Overview

One of the main responsibilities of Mission Resource Managers is the management of the consignment orders for meetings throughout the year. The information in this packet is supplied to give you accurate guidelines on ordering, displaying and returning the consignment orders.

This packet contains step-by-step guidelines for processing Consignment Orders. The forms included in this packet will assist you in keeping accurate account of orders.

Your prompt and careful handling of orders makes it possible for Mission Resources to continue to accurately and efficiently fill orders for mission meetings and other events.

Resources for United Methodist Women's events must be related to our Purpose and the program of the organization.

Please remember, consignment orders are for you to have material available for display and resale at your events. No orders for individuals or local units should be included as part of the consignment order. Those orders should be placed online at www.umwmissionresources.org or with Mission Resource customer service department at (800) 305-9857.

Thank you for your efforts in working with Mission Resources to provide resources on consignment. Should you have questions or concerns regarding your order, please contact us at (800) 305-9857.

Consignment Ordering

We've made other changes to improve efficiency and save on mission dollars. We will maintain a stock of books for the Reading Program for the beginning of each list and continue stocking popular books. However, when less popular books are sold, they will not be replaced. Resources will continue to no longer be available for preorder. Not only does this save mission dollars on the fulfillment side, this means items not yet available won't fall off the consignment order. Check out the publication list to find out when resources will become available. We have listed the available dates on these forms. If you send in the form requesting an item not yet available, item will not be included in the order.

Shipping

Return shipping on consignment orders is billed to the conference or district. Rush orders and rush shipping charges will also be billed to the conference or district. Conference and district resource manager use the same form. During transition to our new distributor, we offered free return shipping on consignment orders. Now that the start-up period is over, we are returning to the original policy: Return shipping will be billed to the conference or district. Rush orders and rush shipping charges will be billed to the conference. Again, thank you for all you do for us.

Payments

Please deposit all cash and checks into the conference account and then submit one check with the order forms to United Methodist Women Resources.

Change to the Event Sales Order Form: Those who would like to pay by credit card should check, "Bill me later." You will receive an invoice in the mail. We cannot take your credit card information through third party.

Placing Your Order With United Methodist Women Mission Resources

1. Please read through these guidelines thoroughly.
2. Complete the “Initial Conference Order Form” and submit to United Methodist Women Mission Resources using one of the following methods:
Fax: (770) 280-0061
E-mail: cs@umwmissionresources.org
Mail: United Methodist Women, 1650 Bluegrass Lakes Parkway, Alpharetta, GA 30004
3. Consignment orders should be received by Mission Resources two weeks prior to the event date. Items should not be requested to be received more than three days before the event. This policy helps us manage our inventory and returns in an efficient manner and enables us to plan our order flow to ship the majority of orders in their entirety. Items not available before event date will be cancelled.
4. The national office of United Methodist Women pays shipping costs on consignment orders for conferences and districts, unless the orders are received within one week of the event. Within this time period, any expedited shipping expense required to meet the event date will be charged to the conference or district account and will be included as part of the final reconciliation of the account. This policy also applies to supplemental orders placed for the event.
5. Supplemental orders are intended for new items or items inadvertently left off the initial consignment order. Supplemental orders should be received no later than one week prior to the date of the event to insure timely shipment. When placing supplement orders, please provide the order number that was assigned to the original order. Supplemental orders may be placed by email to cs@umwmissionresources.org or fax at (770) 280-0061.
6. The national office does not pay for return shipping on consignment orders.
7. Resources are available to order on the publication/available date and not before. Please convey to members that the only item that may be reserved/preordered is the Annual Sampler.
8. Order appropriate quantities of resources for the event. This is especially critical on the literature we supply at no charge. We recommend ordering free materials for 10 percent of the anticipated number of attendees. United Methodist Women supplies the funding for this information, and we should practice good stewardship in its use.
9. Only two copies of each Reading Program book may be ordered for an event. If there is a special need, your request will be considered. Please contact Mission Resource Customer Service at 1-800-305-9857 for exception.

Note: Study materials for Mission u events should be made available to persons who have registered to take the studies. To order the basic mission materials, determine from the school registrar the number of study leaders for each study and the number of students expected in each class. The number of study leaders and the number of students should give a more accurate figure of the total resources needed for the study materials.

1. Be specific about the date and the address where the consignment order should be sent. Arrange to have a designated person receive the shipment, account for the number of boxes received and secure the shipment until the event.
2. Original orders must be placed by fax at (770) 280-0061 or e-mailed to cs@umwmissionresources.org. Supplemental orders are intended for ordering new items or items inadvertently left off the original order. When ordering supplemental orders, please provide the order number that was assigned to the original order. Supplemental orders may be placed by email or fax at (770) 280-0061.
3. Return shipping is billed to the conference or district. Return labels are included with shipment.
4. Consignment orders should be received by Mission Resources two weeks prior to the event date. Items should not be requested to be received more than three days before the event. This policy helps us manage our inventory and returns in an efficient manner and helps us plan our order flow to ship the majority of orders complete. The national office of United Methodist Women pays shipping costs on outgoing consignment orders for conferences and districts, unless the orders are received within one week of the event. Within this time period, any expedited shipping expense required to meet the event date will be charged to the conference or district account and will be included as part of the final reconciliation of the account. Return shipping will be billed to the conference or district.

If the address of your subsequent event(s) differs, please supply all addresses.

Receipt of your Conference Order

Checking the material received:

1. Count materials as cartons are opened. Packing lists will be included in every order. Please see the Sample Packing Slip.

If you receive damaged cartons and materials, call Mission Resources immediately to report the damage. Keep the carton; all packaging and damaged materials and Mission Resources will file a claim with UPS for the damaged items. UPS may send someone to inspect the damage.

Labeling items for sale:

2. Label items with prices using post-it notes or removable tags. Materials damaged by pricing stickers are considered non-returnable. Free materials should be labeled as such and placed separate from sale items.

During the event:

3. "Event Sale Order Form" is used to designate if the customer was a "walk-away sale" and carried away her purchase or if Mission Resources should ship your customer's purchase to her home (if the event inventory was exhausted). Those who would like to pay by credit card should check Bill Me Later on the Event Sale Order Form. Please indicate if the sale is for walk away sales or if items need to be shipped.

Please make additional copies of the
found within this document as needed.

Consignment Returns Instructions – Resources ONLY

Returns Policy:

All materials that were not sold, excluding free resources, must be returned to Mission Resources no later than one week after the meeting. Any consignment merchandise not received within the 30-day period will be considered non-returnable. The unit that ordered the material will be invoiced to pay for items not returned. Contact Mission Resources to request exception at the time of order. National Office does not pay for return shipping.

1. If a second event will occur within six weeks of the first event (except at a year-end), the SPR can arrange, in advance, with Mission Resources to keep the items for the second event. Should this occur, the remittance for total sales and the "Consignment Accounting Form" from the first event should be returned to UMW Order Department, 1650 Bluegrass Lakes Pkwy, Alpharetta, GA 30004 within one week after invoice of the first event.
2. Count unsold materials at the close of the event. (Free materials are not to be returned.)
3. Carefully pack all items to be returned. If multiple cartons are returned, number each carton as "Box 1 of 4", "Box 2 of 4", etc. To receive credit on Consignment Orders, sale items must be returned in good condition. Pack items with care and pack boxes to full capacity.
4. Return labels are included in your box.

UPS insures each carton for $100 if properly packed, and shipments are easy to track. Cartons should be insured for the approximate value of the contents. If the United States Postal Service (USPS) or other services are more convenient, check to find out weight restrictions and cost to insure cartons.

If Mission Resources Returns Department receives damaged cartons and materials, we will call you to report the damage. It is your responsibility to contact UPS and file a claim for the damage. Mission Resources Returns will make the damaged materials available for inspection by UPS.

5. Prior to sending your returns, please place the original "Packing List" and the "Return Shipment Form" in "Box 1" of unsold materials. It is not necessary to list the items you are returning.
6. Ship the unsold items via UPS to the address listed below:

Please do not include any accounting or funds collection documentation in this return. **

7. Unused materials from a conference event cannot be "transferred" to a district event's account. The district may purchase unused materials from the conference event; however, materials purchased and not sold by the district cannot be returned to Mission Resources.

Under no circumstances should unused materials from a district event be taken to a subsequent conference event for sale.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, please call Mission Resources at (800) 305-9857 or send an e-mail to cs@umwmissionresources.org.
