Brief Program Overview

Although participation in the Gaston STAGE Summer Intensive is somewhat competitive, our primary goals are to showcase theatre students and give these students a nurturing environment to improve their work through an exciting, hands-on learning experience.

In the rehearsal process, students will use movement, voice, and writing to communicate ideas and feelings. Students are taught to understand how to design technical theatre components, such as costumes, sets, props, makeup, lighting, and sound, when they design and construct elements for their production. Gaston STAGE students use performance to communicate ideas and feelings.

By watching the work of other students—informally in rehearsal and formally in production—students develop critical thinking skills and learn to understand the traditions, roles, and conventions of theatre as an art form. As part of the Gaston STAGE Summer Intensive, young artists analyze theatre in terms of the social, historical, and cultural contexts in which it was created. The opportunity to critique the work of fellow performers in a controlled context encourages students to thoughtfully study and analyze literary texts and performances of their fellow theatre artists.

In addition to these essential lessons, students receive valuable training and feedback from industry experts which helps to improve the quality of theatre programs in schools across the district and encourages students to strive for excellence.

ANYTHING GOES

Plot Summary

ACT 1. ANYTHING GOES begins late at night in a Manhattan diner. Billy Crocker, a handsome stock broker's assistant, has forgotten his date with Reno Sweeney, the sexy evangelist turned nightclub singer. He explains he's been running errands for his boss, Elisha J. Whitney, who is sailing to London in the morning. Reno, who is sailing on the same ship as Whitney, forgives Billy and invites him to sail with her (I Get A Kick Out Of You). Billy declines—he's in love with another woman and must remain in New York to pursue her.

The next morning: The luxury liner S.S. American is preparing to sail. Reporters complain to the chagrined Captain about the lack of celebrities among the arriving passengers: no noteworthies, except the notorious Reno Sweeney. They brighten at the entrance of the famed debutante Hope Harcourt. Hope is accompanied by her widowed mother, Evangeline, and by a wealthy Englishman, Lord Evelyn Oakley, whom she announces she will marry aboard ship.

Billy arrives to see Mr. Whitney off—but then he spots Hope, the woman he loves. He decides to stow away, so he can convince Hope to marry him instead of Lord Evelyn. There are two other stowaways on board: Moonface Martin, a second rate gangster disguised as a minister, and Erma, the girlfriend of his partner-in-crime, "Snake Eyes" Johnson—Public Enemy #1. The "all ashore" is called; "Snake Eyes" has missed the boat. Erma gives Billy his passport and ticket. The ship pulls out to sea with the passengers and crew singing There's No Cure Like Travel/Bon Voyage.

That evening Reno discovers Billy on deck and learns that the woman Billy's in love with is on the ship, too. But she doesn't hold that against him. In fact, when Billy admits that a debutante like Hope may be out of his league, Reno gives him a pep talk (You're The Top). Feeling braver, Billy seeks out Hope, who is both thrilled and horrified to find him on board. She insists she has to marry Lord Evelyn; he insists she is going to marry him (Easy To Love). Meanwhile, Mr. Whitney has developed an amorous interest in Hope's mother. In his cabin he prepares for what he hopes is a romantic tryst (I Want To Row On The Crew).

The next morning: Crew members entertain the passengers on deck (Sailor's Chantey). The Captain, having learned that Public Enemy #1 is hiding aboard, instructs his sailors to ferret out this "master of disguise." Billy, however, is wearing an ill-fitting sailor suit that fools no one. Reno recognizes him immediately and also sees through Moonface's minister getup. Old friends, Reno and Moonface work out a plan to help Billy get Hope: Reno will seduce Lord Evelyn and Moonface will blackmail him into breaking the engagement. Moonface tells Reno they should have teamed up years ago. She agrees—after all, they're two of a kind (Friendship).

The plan to blackmail Lord Evelyn backfires. Reno decides that "Evie" is "kinda cute" and can't go through with the caper. Moonface and Billy adopt new disguises and try to convince Hope's mother that Lord Evelyn is really a deranged imposter, escaped from Bedlam. This scheme also fails when Hope exposes Billy, who exits pursued by sailors. Billy is undaunted and sneaks back to romance Hope (It's De-Lovely), and this time she melts. Unfortunately, having abandoned his disguise, Billy is set upon by the crew. They've finally caught Public Enemy #1! Rather than clap him in irons, however, the Captain—ever eager to satisfy the passengers' desire for celebrities—makes Billy the honorary captain of the ship. Reno, noting how times have changed, leads the company in a rousing tap-filled Anything Goes.

ACT 2. That evening: Billy and Moonface are serenaded by the passengers and crew (Public Enemy Number One), followed by one of Reno's "sermons" (Blow, Gabriel, Blow), during which all the passengers confess their sins, including Lord Evelyn who admits to a "romp in the rice" with a certain Little Plum Blossom when he visited China some years ago. Billy confesses too: he's not really the famous criminal they all thought he was. The crowd immediately turns on him, and he and Moonface are dragged off to the brig. Hope finally admits to herself that she's in love with Billy—too late (Goodbye, Little Dream, Goodbye).

In the ship's brig Moonface tries to cheer Billy up (Be Like The Bluebird). Billy is unmoved, until Erma arrives with a note from his beloved: "Dearest darling, I love you so, but what good is love when there is no hope? Love, Hope." Billy knows that things will work out somehow (All Through The Night). Meanwhile, on deck, Reno encounters Lord Evelyn, who is composing a poem to his beloved. He confides to Reno that he's fallen for her but that his family's code of honor requires that he make good on his promise to marry Hope. When Reno questions how his "romp in the rice" fits in with the Oakley code, he discloses a deep, dark secret (The Gypsy In Me).

The morning of the wedding: A bunch of lovestruck sailors surround Erma, imploring, "We're going to have one wedding, why not two?" Erma wonders if they've considered what married life with her would be like (Buddie, Beware). Finally, the big moment arrives, and all are assembled for the wedding. Billy and Moonface—who've escaped the brig dressed as Chinese—interrupt the ceremony to insist that Lord Evelyn make an honest woman of Little Plum Blossom (actually Reno, in a Chinese disguise). In a triply happy ending, Hope marries Billy, Reno marries Lord Evelyn, and Hope's mother marries Mr. Whitney (I Get A Kick Out Of You/Anything Goes).

RISKS: Theatre Arts programs are "hands on" practical experiences and offer a wide variety of learning opportunities. Our goal is to instruct our students in every aspect of theatre production work—acting, sets, costumes, props, etc. Theatre Arts programs allow students to actively engage in many different types of experiences. As with any such "hands on" work, there are some risks involved. All activities are carefully monitored and safety is stressed. Accidents typically only occur when safety procedures are not followed. In the time since Gaston STAGE Producer, Chuck Stowe, has been with Gaston County Schools there have been no accidents related to his theatre arts activities.

Parents/Guardians know their students best and are more fully aware of shortcomings, limitations and abilities.

Are there other things the Gaston STAGE staff needs to know about your student?

I understand...

...meals are NOT provided, and that my student is expected to bring lunch daily, and snacks as desired. Students should have breakfast before arriving each day.

...there are NO transportation services provided.

...my student should be dropped off between 8:30 and 9:00 each morning and picked up promptly at 6:00 each afternoon.

...payments are due according to the schedule on the Cost & Payment Options sheet. Payment in full is due no later than June 15.
