Sponsors can be your parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, neighbors, friends—just about anyone. You can have as many sponsors as you want. You can even sponsor yourself!

This is what you can say to the people that you are asking to be a sponsor:

Hello, my name is _____ and I am a student at Belton Elementary School.

We are having a Love the Loggerheads Read-a-thon to raise money to help our state reptile, the loggerhead turtle. The money that we raise will be sent to the Turtle Hospital at the South Carolina Aquarium in Charleston so that they can help sick and injured turtles.

Would you please help us by making a pledge for every minute that I read between February 26th and March 4th or by making a flat donation in any amount? I will come back after the read-a-thon is over to collect the money. If you are making a flat donation and would like, I can collect the money now.

Thank-you!

If your sponsor wants to write a check, have them make it out to: Belton Elementary School. Ask them to write Loggerheads in the memo line.

You can use this table to figure out how much people will pledge and how much to collect:

MINUTES PER DAY	TOTAL MINUTES READ	$0.02 Per Minute	$0.04 Per Minute	$0.05 Per Minute	$0.10 Per Minute	$0.15 Per Minute	$? Per Minute
30	210	4.20	8.40	10.50	21.00	31.50	This is how you figure out how much you'll need to collect: $\frac{\text{Total Minutes Read} \times \text{Amount Per Minute}}{\text{Pledge Amount Due}} =$
