Virginia Department of Education's Training and Technical Assistance Center/ Affiliate Faculty Member in the School of Education at Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, VA

Dr. Frances (Fran) G. Smith, Certified Vocational Evaluator (CVE) has followed the fields of instructional and assistive technology for the past 20+ years and integrated these approaches in her work as a vocational evaluation practitioner in rehabilitations and secondary public schools, assistive technology provider and trainer, staff development trainer, and college instructor. She earned her Ed.D. from the George Washington University in 2008 for her study "Perceptions of Universal Design for Learning in College Classrooms". She is the co-author of a national position paper, Universal design for learning in vocational evaluation and assessment for the Vocational Evaluation and Career Assessment Professionals Association (VECAP). During the summer of 2001, she attended the Institute on Universal Design for Learning at the Center for Applied Special Technology (CAST). In 2006, she was an invited keynote speaker at the international symposium on Universal Design for Learning (UDL) at UNIFE University, Lima, Peru. In 2007, she was a participant at the first national summit on UDL in Washington, DC and, currently represents (VECAP) on the National Taskforce on UDL and participates on a UDL workgroup for the IDEA Partnership. Fran serves as the Technology Coordinator for the Virginia Department of Education's Training and Technical Assistance Center and an affiliate faculty in the School of Education at Virginia Commonwealth University. She is also a visiting adjunct professor at the George Washington University where she has taught a graduate course in UDL for the Department of Teacher Preparation and Special Education since 2003 and received a grant towards development of this course from the national Faculty Administrative Modules in Education (FAME) project.

Breaking Boundaries – Achieving Goals: An Integrated Approach to Successful Transition

Wednesday, July 20, 2011

10:00 a.m. – 5:15 p.m.

101. Opening Keynote Presentation (10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.)

Breaking Boundaries-Achieving Goals: An Integrated Approach to Successful Transition

During this opening keynote session Commissioner Ruttledge and members of the Pennsylvania Youth Leadership Network will discuss the goals and priorities of the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services and how those goals connect to the current effective practices occurring throughout the United States that enable youth and young adults to achieve their post-secondary goals.

Lynnae Ruttledge, Commissioner Rehabilitation Services Administration

*Pennsylvania Transition State Leadership Team Members
PA Youth Leadership Network Governing Board Members*

Breakout Session 1 (11:15 a.m. – 12:45 p.m.)

201. Dare to be Self-Aware

Youth Leadership & Youth Development [Youth Engaging]

Learn the steps and benefits to becoming self-aware by looking at yourself. Barriers turn to opportunities and difficulties turn to assets while avoiding pitfalls. This session will be interactive. Videos and stories of personal experiences will be shared with participants.

Joe Snyder, Life and Independence for Today

Hope Weichman, Life and Independence for Today

Charlie Williamson, Life and Independence for Today

202. What are Evidence-Based Practices for Transition?

Promoting Success for All Youth [Family Engaging]

The purpose of this session is to enhance the understanding of families and professionals working with transition-age youth regarding the state of the research on best practices in transition and the extent to which practices are evidence-based. Participants will learn about the distinction between evidence-based practices (EBPs) and predictors of post school outcomes. Resources for identifying and implementing EBPs for improving transition-related skills will be provided. Useful resources to assist in identifying and implementing EBPs will be shared.

Audrey Bartholomew, National Secondary Transition Technical Assistance Center

Clare Papay, Arcadia University

203. Aligning Student Outcomes with Assessment Data Transition & Career Assessment [Family Engaging]

In order to better conduct the transition process for students, the presenters will discuss the importance of utilizing student assessment and achievement data to guide the discussion at IEP team meetings when working through "unrealistic" goals for students. Keys to writing summaries that are meaningful and working through the problems that arise when the results of assessments conflict with the goals of the student and family will also be discussed. We will include several theoretical scenarios that will require group participation as well as a participant-driven Q&A.

Susan Grant, Allegheny Intermediate Unit 3

Lisa Kellick, Allegheny Intermediate Unit 3

204. Utilizing Mentorships, Internships, and Portfolios for Transition Activities Models of Success [Family Engaging]

In this session, learn how mentoring, internship experiences and portfolio development are used by the Start on Success program currently in place in the Pittsburgh Public Schools. Participants will have the opportunity to practice applying techniques during this interactive work session.

Crystal Evans, Pittsburgh Public Schools

Ashley McFall, Pittsburgh Public Schools

205. Partnering with Employers: Work - Based Learning
Employment; Partnerships [Family Engaging]

This multimedia presentation will address a non-traditional approach for transition planning. Utilizing a person-centered approach, the presenters will demonstrate how the use of personal artifacts, assessment tools, along with youth and family engagement can lead to successful outcomes for all students.

Sandy Merritt, Astra Zeneca
Bill Silva, Embassy Suites, Newark
Cindy Sterling, Opportunity Center Inc.
Deborah Talley, Opportunity Center Inc.

206. Transition from High School to College
Post-Secondary Education & Training [Family Engaging]
[Youth Engaging]

Topics such as explaining one's disability in laymen terms and the differences between the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA) will be explored in this interactive presentation. Furthermore, accommodation requests in postsecondary education, Social Security benefits, the possibility of procuring vocational rehabilitation funding for tuition and assistive technology, as well as time management and study skills will be addressed.

Christie Gilson, Moravian College
Seth Hoderewski, Lehigh Valley Center for Independent Living

207. PA Bureau of Blindness and Visual Services'
(BBVS) Summer Academy
Models of Success; Unified, Holistic Planning
[Youth Engaging] [Family Engaging]

This session will provide an overview of the Summer Academy for Students who are Blind or Visually Impaired, a program presented by PA BBVS in partnership with PaTTAN. Results of surveys conducted with students who attended the Summer Academy in 2009 and 2010 will be presented. A discussion on student reports and how the information and recommendations can be a part of the students IEP and transition process will also take place during the session.

Debby Holzapfel, Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh
Anne Strollo, Blindness & Visual Services
Stan Swaintek, Blindness & Visual Services
Karen Walsh-Emma, Blindness & Visual Services

208. Toolkit to Build and Sustain Local Collaboratives Partnerships [Family Engaging]

The transition of youth with disabilities is a complex maze, requiring coordination of multiple partners and service delivery systems. To develop a unified approach, communities of practice (CoPs) provide a framework to pave the road to employment for individuals. During this session, participants will be introduced to this learning and change strategy, and examples will be provided. Step-by-step instructions and a toolkit will be provided to help participants form and cultivate local and regional collaboratives.

Joan Kester, The George Washington University, Mid-Atlantic Technical Assistance & Continuing Education Center

209. Overview of the Secondary Transition Process
A Unified Process Series (Transition 101) [Family Engaging]

This informational session is designed for families, caregivers and other "new" conference attendees. The session will provide an introduction to the secondary transition process and related transition services. Participants will receive an outline of the other relevant Transition 101 sessions at this year's conference and will be provided with a guide to resources in Pennsylvania.

Linda Loar, Educational Consultant

210. Students Planning for Their Own Future
Building Knowledge, Engagement, and Empowerment of Families/Caregivers; Models of Success; Post-Secondary Education & Training [Youth Engaging] [Family Engaging]

Is transition a process that is being done to students? Are young people meaningfully engaged in planning for their future and working toward their own goals? ACT Now is a project of the Berks County Transition Coordinating Council that is funded by the PA Developmental Disabilities Council. The project prepares young people to make informed decisions about their own future, through collaboration with their families, schools and community. To make informed choices, students need to understand their interests, aptitudes and skills, as well as the resources available to them. Students also need explicit instruction and many opportunities to practice decision making, action planning and problem solving skills. In this session, materials and strategies that empower students to be actively engaged in planning for their own future will be shared.

Lavinia Garcia Ritter, ACT Now Grant
Jaelyn Kratzer, Abilities in Motion
Mary Mazzoni, Berks County Intermediate Unit/ACT Now Grant
Erin Webb, Kutztown Area School District

211. Career Portfolios With “I” Statements: Personalizing Transition Planning
Transition & Career Assessment [Family Engaging]

The intent of this session is to present a useful portfolio tool with outcome statements that teachers and counselors may use with students at any grade level to enhance their career maturity and transition planning. An additional outcome of this session will be to demonstrate how the written “I” statements can be used to integrate the Career Education and Work Standards into the curriculum to enhance effective transition planning for students with disabilities.

Michael Thompson, Central Penn College

212. Taking the First Step: Welcome to the Conference - Youth and Young Adult
Orientation Session {PA Youth Leadership
Network Sponsored} (Designed for Youth Only)
Youth Leadership & Youth Development [Youth Engaging]

The PYLN will host this informational session to familiarize the youth and young adults with the conference. This session will include discussions about the youth engaging sessions and other activities planned throughout this year's conference. This session will also describe the PYLN, introduce the governing board members, and allow youth to check out what's new with the PYLN.

PA Youth Leadership Network Representatives

Lunch: (12:45 p.m. – 1:45 p.m.)

Breakout Session 2
(2:00 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.)

301. PA Youth Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) Transition
Program – Youth, Ages 15-19
*A Focus on Youth Development & Youth Leadership; Healthy
Lifestyles, Independent Living & Community Participation;
Transition & Career Assessment [Family Engaging] [Youth
Engaging]*

Youth, ages 15 to 19, is one of the two age groups at the highest risk for TBI. There is increased risk for mild brain injury from recreational or sports injuries, which, if not properly diagnosed, can result in learning, emotional, or social impairments that may ultimately affect the youth's success in life. Appropriate identification and screening could result in more timely and appropriate interventions that can, in many cases, help the youth and his/her family get back on course, or be more informed about altering their direction in life, rather than letting the child's life direction be determined by misunderstood failures and/or disappointments.

Symme Trachtenberg, The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia

302. Pennsylvania's Intellectual Disability/Mental Retardation System: An Overview
*Building Knowledge, Agency Information (Transition 101)
[Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]*

This session offers family members a description of how the Pennsylvania Intellectual Disability/Mental Retardation system works and the resources it offers. Presenters will give guidance on navigating the process.

The PA Training Partnership for People with Disabilities and Families

303. Project Search + Team Meetings = SUCCESS
Models of Success [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

Project Search is a one-year internship program for students with disabilities in their last year of high school. In Allegheny County, University of Pittsburgh Medical Center (UPMC), as employer, partners with participating school districts, Goodwill of Southwestern PA, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR), and Allegheny County Department of Human Services, Office of Intellectual Disability. This session highlights the impact monthly team meetings between Project Search partners has had on the success of participating students from the Elizabeth Forward School District.

*Mike Huber, Elizabeth Forward School District
Holly Opatick, Goodwill of Southwestern Pennsylvania*

304. I Led My Own Transition Team Meeting
Youth Development & Youth Leadership [Family Engaging]

Developing self-advocacy and self-determination skills are essential components of transition planning for young adults with intellectual disabilities. Join this panel of young adults, their support staff, and administrators as they discuss their successful experiences in leading their own team meetings.

*Kelvin Altemose, Lehigh University
Julie Beaulieu, Young Adult
Will Gomes, Young Adult
Dolly Hoffman, Lehigh University
Amanda Helman, Lehigh University
Freya Koger, Lehigh University
Melissa Lentz, Parent
Noel Lentz, Young Adult*

305. Youth and Family Driven Community Supports and Services through High Fidelity Wraparound (HFW) and the Child and Adolescent Service System Program (CASSP)

Healthy Lifestyles, Independent Living & Community Participation [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

Collaboration and cooperation are two essential elements needed for successful support of youth and their families. HFW and CASSP are based on these elements. This session will describe HFW and CASSP and provide participants with suggestions on how to encourage collaboration and cooperation in your county, local community and schools. The session will also emphasize working closely with youth and families to identify and build on their strengths to meet the critical needs they have identified while building close working relationships with various system partners and natural support systems.

*Sheila Bressler, Berks County MH/MR Program
Shannon Fagan, Youth and Family Training Institute*

306. HGAC: Transitioning from the IEP to a Successful IPE

Post-Secondary Education & Training; Agency Information (Transition 101) [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

As part of the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) referral, the customer's IEP (Individual Educational Plan) is used as part of the process to determine eligibility for service. After the customer meets OVR eligibility criteria and is accepted for services, an Individual Plan for Employment (IPE) is developed. Part of that plan may be a referral to the Hiram G. Andrews Center (HGAC) for educational, vocational and rehabilitative services that will help the customer in achieving his or her goals in the IPE. This presentation will be provided in panel form made up of HGAC staff, as well as a HGAC student/OVR customer.

*Jill Moriconi, Hiram G. Andrews
Karen Sunday, Hiram G. Andrews
Darlene Seals, Hiram G. Andrews*

307. Reality Check: Navigating the Bumpy Road to Adulthood

Employment [Family Engaging]

Elwyn Institute has developed a non-traditional Career Supports model program. It combines working with schools, parents, the Social Security Ticket to Work Program and an ongoing Career Curriculum Series once a student has graduated.

*Ellen Thomas, Elwyn
Joseph Gousie, Elwyn*

308. Show me the Evidence! Work Experience Programs Employment [Family Engaging]

The most predictive factor regarding post-school employment of youth with disabilities is their participation in work experience programs during high school. While we have many work-based experience (paid and unpaid) programs, how do we know if the design is effective? This session will be a facilitated dialogue about best practices in designing programs to ensure we use data to drive the process.

Joan Kester, The George Washington University, Mid-Atlantic Technical Assistance & Continuing Education Center

309. An Overview of PA's Indicator 13 and 14 Process A Unified Process Series (Transition 101) [Family Engaging]

This session will provide an overview of the Indicator 13 and 14 processes in Pennsylvania. The Indicator 13 model in Pennsylvania includes the process of incorporating age-appropriate transition assessments with a focus on post-school goals in developing measurable annual IEP goals and transition services. Information regarding the outcome data from Pennsylvania's past cohort years as well as details regarding the training plan for Cohort year # 4 targeted local education agencies will be provided. This session will also offer interested stakeholders information regarding the focus on accountability for results that "ensure a bright and successful future for all youth with disabilities" and will ensure that Pennsylvania meets the Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP) Indicator 14 reporting requirements.

*John Cica, Educational Consultant
Rosemary Nilles, Pennsylvania Training & Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh
Michael Stoehr, Pennsylvania Training & Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh*

310. Engaging Parents in the Transition Journey Building Knowledge, Engagement, and Empowerment of Families/Caregivers; Models of Success [Family Engaging]

The ACT Now Grant is a project of the Berks County Transition Coordinating Council that is funded by the PA Developmental Disabilities Council. The project prepares young people to make informed decisions about their future, through collaboration with their families, schools and community. A key component of this intensive project is to provide families with information on transition planning so that parents and caregivers can support their youth with disabilities as they transition to adult life. Presenters will describe how the project has collaborated with multiple community partners to address the needs of parents and caregivers. Participants will learn about a variety of innovative replicable strategies and event formats to engage and inform parents and youth in the transition process. These strategies and event formats have been developed and adapted with the input of family members.

Lavinia Garcia Ritter, ACT Now Grant
Jaclyn Kratzer, Abilities in Motion
Mary Mazzoni, Berks County Intermediate Unit/ACT Now Grant
Cissy McKeon, Act Now Grant

311. Youth Leadership {PA Youth Leadership Network Sponsored} (Designed for Youth Only)
Youth Leadership & Youth Development [Youth Engaging]

Youth and young adults attending this year's conference will have the opportunity to participate in one of three interactive presentations during breakout sessions two and three. Topics discussed during these afternoon sessions include self-determination, goal setting, and healthy relationships.

PA Youth Leadership Network Representatives

Breakout Session 3
(3:45 p.m. – 5:15 p.m.)

401. Transition Coordination: What Works!
Models of Success [Family Engaging]

The purpose of this panel discussion is to provide participants with information on how Pittsburgh Public Schools uses innovative, creative, and individualized services to help promote successful transition of students with disabilities to adult life.

Crystal Evans, Pittsburgh Public Schools
Rachel Whealdon, Pittsburgh Public Schools

402. Self-Advocacy
Youth Development & Youth Leadership [Youth Engaging]

This interactive session for people with disabilities defines self-advocacy and explains an individual's rights, when and how to speak up so one will be listened to, and the importance of self-advocacy.

The PA Training Partnership for People with Disabilities and Families

403. Building Bridges to Employment through Effective Agency Collaboration
Employment; Partnerships [Family Engaging]

The Pennsylvania Office of Vocational Rehabilitation – Pittsburgh District Office (OVR) and Allegheny County's Office of Intellectual Disability (OID) are committed stakeholders in the successful post-secondary employment outcomes of many shared individuals, transition-age and beyond. This session will provide information about the background, benefits, and processes of interagency collaboration between OVR and OID. Attendees will be able to apply the information presented to replicate similar collaboration models, with an ultimate goal of achieving seamless transition for consumers utilizing employment services.

Stacey Matthias, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Chris Rodocker, Allegheny County Office of Intellectual Disabilities

404. From Dreams to Employment Realities: An Overview of the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR)
Employment [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

Competitive employment is the dream of many youth and young adults with disabilities in Pennsylvania. This session will provide participants with information regarding the services and supports offered through OVR and will familiarize participants with each step to receiving OVR services from applying for services thru case closure.

Rich Fischer, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Stan Swaintek, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Lynn Zale, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

407. HGAC's Assistive Technology Center: Breaking Technology Barriers

Aligning Accommodations & Supports; Agency Information [Family Engaging]

At this session, learn about the newly developed, innovative Assistive Technology Center at Hiram G. Andrews Center (HGAC). At the Assistive Technology Center, an individual with a disability can be evaluated and trained on the effective use of their assistive technology equipment to increase skill, productivity, and usability of equipment. Enhanced employability is the ultimate focus of this program.

*Roger Little, University of Pittsburgh
Anne Yurcisin, Hiram G. Andrews Center*

408. Writing Standards-Aligned Measurable Annual Goals for the IEP

Promoting Success for All Youth [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

Federal requirements for IEPs for students ages 14 and older include “coordinated, measurable, annual IEP goals, and transition services that will lead to post-secondary goals.” Measurable annual goals aligned to Pennsylvania Academic Standards for reading and/or math are required for students who will take the PSSA-M, and are recommended as effective practice for all students. This session will review, in detail, the process for developing standards-aligned measurable annual academic goals that contain the four required components: condition, student name, clearly defined behavior, and performance criteria. Participants will practice writing one or more standards-aligned measurable annual goals based on clearly identified present levels of academic performance.

Rosemary Nilles, Pennsylvania Training & Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh

409. Youth Leadership {PA Youth Leadership Network Sponsored} (Designed for Youth Only)

Youth Leadership & Youth Development [Youth Engaging]

Youth and young adults attending this year’s conference will have the opportunity to participate in one of three interactive presentations during breakout sessions two and three. Topics discussed during these afternoon sessions include self-determination, goal setting, and healthy relationships.

Breaking Boundaries-Achieving Goals: Ensuring Healthy Transitions for All Youth and Young Adults

Thursday, July 21, 2011
8:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Feature Presentation (8:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.)

501. Expanding Career Options through Universal Design for Learning Transition & Career Assessment [Family Engaging]

Using the framework of Universal Design for Learning (UDL), this presentation will demonstrate how the melding of the process of career assessment and effective UDL instructional strategies, coupled with portable, digital, and social media technologies can be used to reduce barriers to employment opportunities. The presenters will share the innovative practices, technology tools developed, and targeted UDL approaches that enabled youth to become more independent at their community work sites. Hear from students, families, and volunteers on how virtual Career Coach mentoring impacts student's career opportunities.

Lynn Dowd, CareerWorks, Inc.
Lindsay Harris, PHILLIPs Programs, Annandale School
Dr. Fran G. Smith, Virginia Commonwealth University

502. Navigating the Maze: Transition from Pediatric to Adult Health Care Healthy Lifestyles, Independent Living & Community Participation [Family Engaging]

As youth transition into adulthood, the primary goal from a health care perspective is for the young person and his/her family to learn to manage his/her health condition, access needed services and resources, and to live in the community as independently as possible with skill and self-confidence. In this feature presentation, Dr. Pletcher will present ideas and practices developed through his clinical experiences. Issues such as planning for transition, coping with changing health care providers, identifying the 'right' adult-oriented provider, and navigating the myriad changes to health care and insurance systems will be highlighted.

Jonathan Pletcher, MD, The Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh of UPMC

503. Been There, Done That: A Transition Discussion from Young Adults and Family Members Who Have Navigated Through the Process

This facilitated discussion will feature insights regarding the secondary transition process and the realities of life after high school. Presenting on this session's panel will be three young adults with varying disabilities and their family members. Information will be provided regarding the strengths and limitations of services and supports provided during the various stages of transition, along with suggestions for tools and strategies that lead to success in adulthood.

706. Cognitive Skills Enhancement Program for Transition - Age Youth

Models of Success (Family Engaging)

Learn about the Cognitive Skills Enhancement Program (CSEP), a collaboration between the Hiram G. Andrews Center (HGAC) and the University of Pittsburgh Department of Rehabilitation Science and Technology. CSEP is based on the literature and models of cognitive rehabilitation, including Prigatano and Ben-Yishay. The individual program components are evidence-based or promising practices. Through a model that includes an evidence matrix, clinicians are able to organize and critically evaluate disability and rehabilitation evidence. Various aspects of CSEP have potential to be replicated in a variety of community-based rehabilitation settings.

*Jessica Bottorff, Hiram G. Andrews Center
Sara Gales, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Jamie Schutte, University of Pittsburgh*

707. BrainSTEPS: Transitioning Youth with Brain Injuries

Promoting Success for All Youth [Family Engaging]

The PA BrainSTEPS Brain Injury School Program has been working with school districts to actively and accurately identify and classify students with brain injuries so that students receive the correct cognitive supports and compensatory strategies. The goal of this statewide program is to ensure that all children with acquired brain injuries receive optimal best practices in educational programming, strategies, and transition services for positive outcomes. Objectives focus on connecting educational, medical, and rehab facilities, community and government agencies, and families, by having them serve together on regional Intermediate Unit brain injury consulting teams.

*Brenda Eagan Brown, BrainSTEPS Program
Sarah Krusen, Bucks County Intermediate Unit 22*

708. Solving Ethical Dilemmas in Transition Partnerships [Family Engaging]

This session will provide an overview of ethical situations faced by transition stakeholders when serving youth and young adults with disabilities. Important topics such as confidentiality, disability disclosure, and youth empowerment will be discussed. Be prepared to discuss ethical dilemmas you face in your everyday work.

809. Successful College Writing: Assistive Technology and Adaptive Strategies Accommodations & Supports; Post-Secondary Education & Training

The skills needed to successfully outline, organize, and produce a well-written college paper can be accommodated through a variety of universally available tools supported by a little assistive strategy. As students in transition evolve into the next phase of their academic career, they are often overwhelmed by the stringent expectations that are placed upon them regarding their need to generate cohesive and relevant written content. Students find themselves in a place where research, grammar, verb-agreement, structure, referencing methods, and time management all become an enhanced struggle. This interactive session will outline a few key areas in which assistive technology (and universal software) can combine with individualized adaptive strategies and training, to improve and expand on all aspects of academic writing.

1004. Success in Transition Employment Partnership (STEP) Collaboration
Partnerships; Mental Health [Family Engaging]

This session will provide information regarding the innovative collaboration between school, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR), and human services agencies. The STEP program focuses on ensuring successful transitions for high school students with a diagnosis of behavioral or emotional issues.

Alexandra Krynski, Pittsburgh Public Schools

1005. Exploring Resources for Families: A Round Table Discussion of the Secondary Transition Folder
Transition: A Unified Process Series (Transition 101) [Family Engaging]

During this interactive session, families and caregivers will review and discuss the resource materials for students and families that are contained in the PA Department of Education Secondary Transition Folder. The comments and suggestions gathered during this session will be utilized to further develop secondary transition resources for youth and families.

Judy Baker, Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh

David Berquist, Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh

James Palmiero, Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network, Pittsburgh

1006. Family Fun Feeling Fit

Healthy Lifestyles, Independent Living & Community Participation [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

Special Needs is a broad term encompassing a range of physical, physiological, behavioral, cognitive, and/or developmental conditions. Obesity is of special concern. For some, the added weight can make it more difficult to maintain or improve movement and overall physical function. Furthermore, a stigma remains attached to obesity, representing yet another “difference” from other youth, resulting in youth feeling further ostracized from their peer group. In the long run, secondary health conditions develop as a result of obesity or excessive weight, causing further complications to existing conditions.

Edeoma Ekeleme-Washington, Baby Steps to Healthy Living
Zaire Whaley, Baby Steps to Healthy Living

1007. Dating and Relationships

Healthy Lifestyles, Independent Living & Community Participation [Family Engaging] [Youth Engaging]

Learn about the ins and outs of dating and relationships. Participants will learn about ways to be safe while on the dating scene. Resources for teenagers on the topic of dating will also be provided.

Christie Gilson, Moravian College
Robbie Graves, Lehigh Valley Center for Independent Living

1008. Youth Leadership {PA Youth Leadership Network Sponsored} (Designed for Youth Only) Youth Leadership & Youth Development [Youth Engaging]

During this morning’s sessions youth and young adults will be participating in the Recreation, Leisure, and Activity Fair and will engage in a wrap-up session to discuss their plans for this coming school year and will make plans to stay in contact with youth they met at the conference. This session is designed for youth and young adults only.

PA Youth Leadership Network Representatives

Closing Keynote Presentation 12:00 p.m. – 1:15 p.m.

1101. Youth Taking Action: Breaking Boundaries – Achieving Goals

Too often transitioning youth have things done to and for them with little engagement on their part. This closing keynote presentation will focus on how youth and the adults that support them, can further develop self determination and self advocacy strategies that will assist them in reaching their goals for full participation, economic self-sufficiency, equality of opportunity, and independent living. This session will highlight our youth and young adult participants from this year’s conference.
