Freight Costs: Generally, each brand of garment will ship from a separate warehouse & you will have to return the items to those same warehouses. For example, if you order 2 different brands of garments, there will be 2 freight charges to ship the garments to you, you will also have to make 2 return shipments. If you would like to know the estimated freight charges or inquire about any free freight we may be able to offer, please inquire prior to submitting this order. If you place a regular order after receiving samples, we may reimburse you for freight costs depending on the value of your order. Please note that we are not able to charge freight to a credit card, we require a UPS or FEDEX shipper account number to bill freight to. UPS is preferred because FedEx shipments are not available from all warehouses (please inquire for FedEx warehouses). There are no handling charges, you will only be charged the freight amount UPS or FedEx charges. If you need a UPS shipper account you can open an account with UPS on their website.

Returning Samples: Within 5 business days from shipment, we will email you a pre-approved return authorization form which must accompany your return. The form details how and where to return the samples. Unless otherwise agreed by our company in writing, you will have 14 days from the date we ship the samples to make your return shipments and provide us with the return tracking numbers. Please note that it is your responsibility to make sure you receive the Return Authorization Form(s) before the 14 day period expires. We will not notify you if samples are not shipped by the due date. Failure to ship your returns within the 14 day period will result in the return authorization(s) being cancelled and your credit card will be charged for the full retail value of the samples as final sale (no future return of those items will be allowed).

Garment condition: All samples are brand new garments and must be returned in 'brand new' condition with original packaging. Any soiled, damaged or altered garments will be refused and returned to you and your credit card will be billed for the full retail of those items as final sale plus return freight and handling.

Return shipment tracking: You are required to supply us with the tracking number of your return shipment by the return shipping deadline shown on the return authorization form we send you. Failure to supply us with the tracking numbers of your returns within the 14 day period will result in the return authorization(s) being cancelled and your credit card will be charged for the full retail value of the samples as final sale (no future return of those items will be allowed).

AGREEMENT: By signing below, you agree to the terms above and you authorize RLP UNIFORM to charge the credit card you supply below for the full retail value of the samples plus return freight charges and handling if applicable as final sale in the event that samples are not returned in accordance with the guidelines described above. Your signature below confirms that you have the authority to bind the company and/or person(s) listed on this order and credit card account shown below as a customer to this agreement, that you understand and accept the terms and conditions presented on this document.
