No tickets will be held for these Ticketmaster shows in advance. Once we receive payment, we will contact you to seat your group in the best available location at that time. Please understand we cannot discuss available ticket locations over the phone unless you are paying for your order in full at that time. Events ticketed by DCI Tickets will have the option to place seats on hold while a check is processed for up to three weeks from the initial order and no more than one week before the show date. All seats on hold for a particular show will be released back for general sale one week before the event.
