PERSONALS

Mrs. Bernice Nickels is teaching in the Ancho school.

Carpenter J. F. Tom put on a new roof in Capitan this week.

Gene W. Dow is assisting at the local postoffice for a few days.

Adolph Sultemier and Harry Ryberg of Corona were here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Downs of Portales were business visitors here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Merchant of Capitan attended the State Fair at Albuquerque last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hust of Capitan were visitors here Monday and made this office a friendly call.

Meyer Barnett, guard at the Fort Stanton Nazi camp, spent Saturday here, visiting his family.

Mrs. Sabino Vidaurri, who has been visiting relatives and friends in California, is expected home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Bren-ton have returned from Albuquerque, where they attended the state fair.

Mrs. Nelle Day of Glencoe, former county school Supt., was a business visitor here the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Pinkey Ruth Rickerson has been ill for the past few days. Pinkey Ruth is stenographer to Attorney John E. Hall.

Mrs. Ethel Maez, former assistant to the county Treasurer, has moved to Alamogordo, where her husband is employed on the air base.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller and small son Jackie of Roswell were week end guests of Jack Cleghorn—Mrs. Keller is the former Miss Ida Cleghorn, Jack's daughter.

Harry Ryberg of Corona was here on business the last of the week, Harry making this office a pleasant visit while in town. He also said he had opened a grocery store at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Collier left the last of the week for Phoenix, Arizona, they being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Goodson during their short stay here. Mr. Collier is a brother to Mrs. Goodson.

Stockman H. O. Smith of the Capitan country was here the last of the week; H. O. was a pleasant caller at this office while in town, showing us a humorous clipping referring to himself taken by the Health City Sun from the Carrizozo Outlook.

Cattle Growers Mad at OPA Regulations

(New Mexico State Record)
The New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, through its executive committee, today was on record as condemning the OPA's handling of the meat rationing program, and asking that control of the entire program be shifted to the war meat board.

Approximately 200 of the association's membership were present at the meeting, which passed a resolution asking what was called "relief from bureaucratic dictation" of their industry.

The resolution also stated that OPA's policies had resulted in a critical meat shortage both for the armed forces and for civilians. The meeting voiced opposition to the government taking over 512,000 acres in Otero county for the Guadalupe gunnery range, and heard Governor Dempsey assail what he called "government by directives." The governor hit especially at the OPA and urged the cattlemen to see that Congress never gives any agency more power than congress itself has.

Ray Salas Dead

Ray Salas 23 of San Patricio, N. M., died September 30, 1934 in Los Angeles, Calif. Death was due to heart ailment. The body was taken to San Patricio for funeral services. He is survived by his father Pabalo Salas and two brothers Teofilo and Fermín Salas, all of San Patricio.

Postmaster and Mrs. J. L. Graves of Nogal were here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Miller and small son of Nogal were here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dale and son Elmo of Ancho were visitors Monday of this week.

Ware Brazel, foreman of the Foster ranch, 30 miles east of Corona, spent a few days of this week with his family here.

To Lon Atkinson of Atkinson's Garage in Corona—Your valued favor of recent date received and will be coming up soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cathey and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Price Miller of Ancho were shoppers in town the first of the week.

Corp. Albert Roberts of the Air base in Albuquerque spent several days here the last of the week, visiting his wife and local friends.

Mrs. C. T. Owens of Birmingham, Ala., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Winzell Rickerson last week. Mrs. Owens is Winzell's sister. She left for her home Tuesday.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sargent of Santa Fe on Oct. 3, a boy, the future airplane pilot has been named Jack, Jr. Mrs. Sargent is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kelt.—Congratulations!

Otto Prehm of the U. S. Navy, now located in Virginia, is home for a few days this week to visit his mother and his many Carrizozo friends. Otto looks well and likes the service very much. Otto's Petty Officer, second class, located at Camp Perry, near Richmond, Va.

Lincoln County Proud of Results In Third War Loan

Lincoln County may be justly proud of its showing for the Third War Loan Drive. Lincoln County's quota was $108,000, and of this amount $52,000 was to be "E" Bonds. Issuing agents report as follows: Lincoln County Agency $27,450. "E"; Carrizozo P. O. $9,712.50 "E"; Capitan P. O. $9,187.50 "E"; Ruidoso P. O. $7,199.75 "E"; Ft. Stanton P. O. $2,971.25 "E"; Corona P. O. $2,110.00 "E"; Ancho P. O. $1,181.25 "E"; San Patricio P. O. $131.25 "E"; a total "E" bond sale of $59,948.50. This is $7,948.50 over our "E" bond quota. Lincoln County Agency also handled subscriptions for $6,000. 2 per cent; $17,000. 7-8 per cent; $7,600. G's; $3,256 F's; the State Treasurer credited Lincoln County with $20,000. State purchase giving Lincoln County a Grand Total of $113,699.50 sales. Figures are not on hand to credit sales to localities in an equitable manner at the present time. What figures we do have

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lovelace of their ranch across the Malpais were here on business Wednesday.

Mrs. Nellie Day, former county superintendent was here from her home in Glencoe last Saturday attending to some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Pope of Houston, Texas, came in yesterday morning to visit their son, Granville Pope at Fort Stanton during which time they will make some business arrangements.

To Mrs. Edna S. King of Glencoe—Your communication received and many thanks. Mrs. King is the originator of King's Cherry Cider, the more you drink, the more you want (and the less you have)

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Peebles of Alto have word from their son Lawrence, who is somewhere in Australia. Lawrence is in the 1125th Air Corps, and is an M. P. in the service. He likes the country and its people.

$1,200,000 Treasury Bond Rally in 90 Minutes

Sponsoring one of the largest and most colorful War Bond rallies in Wall Street's history, members of the New York Curb Exchange, under the leadership of their president, Fred C. Moffatt, sold more than a million dollars of Treasury Bonds in 90 minutes. Leading professional athletes in the War Bond drive, Mel Ott (top left), manager of the N. Y. He also wears the Distinguished Service Cross and was wounded in World War II. Another contribution to the war effort, the Curb Exchange originated—five months before Pearl Harbor—a War Bond purchase plan which enables employees to buy Treasury Bonds with Exchange advanced money which they repay in weekly salary deductions.

OPA Swivel Chair Dictatorship

(Industrial News Review)
The American people have read in recent news reports that the OPA has filed complaints against certain of the nation's large variety store companies, charging that they are in violation of MPR-330 which contains a price line limitation provision that prohibits any concern from selling any goods at price lines higher than those carried in March, 1942. The fact that the price lines handed back in March 1942, may no longer be available from manufacturers, seem to mean nothing to the OPA.

Among companies that have been cited are F. W. Woolworth Co., McCrary Stores, J. J. Newberry Co., Murphy Co., H. L. Green Co., Neisner Bros., W. T. Grant Co., and J. C. Penney Co. OPA has failed to control wholesale and manufacturing costs and prices for inexpensive lines of women's and children's clothing. Now it is trying to prevent stores from making those practical adjustments in price lines which must be made in order to supply customers with the best available values from obtainable supplies today.

It is impossible for any fair-minded person to understand OPA's reasoning when it says it is illegal for a store to add a line of children's dresses at $5.98 when the highest priced line previously carried was $3.98—particularly if no more dresses are available at the $3.98 price or if the store wishes to sell a better dress for $5.98.

Regulation of this type has very serious implications which go away beyond what effect it may have on the stores in question or other companies which may later be cited. It is an attempt to prohibit certain perfectly legitimate activities within specified lines of business, and to regulate prices. If this particular regulation is continued, it will wipe out countless small merchants whose volume comes primarily from the sale of low-priced women's and children's outer wear. Such administration makes a mockery out of the real intent of laws passed by Congress to establish reasonable wartime controls of essential civilian commodities.

Horse Races and Dance

Hand-bills are out for a three-matched horse race and saddle horse races at the Rodeo race grounds tomorrow (Saturday). The bills are being scattered over the county and big crowds are expected. Following the races, there will be a big dance given at Community Hall on the same night. Be sure to attend both events.

Young Matron's Club

A goodly number of young matrons of Carrizozo met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Petty last Thursday for the purpose of organizing a Young Matron's Club. They will meet every other week and the meeting will be at and home of Mrs. Jimmie La Rue to organize the club and elect officers.

Celebration 32nd Chinese Republic

New York, N. Y., Sept. 30, '43.—To U. C. R. Chairmen: Arrangements have been completed today for the international broadcast on the evening of Oct. 9, in celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic.

The program will be carried over the Blue Network, 10:15 to 10:45 p. m., Eastern War Time. Mr. Wendell Willkie, honorary chairman of UCR will preside and speak briefly. Secretary of State Hull will speak from Washington, voicing the congratulations and good wishes of the American people. The response will be made from Chungking by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. He will speak in Chinese; each paragraph will be translated. We hope it may be possible for this to be done by Madame Chiang.

This is the second time that the Generalissimo's voice will be heard throughout America. (The other was a brief part in an "Army Show" program last year.) It is the first program carrying America's congratulations direct by air to China, with a response from President Chiang Kai-shek.

Cordially,
James L. McConaughy,
President.

Willie Kimbrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kimbrell of Picacho has joined the U. S. Navy and went to El Paso Monday night to register for enlistment.

We had a letter last Saturday from Chaplain Lester Cochran, who is a Chaplain in the U. S. Army and located at Camp Roberts, Calif. Rev. Cochran was at one time pastor of our local Baptist Church.

How America Treats Axis Prisoners of War In Concentration Camps Throughout U. S.

Good Treatment Pays Dividends To Captor Nations

WHAT is our treatment of prisoners of war? Are officers overpaid? Do they have to work? These and many other questions are being asked as the total of Axis prisoners mounts.

As a matter of fact, the prisoner problem has become a real one since the mass surrender of Italians in Tunisia. After Sicily capitulated, Gen. Eisenhower had on his hands the staggering total of 135,000 Axis prisoners. Quite a job for any man's army.

While it is true that prisoners are enemies of this country, and many have been directly responsible for the loss of American lives, they cannot be treated as enemies, but must be treated as soldiers rather than as criminals; always with this thought in the background—the treatment we accord enemy captives will, in some measure at least, determine the kind of treatment given American soldiers who have been unfortunate enough to fall into enemy hands.

There are at least two other reasons for the good treatment of prisoners, aside from humanitarian considerations, one based upon a treaty made at Geneva on July 27, 1929, and the other a purely psychological one, namely, that war-weary and underfed troops may be tempted to lay down their arms to an enemy who feeds them generously and gives them safe haven.

Geneva Conference

At the Geneva Convention, which was ratified by 37 countries (which, by the way, did not include either Japan or Russia) certain rules on treatment and behavior were formulated. Under the provisions of the Geneva Conference soldier prisoners are required to work, but officers are not. The amount of time a prisoner must work is based on the number of hours put in by free labor in the adjoining territory, and one day a week is to be a day of rest. Food and clothing must be provided by the detaining army.

Occupational classification is determined by the prisoner's physical makeup. For instance, the prisoner who was formerly engaged as a clerk or teacher should not be put on hard labor. This provision, however, has been largely ignored in Axis countries, where many a scholarly soldier grinds out a day that taxes his strength sorely.

In every concentration camp many different crafts and trades are plied by the prisoners, but in no case do they work on projects directly connected with the war effort, as a precaution against sabotage.

Payment for labor is at the rate of 50 cents a day for the ordinary soldier, here in the United States, where we have some 70,000 Axis prisoners scattered throughout the country in 22 camps. The rate of pay for officers ranges from $20 a month to $40 a month. Officers who have been assigned no work get paid anyway, at the regular scale.

At some of the camps prisoners are kept within by double barbed wire enclosures. Armed guards pace back and forth outside to make sure that all is well.

Fed Army Rations

Prisoners in the U. S. army camps are fed the regular army field rations. In this respect they fare much better than General Wainwright and his gallant band of defenders who laid down their arms on Corregidor only after food and water supplies had been cut off. The Japanese diet consists mainly of rice, and there is reason to believe that the heroes of Bataan and Corregidor have suffered considerably from malnutrition since they fell into enemy hands. The Japs evidently have nothing much better to offer, for even the warriors of Guadalcanal and New Guinea have been forced to rely upon rice as their mainstay. Klaka and Attu furnished mute evidence of the Japs' utter dependence upon rice as a fighting staple.

While the Japanese government tentatively agreed to certain proposals from this country with regard to the treatment of prisoners, their attitude has been far from satisfactory. A case in point was the shooting of the U. S. fliers who bombed Tokyo with General Doolittle's squadron which took off from Shangri La (aircraft carrier, Hornet) and who had the extreme misfortune of either being shot out of the skies or forced down for other reasons. These prisoners, it was later announced by the Japs, were shot, contrary to all the rules of war, as a deterrent to other American fliers who might engage in the bombing of Japan. This violation of the international rules of war has not, however, worked, and Japan may well tremble in its boots for the day of reckoning which is drawing pluggy with each dawn. Bombing perimeter are drawing closer to the heart of the Japanese empire day by day.

Pictured here are some of the 2,000 German prisoners of war who are housed at Camp Breckenridge, Ky. They are marching to the mess hall. German prisoners are closely guarded at all times, for, unlike the Italians, they refuse to play ball and are confidently arrogant. Most of them are glad to work to relieve the boredom of inactivity.

The bulk of the work done by Axis captives in the United States is agricultural. This field, of course, offers the least opportunity for sabotage. When captives engage in this work they do not in any sense compete with native labor, but are simply supplementary to it. Farmers arrange with their county farm agent for the employment of prisoners. The number is usually small and the prisoners are scattered over wide areas, thus removing from this practice all element of hazard.

Generally speaking, Axis prisoners, with the exception of the Japs, of whom we have only a very small number, are a contented lot. They have better food, clothing and shelter than they had under the Nazi banner; in a certain sense they have more liberties, and for them the war is over.

More Gifts for Overseas Servicemen

Based on increasing demand for gift items it is estimated that overseas servicemen and women will receive 20 per cent more Christmas presents per capita this year than last, and the home folks may expect an even larger percentage of reciprocal gifts, mostly of the luxury and sentimental type. This forecast was made by John C. Goodall, general manager of the Merchandise Mart, Chicago, following a checkup among gift item manufacturers and distributors, including those who sell purchases of more available items will more than offset these.

The number of gifts to come from service personnel abroad to relatives and friends at home is expected to be larger per capita because manufacturers and distributors, who sell to army and navy post exchanges, particularly in the Mediterranean area, already report rising sales to servicemen and women. More post exchanges, greater opportunity afforded servicemen to buy direct from the natives, who also sell to PX, is a factor now boosting sales. Other sales stimulants are that overseas servicemen and women, in high spirits themselves, are not so sure about the morale of the home folk and seek to bolster it by gifts. Plusher with cash, and conscious of accumulated favors from home, the overseas contingent find themselves in an ideal spot to reciprocate.

Among American made gift items, most popular at overseas post exchanges are pins, clips, earrings, vanity cases, many bearing the insignia of the various branches of the service. Ornate pillow tops and handkerchiefs, which embody delicately worded sentiments, come to the aid of thousands of less articulate servicemen. Such items are prime favorites overseas as well as at post exchanges at home.

Necklaces, embroideries, pipecases, opal and topaz jewelry, metal and leather handicraft of Latin and Oriental origin, is also in high favor. Watches, one of the top preferences among all in the service, are relatively easy to get in the Mediterranean area, since many of them come direct from Switzerland.

The gifts servicemen may expect from the home folks parallel somewhat those sent last year, although there will be a wider selection to choose from. Furlough bags, small carry-all and sewing kits, duflie bags, wallets, religious medals, identification bracelets, photo cases, pen and pencil sets, shaving equipment, insignia pieces, and of course cigarettes, are high on the preference list of servicemen.

Money belts are not expected to be as popular this year as last, while watertight pocket-size holders for miscellaneous personal things are in high vogue. Pocket-sized games such as checkers, cribbage, gin rummy, backgammon and acey ducy are similarly popular.

While these gift items have general popularity among the forces overseas as well as at home, a variety of gift preferences is developing. A large number on the Pacific front, for instance, show partiality to such articles as knives, sun glasses and anti-sun and bug lotions.

The growing number of service women is dictating the installation of women departments in post exchanges. Heavy orders for toiletries, apparel items, and the more esthetic type of gifts are reported.

Ernest J. Kreutzgen, Chicago postmaster, (left) explains to George McCarthy, foreman in charge of foreign mail, how packages should be wrapped and addressed to get favored delivery service to men in the armed forces overseas.

Reasons given for the expected increase in the number of gifts sent this year overseas are:

1. The moved-up official mailing date, September 15 to October 15, extended to November 1, for those in the navy, marine corps and coast guard, will stimulate early shopping, and the five pound limitation on gift packages means more will be sent.
2. More stores have installed special gift counters or departments which means more display, advertising, and sales.
3. The home folks are now better advised in the gift preferences of servicemen and women, and know more specifically where they are stationed, hence can make their selections more intelligently.
4. The overseas forces, operating on more fronts, and facing more varied climatic and geographical conditions, become eligible for a wider variety of gifts.

The tendency to send more gifts to those furthest from home also favors increased sales. While shortages at home are developing in such items as watches, leather novelties and jewelry, it is thought heavier

POST-TAX IMPRESSION

- 1—Are you married or single (whichever is the lesser)?
- 2—Are you single and living with no dependents other than those minus 10 per cent?
- 3—Are you a married person earning over $1,200 a year and living with your 1941 or 1942 wife (whichever is the larger)?
- 4—In making out this income return have you first made every effort to convert from money to coal?
- 5—Print full name in this space and list any claims for exemption from Classification as a Class 1-A taxpayer.

6—If you have ever been rejected as a taxpayer give name of examining doctor and state nature of your physical ailment.

7—Were you ever turned down as a taxpayer for defective eyesight, poor hearing, glandular disturbances or poor circulation?

8—If you have ever made application to be deferred as a taxpayer on account of flat feet make a cross in this space.

9—On dotted line below give your best estimate or guess (whichever is the larger) as to your income between now and New Year's eve. It is now first down, 20 yards to go.

10—Give the names and addresses of three responsible guessers in your community who will endorse you as a man whose guesses are fairly reliable or wholly accurate (whichever is larger).

11—Do you decline to pay income taxes on the ground you are a conscientious objector? Any luck?

12—State your weekly income in this space and specify if your employer is a married man living with his uncle or a single man living alone on the April, 1942, level.

13—Multiply this by your best estimate of the number of dependents on both sides, minus October, and subtract 2 per cent for shrinkage. (See Section X, third or fourth door to the left, whichever is the larger). And remember no cuffs or belts.

14—In this space list your estimate of tax for the period hereinafter known as the Eric and state if you can convert from cash to oil.

15—To estimate the number of red coupons necessary for receipt for this payment add 3 per cent ad valorem and subtract serial numbers on all four tires. This leaves you all even.

16—Multiply the above result by the first six months of 1941 and give your best estimate, conclusion or speculation (whichever is the largest) of what you will have March 15, 1943, barring a collapse of your second front.

17—Print first and last name (whichever is the lesser) on this line, minus the 1942 middle initials (unless in essential industry) and give an estimate of your 1944 address (if single and living with your folks).

(Note—By act of congress, August, 1941, a penalty of $10,000 fine and twenty years in prison (whichever is the larger) is provided for any person or persons (whichever is the smaller) having a complete understanding of this tax blank, unless thirty days notice shall have been given in writing or by phone (whichever is looser).

THE HAPPY BUTCHER

A butcher has just been sentenced to five days in jail and fined $25 for charging too much for meat. But we are not worried. If he will just take a small steak to the hoosegow with him his confinement will be brief.

It seems that this butcher charged $1 for a rib steak that should have cost 72 cents, and 53 cents for 42 cents worth of chops. Elmer Twitchell is heading a national campaign to have his sentence and fine rescinded and some sort of medal substituted. "Any butcher who doesn't overcharge more than that these days is a friend of the public," declares Elmer.

"I talked with this butcher," said Mr. Twitchell today, "and he is delighted. He says five days will be too short a time to get away from all those rulings, counter-rulings and Greek orders issued to the markets by OPA every week.

"I tried to tell him that it was all wrong putting butchers in jail, as it was the chiseling, bribe-taking wholesalers and black market racketeers who belonged there. They are the guys who make the butchers violate OPA ceilings. But he ordered me to let him alone. He said jail would be wonderful compared to the life he has led trying to follow the rules and meet the stern demands of his customers."

We understand the butcher resents assistance and is mighty glad to go to jail.

"The poor butcher was a pathetic figure, but very happy. He wanted to know if it would be wrong to send the judge a box of cigars for being so nice.

"His main satisfaction was that he would get away from the black market racketeers. I told him he shouldn't worry about that. None of these birds ever get sent to jail."

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

By ROGER B. WHITMAN

Roger B. Whitman—WNU Features.

You may not be able to replace worn or broken household equipment. This is war. Government priorities come first. So take care of what you have. As well as you possibly can, this column by the houseowner's friend tells you how.

HOUSE WITH NO BASEMENT

Question: We have just taken over a house that has no basement. The foundation is only a step or two above the ground. The floors seem very damp and are rather uneven. The former owners had linoleum on the bedroom floors. But underneath there seems to be a mold forming, causing an odor. Would linoleum cemented down keep out the dampness? What do you advise?

Answer: If there is enough space to crawl under the house, coat the underside of the floor and the floor beams with a liquid asphalt or tar. While you are at it, you can make the house much more comfortable by placing a blanket insulation between the floor beams. Do not cover the floors with linoleum until you have cleared up the dampness. If there is not sufficient space to work underneath the house, your only recourse will be to provide plenty of ventilation under the floors.

Building Shakes in Wind

Question: We have a garage with an apartment over it. This building, by the nature of its construction, is somewhat topheavy. After the last high wind, the tenants said the building seemed almost to shake. Would it be of any benefit to drive three 15-foot lengths of pipe into the ground on each side of the house, very close to it?

Answer: I have been in many houses that actually shook and vibrated in high winds with no damaging effect. Many of these buildings were old. If, as you say, the building is well constructed, nothing further need be done. However, if you have any misgivings, get a reliable builder or architect to examine the building and give you his advice. I do not think much of the pipe idea.

DRAFT UNDER DOOR

Question: There is a one-inch space under a door, due to the old-style threshold having been removed. How can I close this space?

Answer: Use a piece of heavy felt as long as the door is wide, and a foot or so in width. Tack one edge of it to the bottom of the door on one side and the remaining edge to the other side of the door, so that the felt forms a loop which scrapes the sill when the door is closed. A less convenient method would be to make a bag of heavy canvas four inches or so in diameter and as long as the doorway is wide. It is filled with dry sand and placed against the bottom of the door to shut out the draft. A well-known expedient is simply to drag a rug in front of the door on cold nights.

Refinishing Dolls

Question: My two daughters have several dolls that I would like to refinish and dress for other youngsters. Can you tell me what kind of paint is used on the bodies and features of dolls? Is it baked on?

Answer: Yes, the finishes are baked on the dolls. The flesh-colored enamels are made especially for doll manufacturers and are not sold through paint stores. If you want to experiment get a flesh-colored enamel. Dull the gloss of the old finish on the dolls, wipe with turpentine and then put on the enamel. Bake in your oven for five minutes at a temperature of about 250 to 300 degrees.

Rancid Grease

Question: When I stored my iron chicken fryer, I greased it to prevent it from rusting. Now everything I cook in it tastes of rancid grease. How can I remove this taste and odor from the iron?

Answer: Wash the fryer with a solution of washing soda, about a quarter-cupful in a quart of hot water. If necessary, allow the hot solution to remain in the pan for a half hour or so. Then rinse thoroughly with clear, hot water and wipe dry. Always wipe the fryer dry after washing it. If this is done rusting should not occur.

Removing Carbon

Question: Will you give me the name of the powder used for removing the carbon from an oil burner and start the furnace.

Answer: There are several makes of such powders. But if your burner carbonizes badly it should be adjusted. Your oil burner service man or your local heating contractor should be able to supply you with the soot-removing compound; it is on general sale. But you should not allow the sooting to continue.

Paint and Chintz Transform Chair

THERE is a knack about selecting the right thing from the assortment of junk in Mother's attic or a second hand furniture store. Here is a rocker not at all quaint but just awkward to have around.

Off come the rockers and on go a set of casters and a seat cushion to make it the right height. That will make it useful but still no beauty. A remnant of flowered chintz will cover the cushion and the objectionable part of the carved back. Paint to match the soft blue background of the chintz will bring the whole thing together and soften too prominent curves.

NOTE—This sketch is from BOOK 5 in the series of booklets prepared for readers. BOOK 5 also contains more than 30 other ideas for transforming old furniture and making fascinating things from odds and ends on hand. To get a copy send 15 cents with your order to:

WHY TAKE HARSH LAXATIVES?

Simple Fresh Fruit Drink Makes Purgatives Unnecessary for Most People

Here's a way to overcome constipation without harsh laxatives. Drink juice of 1 Sunkist Lemon in a glass of water first thing on arising.

Most people find this all they need—stimulates normal bowel action day after day!
Lemon and water is good for you. Lemons are among the richest sources of vitamin C, which combats fatigue, helps resist colds and infections. They supply valuable amounts of vitamins B and P. They pep up appetite. They alkalize, aid digestion. Lemon and water has a fresh tang too—clears the mouth, wakes you up, starts you going.

REVERENCE FOR GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:3-7; Matthew 4:10; 6:9; John 4:23, 24.
GOLDEN TEXT—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—John 4:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth.

"The first commandment (Exod. 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship Him spiritually. The first commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar). The third commandment (v. 7) indicates that true worship will deal reverently with the name of God.

Israel had lived among the Egyptians, a people known for their worship of images, and were about to enter into Canaan where there were many false gods. The Lord was therefore careful not only to forbid the worship of other gods, but also to forbid the making of images of any kind, whether they represented the many gods of heathendom, or were attempts to symbolize the true God.

I. The Command to Worship (Exod. 20:3-7)

God first claims the entire devotion of man. If He is Jehovah, the Lord God, it is obvious that there can be no other god before Him. He is a personal God (v. 2), with whom it is possible for man to have fellowship. He must come first in our thought and our love.

The second commandment expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshipped. It matters not whether it be an image or what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact, "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth—such as a man or animal; or under the water—such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants. The careless, vain or irreverent use of God's name is forbidden (v. 7). How common that practice is today, even among Christian people. If we do not actually use His name, we use some slang expression which stands for His name.

Now we turn to two passages from the Gospel of Matthew to see how Jesus practiced these commandments.

II. The Example of Christ (Matt. 4:10; 6:9)

To the temptation of Satan, offering rich reward for an act of worship to himself, Jesus gave prompt and effective reply by quoting Deuteronomy 6:13. Thus He gave His approval to the command that all our worship and service is to be given to God.

This spirit shows itself in the reverent devotion of the prayer (6:9) which Jesus taught His disciples. The name of God is to be hallowed—that is, to be regarded as holy. No one set a higher example of that than our Lord, Himself God, He was obedient to the Father, even unto death, always doing those things which pleased Him and honored His name (John 8:29; Phil. 2:8).

III. The Manner of True Worship (John 4:23, 24)

God is to be worshipped in spirit and in truth, not in dead formalism or by empty ritual. There must be reality in such devotion.

One would suppose that a truth so obvious and vital would long since have completely saturated the life of the church as well as of the individual believer. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Even today, countless men and women still believe that worship has something to do with place (vv. 20, 21) or race (v. 22) or some other external device or formula. What a pity, when the gracious and delightful way to worship is through personal, spiritual communion between God and man.

Deadening formalism is not our only enemy. There is the powerless preaching of modernism—and in all honesty must we not admit that even some so-called fundamentalism has in many respects lost the true spirit of the faith for which it rightly contends.

We see then that the commandment of God regarding reverence is not just a law on a faded page in an ancient manuscript. It is a living, vital reality, operative today.

Russ Government Early
Sponsored Rifle Practice

Russia has millions of civilian sharpshooters today because, in recent years, she wisely urged and helped her people to take up rifle practice, says Collier's. Numerous ranges were set up and guns supplied; and men who did not undergo training were considered unpatriotic. In the year 1938 alone, more than 6,000,000 men, women and boys won marksmanship badges.

board, or similar material, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. The cover should be such that it can be opened readily for censorship.
The contents should be packed tightly.
Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited.

The mail should be addressed
like this, for example:

Situation Is Serious

And yet the manpower situation is serious. It is so serious that it has long worried War Mobilization Director Byrnes. Indeed, that is why he called on his friend Bernard Baruch, the unofficial elder statesman of the administration, to advise him...

Among other things, Mr. Baruch commented on hoarding labor. I had heard of that subject in indignant letters from the wives of workers who wrote that their husbands were paid to loaf. And Senator Wheeler made similar charges and recalled that Senator Truman and his doughty investigators had found a lot of hoarding of labor with (as Wheeler put it) "employees falling over each other" and being paid for on the cost-plus basis...

That was when Vandenberg arose and waved the Baruch report which he had demanded and finally received from Mr. Byrnes.

Mr. Vandenberg read Mr. Baruch's words on the subject of cost-plus: "The government pays all the costs, whatever they are. Since the government is footing the bill, there is no incentive for the manufacturers to economize in the use of material, facilities or labor. More workers are hired than needed. Workers stand idle—it costs the manufacturer nothing. Much labor is wasted."

Political Breezes

This is only one item in the long and forthright document which has had considerable publicity. Perhaps it might have been neglected if it had not been blown into the public's face by the political breezes stirred up by Mr. Vandenberg. Perhaps Mr. Vandenberg might not have generated those breezes if Mr. Baruch had not been pretty critical of government agencies that competed for power; perhaps Mr. Baruch would not have been so frank if he had not thought that, as he requested, the report was not for publication...

Mr. Byrnes, when he sent the document to "Dear Van" at the latter's insistence, said that it was not intended for other than private use but that it was "a splendid argument in favor of action taken by the War Mobilization committee" (in regard to the labor situation on the West coast) and he requested that it be placed in the Congressional Record, which it was.

And so there it was for all to see with Mr. Baruch, presumably still the best of democratic pals but also the severest of critics, lambasting jealous government agencies and calling manufacturers "manufacturers" and not "productive establishments" and apologizing for nobody, business men or bureaucrats.

Thus the political breezes blow, sometimes in one direction, sometimes in another, though, of course, in election years, the "outs" usually blow the loudest. They are the prosecuting attorney, and the "ins" are the defense. However, there is this satisfaction, blow where it will, it is an ill wind that blows nobody good.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Heat and friction are the greatest enemies of rubber. Tire treads wear out five times as fast in a temperature of 100 degrees as when the thermometer registers 40 degrees. Rubber previously used for garden hose will provide for tires on corlages of 8,500 "75's" and 6,800 37-mm. anti-aircraft guns and 600 pontons for Army bridges.

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, late of the editorial staff of the Charlotte (N. C.) News, has been inducted into the army, classified as a cook and has spent a large share of his "spare" moments on KP duty. He has taken time out, however, to advise prospective doughboys to "paint the town red" before induction and once in the Army to "keep an open mind" as the "best three weeks are the hardest." His constant assignment to KP is the despair of his sergeant who believes Hargrove will never learn to be a crack soldier. His last experience was a rifle inspection in which he fared badly. Now he begins a new episode concerning advancement in rank.

CHAPTER IV

Selectee Joseph G. Gantt, late of Liberty, South Carolina, came out for reveille this morning with a grin you could have used for a foot rule. He held both his arms against the front of his shirt in a queerly strained posture and blushed happily every time someone looked at him.

"The heat's got the boy," I told Gene Shumate. "Looks like the best ones always go first."

"That ain't the heat," said Cookie. "He seems to have a cramp in his arms." We looked at Citizen-Soldier Gantt's arms again. Then, for the first time, we noticed two shining stripes on each sleeve. Citizen-Soldier Gantt was a corporal now!

"Heavens to Betsy," we shouted in unison for his benefit. "Is that punk a corporal?" Corporal Gantt acknowledged the tribute by joyfully changing his color to a holiday red. The grin widened until his ears hung perilously on the brink of his lips. It took him half the morning to sober his spirits to working conditions.

Corporal Gantt had been in the Army exactly four months. He had been an acting corporal for three weeks before he got his stripes.

Heaven grant him strength for the ordeal ahead.

The term "buck private" was explained to us this afternoon. It refers to the Old Army Game, "passing the buck." The sergeant is first called on the carpet for a mistake in his platoon. The sergeant seeks out the corporal and gives him a dressing-down. The corporal passes the buck by scolding the ears of the private. The private doesn't even have a mule to kick, so he can't pass the buck any further. He keeps it. That makes him a buck private.

The Army, I find, has many subtle ways to trap the unwary into volunteering for work. First there was the sergeant over at the Reception Center who came through the recreation hall one afternoon calling for "Private Smith." Four men answered. All four were put to work picking up cigarette stubs.

On the call, "Anybody in here know how to handle a truck?" don't speak up. The last three were seen later pushing a hand truck up the battery street to haul rifle racks.

Corporal Henry Uessory is to date the most dangerous conscriptor. This week he came into the squadroom to ask if anyone was good at shorthand. Three citizen-soldiers admitted that they were.

"Report to the kitchen," the corporal laughed. "The mess sergeant says he's shorthanded on dishwashers."

"One of the most solemn and responsible trusts of a soldier," Sergeant "Curly" Taylor said today, "is his guard duty." Sergeant Taylor, who has been in the Army for nineteen years and probably knows more about guard duty than any man in Fort Bragg, is teaching us about guard duty now.

The soldier is called to this duty about once a month. For a twenty-four-hour period, he is on two hours, and off four hours, and he "walks his post in a military manner," guarding the peace and possessions and safety of a part of the post. He is responsible only to a corporal of the guard, a sergeant of the guard, an officer of the day, and his commanding officer.

The guard, or sentry, is known chiefly to the reading and movie-going public by two expressions, "Halt, who goes there?" and "Corporal of the guard! Post number three!" The former, Sergeant Taylor said with his best poker-face, has given the Army considerable worry at times.

According to the sergeant, the guard is instructed to give the "halt" order three times and then shoot. Over-enthusiastic rookies from the back counties, he said, had been known to go like this: "Halt! halt! halt! Ka-POW!" (You can believe it or leave it; I never question what the sergeant says.)

There was one rookie guard, he said, who halted him, questioned him and allowed him to pass. After he had gone several steps, the sentry again shouted, "Halt!" Sergeant Taylor came back and wanted to know—politely, of course—how come. "My orders," said the guard, "say to holler 'Halt' three times and then shoot. You're just on your second halt now!"

The other popular expression is the come-a-running call that goes up the line to the guardhouse when a guard takes a prisoner or "meets any case not covered by instruction" (General Order No. 9). If the guard is on the seventh post, he sings out, "Corporal of the guard! Post number seven!" The guard on the sixth post picks up the cry and it goes down the line like that.

There's the story about the officer of the day who questioned a new sentry, as officers of the day frequently do in order to test the sentries. "Suppose," the OD asked, "that you shouted, 'Halt' three times and I kept going, what would you do?"

The guard was apparently stumped by the question. Finally he answered, "Sir, I'd call the corporal of the guard."

The officer of the day gloated. "Aha!" he said. "So you'd call the corporal of the guard, would you? And just why would you call the corporal of the guard?"

This time the answer was prompt and decisive—and correct. "To haul away your dead body, sir!"

Heroes are born, not made.

There's one job here that is nothing but goldbricking in itself. That's the latrine orderly detail. You go to work after lunch and spend the rest of the afternoon watching the fire in the water heater and feeding it regularly—every two hours. The next morning you sweep and mop the washroom and spend the rest of the time until lunch watching the fire again. All in all, you lead a lazy, carefree existence.

There was a slip-up somewhere yesterday. I was latrine orderly instead of a KP. It was probably the mess sergeant's idea.

The boys started out after lunch for an afternoon of drilling in the warm Carolina sunshine and learning to drive trucks across ditches.

An hour later, I decided to take a casual look at the boiler. When I opened the furnace-room door, a blast of strong brownish smoke struck me to the ground. I lay there for several minutes, tapping my forehead thoughtfully, while more smoke poured out.

When it still hadn't slackened after five minutes, I crawled under the layer of smoke to the boiler. There the sickening vapor was, pouring nonchalantly through clinks in the door.

"Don't come telling me about it," said Sergeant "Ma" Davidson. "Take out the pipes and clean them. All of them."

I had to see the top sergeant to get my instructions. When I returned to Sergeant Davidson I was happy again.

"Ma," I told him, "the top kick says for you to supervise the job." The sergeant was furious with rage and frustration. I grabbed a screwdriver and he grabbed Private Downer, who had a black mark by his name for not wearing his identification tag. The three of us started work.

First, put out the fire in the boiler. Shake it down, throw ashes on it. It still burns. Shake it down more, throw sand on it. Still burns. Close the bottom door, shake it down more, throw ashes and sand on it. Curse it. After too long, it dies.

The man who devised the system for connecting an indoor boiler and an outdoor chimney should be parched with his own pipes and stuffed with oily soot.

Unscrew a pipe, lift it gently, coax it from its socket. Easy does it. Careful there. When you have it almost out, inhale for your sigh of relief. Crash! The whole network of pipes bounces off the floor scattering ashes and soot over half the battery area.

After half an hour of scrubbing and wiping the interior regions of all the pipes, they're ready to go up again. All but one of them are in place and the last one is ready to be fitted. Careful there! Easy, now! Watch out! Catch it! CRASH!

The boys come in from the drill field at 4:30 and head for the showers. There is no hot water.

"Get a load of that Hargrove," they tune, in an unnecessarily nasty manner. "He gets a job where all he has to do is throw a shovel of coal on the fire every two hours. And then when we come in, there ain't no hot water. There ain't even no fire. Throw the bum out."

running your loud mouth about. I'm the nice sergeant who always gives you the wrong clothing sizes and hides your laundry and does all those awful things you've been telling about me."

"So help me, sergeant," I protested. "I never named thee but to praise. Somebody's been trying to poison your mind against me."

"I am also the nice sergeant," he said, "who is going to let you earn your seventy cents today. Take off your fatigue blouse, my man, and prepare to sweat. Today we make progress. We are going to unpack rifles."

It seems to me that when the manufacturer prepares to pack a box of Army rifles, his cruel streak comes out at its worst. From the look of the rifles, he has his three-year-old daughter prepare a compound of molasses, pitch, and used motor oil—the cooler the better. He slogs each gun into the resulting mess, sloshes it around for a while, and then lays it neatly into the box.

You use a swab about the size of a tablecloth to wipe the grease from the rifle. When you're halfway through the first rifle, you have to use the gun to wipe the grease from the cloth. When you have finished, you need a large coal shovel to wipe the grease off yourself.

There is nothing so conducive to itching as the inability to scratch. Just when the molasses-pitch-axle grease mixture covers your hand to the point where you can't see the outlines of the fingers, that left nostril starts tingling. At first it itches only a little and you decide to suffer it. So you don't wipe your hands on the seat of your trousers. Instead you pick up another rifle and your hand sinks to the elbow in the goo which wraps it. This is the stage where your nose gets peevish and impatient and decides to itch in earnest.

Finally, you decide to give in. You wipe your hands—an operation which takes a good three or four minutes for satisfactory results. You lift your hand to scratch your nose, only to find that your nose isn't itching any more.

I was doing fairly well this morning, even when you take the itch into consideration, until the mess sergeant happened to stroll by.

"Hello, little man," he sings gaily, with a horrible gleam in his eyes. "You've not been around to see me for a long time. Aren't mad, are you?"

I look at my hands, at the rifle, at the old shoe, and at the mess sergeant. I hold my tongue. Health is wealth.

"We miss you terribly in the kitchen," he coos, "even when you go griping around that my food is the worst in the Army. I just saw the first sergeant and I asked him to let you be a KP just as soon as he can spare you. Oh, we're going to do wonders to that kitchenware, you and I."

He pats me on the forehead with ominous tenderness and departs.

The sergeant yelled out of the window at me, so I dropped my broom and went upstairs.

Five paces away, he turns for a parting shot. "Blabbermouth!" he snorts.

I suppose he's good to his mother, though.

The sergeant yelled out the window at me, so I dropped my broom in the battery street and went upstairs. He was sitting on the foot locker, thoughtfully rubbing his chin with the handle of his mess-kit knife.

"Ralph Oxford got called up to the battery commander's office this morning," he said, "and do you know what the Old Man gave him?"

"I've got a pretty good idea," I said. "If he gave him what he gave me when I got called up, it has four letters, starts with an h and ends with an l."

The sergeant closed his eyes and slowly shook his head. "Oxford isn't a sore thumb to the platoon like you are," he groaned. "Oxford got a bright red stripe to wear around his sleeve."

Bring Out Bean Pots for Guest Dinners!
(See Recipe Below)

Company Nights

You may be on a strict ration budget, but it isn't necessary to ration hospitality if you plan the food and entertainment wisely.

Food and pleasant conversation shared with friends make the long, cool nights, and work-filled days easier to share.

Plan soon to have someone over for you can do it with today's recipes without stretching the ration or budget book out of joint.

Dishes should be hearty enough to satisfy any man-sized appetites you encounter, but pretty enough to draw compliments, too.

Enlist the help of the children in setting up the tables, polishing silverware and glasses. They'll like doing it and it will ease the load on you.

Baked beans are grand for fall entertaining and they really make those points go a long way.

Home Baked Beans (Serves 6 to 8)

- 2 cups navy beans
- 1 1/2 pound fat salt pork
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1 small onion, quartered
- 1/2 cup catsup, if desired

Wash beans. Cover with water and soak them overnight. Cook slowly until the skins burst or until just tender. Drain, reserving liquor. Place half the beans in bean pot or casserole. Bury a slice of pork in beans and another slice in the remaining ingredients.

Individual bean pots make serving simpler. The beans may be baked in small pots, or, if desired, baked in a large pot, ladled out into small pots before serving.

Relax your taut nerves and forget war worries by serving a delicious decaffeinated coffee—hot or cold. If making the coffee in a percolator, it needs slightly longer to bring out the full, rich coffee flavor.

Boston brown bread is the traditional accompaniment for baked beans. Slice it very thin, spread with butter or cream cheese, whichever suits your palate best.

Lynn Says:

Point Savers: Discarding leftovers is waste, for they can make many a meal, and a nice one. Use leftover meats or poultry and a combination of vegetables, and tuck that under a flaky pie-crust for a wonderful meat saver. Remember pie crust is packed with energy value because of the shortening.

Try high quality shortening for making pastry. It is fresh and sweet, doesn't have to be kept in the refrigerator and is of a nice texture to blend with flour.

To roll pie dough thin, cover board with a heavy muslin, and rolling-pin with a child's white sock.

Another dish worthy of consideration on cool nights for entertaining is this ground meat pie—that serves six with just a pound of meat:

Hamburger Pie (Serves 6)

- 1 medium-sized onion, chopped
- 1 pound ground beef
- Salt and pepper
- 2 1/2 cups green beans
- 1 can condensed tomato soup
- 5 medium-sized potatoes, cooked
- 1/2 cup warm milk
- 1 beaten egg
- Salt and pepper

Brown onion in hot fat; add milk and seasonings. Brown. Add beans and soup. Pour into a greased casserole. Mash potatoes, add milk, egg and seasonings. Spoon in mounds over meat. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes.

A waffle supper is another way of entertaining which can be inexpensive and consume only a few points.

There are loads of things to do with waffles—either for main course or desserts. Make plain waffles and serve them with creamed chicken or leftover veal creamed with mushrooms. For desserts, try them with berries or fruit or a combination of ice cream and fruit or berries.

Walnuts in waffles make them taste wonderfully good. Serve a few tender, sizzling link sausages with these for a particularly tempting late evening-snack:

Walnut Waffles (Makes 4 to 6 waffles)

- 2 well-beaten egg yolks
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 cups pastry flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 6 tablespoons oil
- 2 stiffly beaten egg whites
- 1 cup broken walnut kernels

Combine beaten egg yolks and milk. Add flour sifted together with salt and baking powder, then add oil. Beat until smooth, fold in egg whites and nuts. Bake in ungreased waffle iron.

As meat shortages become more acute, cereals are once more taking their place in the American diet. Spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, etc., all belong to the cereal family and may be used admirably for meat stretchers and substitutes. Combine them with one of the complete protein foods such as meat or cheese and you have a very satisfying, filling dish. Here's a dish fortified with grated cheese and another protein food, eggs:

Baked Eggs on Spaghetti (Serves 3)

- 1 1/2 cups spaghetti
- 2 tablespoons butter or substitute
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup American-style grated cheese
- 3 eggs
- Buttered crumbs

Cook spaghetti in 4 quarts boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Add melted butter. Add flour and salt mixed thoroughly. Pour in milk gradually. Cook, stirring constantly until thick. Add cheese and blend. Mix with spaghetti. Pour into shallow greased baking dish. Break eggs onto spaghetti, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and salt. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) about 30 minutes or until eggs are cooked.

"REGULAR" AGAIN
AFTER 2 WEEKS!

"Cereal Brought Relief from Long Siege of Purgatives!"

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doser" will want to read:

"I was a sufferer from common constipation. Took pills or medicines of some kind, but got no lasting relief. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. My bowels began acting after 2 weeks now, and have stopped taking pills and things. My bowels move regularly every day. I am a KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN eater from now on!" Mr. Earl Brown, Warren, Ark.

How do scientists explain KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN's gentle-acting, amazing relief, so familiar to thousands? Simply this: Lack of certain cellulose elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's richest sources of these elements—which help the intestinal flora lighten and fluff up the contents of the colon, for easy, natural elimination. Not a purgative, that robs the system of water. Not "roughage" that acts by "sweeping you out!" ALL-BRAN is a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

Get KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't give you the relief you've dreamed of. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.
