Rector's Reflections

November "Pledges"

The word "pledge" has come to mean for many Episcopalians, including those of us at Grace Church, a formal, written declaration of the amount of money we will give to the parish in the calendar year ahead. Our stewardship leadership hopes all those who consider Grace to be their church will fill out a pledge card and return it (electronically, in person or in the mail) by Sunday, November 8. All of our pledges will be blessed as a part of our liturgies on November 15.

This annual process guides the Vestry in preparing a yearly budget. Almost 90% of our budget is funded by our pledges. This year's stewardship letter, "The Gift of Joy and Wonder," and the title of the pledge card, "A Giving Community," remind us that to pledge literally means "a solemn promise" and "something given to guarantee the fulfillment of an obligation."

Each year our pledge campaign is supported by the many celebrations we share reminding us of our continuity with those who have inspired us by their giving, their sacrifice, their sense of obligation, their thanksgiving, their love.

Of course, it starts with All Saints. We remember all those faithful men and women who through history have shown us God's love. The Saints comprise a great "cloud of witnesses"; they are truly those who have shared "the gift of joy and wonder" in following Jesus.

A short time later, we celebrate Veterans Day. Our veterans, past and present, make up "a giving community," dedicated to peace and justice and the defense of our nation. We are so blessed to have a number of active-duty service men and women, as well as retired veterans, in our parish. In times of peace and in times of war, they witness to sacrifice and to devotion and to duty.

On Thanksgiving Day we continue this celebration of gifts; the gifts of all creation, the gift of this nation, the gift of family and friends. Eucharist means thanksgiving, specifically giving thanks for Christ and the sacrament of Holy Communion, "the bread of life and the cup of salvation."

The Church’s liturgical year ends with the Feast of Christ the King, November 22, and then, starts anew on the first Sunday of Advent, November 29. These liturgical celebrations anchor us to the gift of Jesus, our Lord and Savior, who has promised to be with us always.

Our parish life is rich and full during this month. I hope each of us will participate by making sacrificial, joyful pledges and by sharing in these wonderful liturgical celebrations. Giving is at the heart of all we believe. As God gives so abundantly to us, we can respond with our gifts to help Grace Church continue to be a life-changing community.

*Grace, Peace, Love,
The Rev. Robert H. Malm*

From the Assistant to the Rector

Paul wrote in his first letter to the church in Thessalonica, “...encourage each other and build each other up, just as you are already doing. (5:11)” I think that the community of believers in Thessalonica was much like Grace Church, Alexandria in that they had a dynamic worshipping core and cared for one another. Friendship helped them weather the storms of persecution that threatened them – they supported one another in their faith and leaned on one another for strength and courage. I am sure that they would have faced the joys and hardships of life with the same steadfastness, drawing from their faith as witness to Christ’s love, healing power, and mercy.

On November 21, we will offer a day of retreat for the women of Grace Church. The focus will be on friendship: Biblical stories of women who were friends with one another and with Jesus Christ. My hope is that this will be a time of reflection for us on the way our relationships at Grace sustain us and how we might go deeper as friends in our faith journey together.

We will be led in our reflections by Susan Sevier, a deeply gifted singer, performer, and storyteller, who recently graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary. She will be leading us in storytelling, bringing the experiences of women in the Bible alive into our own experience of friendship and faith in community.

*I look forward to our time together!
The Rev. Leslie Steffensen*

From The Assistant for Parish Life and Family Ministries: Celebrating Simply

We're about to begin the holiday season. I love the excitement and fun of this season, the time focused on family, and the drama of Advent and the story of the Christ child.

But it is an easy time of year to lose focus on the important things, to get overwhelmed by preparations, shopping and even a full party calendar! By the second week of Advent, I always see so many people who are exhausted and stressed. For those of us who are students with final exams at this time of year, that's understandable. But for those of us who aren't in school, it would be really nice if this time of year didn't feel so much like exam week!

As you begin to prepare for the holidays, I want to share an interesting website Mother Leslie pointed out to me two years ago called Advent Conspiracy (www.adventconspiracy.org). The group that runs this website and the Advent Conspiracy program try to offer an alternative to the frenzy and also the excessive spending that can go on during this season.

Advent Conspiracy has 4 points: Worship Fully, Spend Less, Give More, and Love All.

Worship Fully – Remember why this season exists. Take part in and love the services of Advent and Christmas, from Advent I, to the Christmas Pageant, to Christmas Eve. Savor the beauty and wonder of the story of God coming to earth as a human child.

Spend Less – Try to not let shopping define the season. Choose a few gifts your friends and family will really value. This allows you to use more of your time and resources in other ways this season.

Give More – Give more of yourself. Give the gift of quality time with family and friends. Give of yourself in love and service to others, including those in need.

Love All – In a season that focuses so much on family, remember those in our community who may be lonely, forgotten, or suffering. Volunteer to make and serve a meal, or visit sick or homebound people, such as some of our Grace Church members. Use some of the money you saved from shopping and give to charitable organizations.

When I first visited Advent Conspiracy's website, I felt as though it seemed kind of minimal. But then I realized that is the point! They didn't create a new kind of to-do list for the Christmas season; they are offering a simpler alternative. So this holiday season, consider stepping back and treasuring the simplicity of loving, giving, and celebrating the simple wonder of our newborn God.

*In Christ,
The Rev. Elizabeth Locher*

Fall Back

Daylight Saving Time ends at 2:00 am on Sunday, November 1. Set your clocks back one hour before you go to bed on Saturday, October 31 to get to church at the right time!

Graceful Worship: Clergy Visitation

Last month I wrote about Lay Eucharistic Ministers (LEMs) and, as part of that article, I touched on the privilege of visiting the sick and shut-ins who cannot come to church. That got me to wondering what members of the clergy do when they visit us that is different from what LEMs do. I was visited when I was in the hospital but, to be honest, I wasn't in any condition to take notes. So I asked Father Malm to enlighten me.

The Order of Worship that is used is "Ministration to the Sick," found on page 453 of the Book of Common Prayer. There are three parts to the service: Ministry of the Word, Laying on of Hands and Anointing, and Holy Communion. One or more parts of the service can be used.

A lay person can lead the Ministry of the Word; however, the confession and absolution change. A priest may listen to a general confession or a special confession, and will then grant absolution to the penitent. A lay person will say the general confession with the person who is visited, and will request a generic absolution, substituting "us" for "you" and "our" for "your."

A priest will lay hands upon the sick person and say a prayer for healing and blessing. The priest will then anoint the person with oil. At Grace, we have three small vials for anointing, and they come in a portable container with a small stole. A lay person may lay hands upon the sick person, but may not do any anointing.

For Holy Communion the priest has two choices. The priest can bring some of the reserved Sacrament (the bread only) in a pyx (a small round brass container) in the same way as a LEM will do, and will say a shortened version of the Eucharist. But the priest can instead choose to consecrate the elements at the time of the visit, saying the full Eucharistic service. At Grace, we have a portable Eucharistic set in a small box. It contains two bottles, a chalice, a paten, a spoon and a small stole.

Ministering to the sick and shut-in is an important part of Grace Church's ministry of Pastoral Care. I know how much it meant to me when I was visited, and I try to keep it in mind when I visit others.

Evangelism

I have had many conversations over the years at Foyer dinners, in committee meetings, at coffee after church and just hanging around with Grace Church people. Very often the conversation turns to, “How I came to Grace Church.” What these conversations have in common is the love of and excitement about our church. We talk about family, worship, the chance to serve others, and the feeling of belonging. We think we have the Best! Church! Ever!

So it follows that when someone visits our church, we draw them in and encourage them to be a part of this wonderful community. Well, actually, we often don't. We have our small children, our committee work, our worship job—choir, acolyte, LEM, reader, altar guild. We need to talk to people at coffee hour. We run to teach Sunday school or do choir warm up. Those new people? Someone else will talk to them. Or maybe we tried to talk to a new person who wasn't really new. “Hi, are you new to Grace?” “No, I've been here 30 years.” And you feel like an idiot. I've done it, so I know.

I have some suggestions:

- Does the person in the pew in front of you, whom you've never seen before, look like they know what they are doing? Or are they looking furtively around trying to figure it out? Maybe move to sit with them; hand them a prayer book or hymnal when they need it.
- When you go to coffee hour, if there is someone there that you have never seen or not seen in a while, introduce yourself. Say, “Hi, I've never met you. I'm _____.” Or, “Is this your regular service? I haven't met you before.”
- When you greet a new person at coffee hour, introduce them to others standing around.

If you think you would be interested in being involved in a more deliberate effort to bring new people into our parish life, please contact me at lorna.worley@gracealex.org, or Mother Elizabeth at elizabeth.locher@gracealex.org. We would like to make it a parish wide effort, but we can start with you.

Enlarging our parish family is done one person at a time and it's not just the clergy's responsibility. We make Grace that church we love and are excited about.

Lorna Worley, Evangelism

Grace Episcopal School

Thank you to Grace Church and Fr. Malm for celebrating National Episcopal Schools Week with Grace School at the 9 am service on October 18. We were delighted to share the morning with the whole Grace community and live out the words of Psalm 133: “Behold, how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell in unity!”

Please plan to join the school at our annual GALA on Saturday, November 7. For more details, contact office@graceschoolalex.org.

From the Library

When Pope Francis was in Washington in September, he spoke to Congress about three men and one woman that he called “representatives of the American people.” They were Abraham Lincoln, Dorothy Day, Martin Luther King, Jr. and Thomas Merton. He described them as “four individuals and four dreams: Lincoln, liberty; Martin Luther King, liberty in plurality and non-exclusion; Dorothy Day, social justice and the rights of persons; and Thomas Merton, the capacity for dialogue and openness to God.”

Food Pantry News

Many thanks to all who have dropped off items for the bonus shelves in the food pantry. Toiletries are especially appreciated by our clients. And thanks also to the wonderful food pantry angels who continue to contribute financially. Your donations are THE reason we can keep the pantry open and serve those in need in our neighborhood.

We have been blessed by a special delivery lately. Instead of normal birthday gifts, several children from Grace School and Grace Church asked their friends to bring food items for the food pantry as gifts. Great bonus items and a true Christian spirit!

Another blessing has come from donations of food from the ALIVE! Food Center, a converted warehouse on South Payne Street. The building space was made available by the Alexandria City Council, in collaboration with Hunger Free Alexandria, for use by Alive! and other food providers as a storage center for donated food. The warehouse opened by receiving $23,000 of free non-perishable items from Whole Foods on Duke Street. Grace Church, as part of the Hunger Free Alexandria campaign, benefitted substantially from this donation by receiving some of this food. Remember that big pallet of food inside the church entrance? This donation really helped to stretch our food pantry budget!

We will have many crafts including making Moravian stars and gift boxes, painting Christmas ornaments, and wreath-making. Advent devotionals for adults and families will also be available, along with Advent Calendars! If you'd like to make an Advent wreath with fresh greens, please sign up by November 15 by emailing Mother Elizabeth at elizabeth.locher@gracealex.org or signing one of the sign-up sheets that will be posted around the building.

Grace Christmas Pageant – December 13!

Grace Church's annual Christmas Pageant will take place on December 13 at 5 pm! All children and youth are welcome to take part, and can learn more from their Sunday school teachers or by contacting Mother Elizabeth (elizabeth.locher@gracealex.org). Adults are very welcome, too! We are looking for volunteers to help with everything from rehearsals to costumes to snacks, so please contact Mother Elizabeth to join in the fun!

Stewardship: The Gift of Joy and Wonder

2016 Pledges

The pledge campaign for 2016 began on Sunday, October 4, with a festive brunch, jazz, and pledge cards handed out. Those who didn't attend the 10:15 am celebration were mailed pledge cards and a letter introducing this year's theme, "The Gift of Joy and Wonder" and explaining "proportional giving."

We hope all pledges will be returned by mail, electronically at www.gracealex.org/pledge, or in the Sunday offering in time to be blessed on Sunday, November 15. After the 15th, the Stewardship Committee will contact parishioners who haven't yet pledged. We need every active parishioner to pledge generously to meet our hopes for the 2016 Budget.

2015 Budget

Contribution statements for the three-quarter mark of the year are available for pick-up in the Merrow Hall foyer. We started the year with a deficit budget, and our expenses continue to exceed our income for 2015. We need a strong finish to 2015 income during the last two months of the year.

The Vestry has reduced the expense budget and sought additional income to help reduce the deficit. Normally November and December are very strong income months as parishioners complete their pledges and with the special Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings.
