11th August 2015 10am

| SPEAKER | TOPIC |
|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| David van Ooran, RSPCA WA, CEO | Working with farmers in animal welfare. A chance to hear of the work the RSPCA does to help maintain standards in animal welfare, that impact agriculture in WA. |
| Andrew Heinrich, Making More From Sheep | The challenges and rewards of farming on KI – a farmer's view of how he manages the challenges Mother Nature presents to his business on a day to day basis |
| Brenda Coutts, DAFWA | Red clover disease – An ongoing problem in the area. What is it and what can we do about it? (Please note, Brenda encourages you to bring whole plant samples of affected clover for her to take to her labs for further work. Whole plant including soil and roots is required) |
| Cameron Allan, MLA | MLA Tools and programmes How they fit and can assist your decision making process |
| John Howieson, Murdoch University | Free Nitrogen – it's yours for the taking – Are your plants fixing nitrogen? How can you tell and what can you do about it? |
| Paul Sanford, DAFWA | Pasture variety trials and new pastures with high production – there have been some valuable trials in the region. Paul will share findings of most relevance to your area |
| Anita Chalmer, producer | Serradella and legumes in kikuyu – MLA have been supporting this ASHEEP Producer Demonstration Site and there have been some interesting findings. |
| Ron Master, DAFWA | Do panic! There are some varieties of panic that are looking like great new options for the south coast with high nutritional value for your stock |
| Rural Bank Representative | Building your whole farm asset – Improving your whole farm asset across all the paddocks to help offset risk Learn of the value of looking at your total farm asset in order to manage risk in your business |
| Three Local Farmers | Farmer Panel Always a favourite for Pasture Updates - hear how three farmers in your area, that each run different systems, are handling this season and setting up for next year. |
