

Commodore Randy Lau

FROM THE QUARTERDECK:

Well, we are well past the mid-point of our sailing season, and everything is going well. The Junior Sailing School was a huge success with George Tinker and his staff pulling off a week-long event that involved a record number of junior sailors (41), three classes of boats (Holder Hawks, Sunfish, and Lasers) available on the water, and a lot of members, parents, and grandparents available to help ensure that things would go as smoothly as possible. I even heard the weather was generally cooperative, and winds were fair.

The time is at hand to be thinking seriously about our major wrap-up event for towards the end of the sailing season. Yes, I am thinking about our Labor Day Regatta. Hope you plan to be there, and if you available, to help out. Every year, this takes a major effort of a lot of members to get things done, and to look out for our guests and each other. I encourage everyone to get involved, and pitch in to help on committees, and get to know the inner workings and organization of the event. Butch Gulseth is the overall chair, and I understand that he has most of his chairpersons lined-up, but it still takes most of us to help out, and take care of those things that we may miss in the planning. So, plan to be there, and we will plan on seeing all of you.

Randy Lau, Commodore

ADULT SAILING SCHOOL: The 2005 adult sailing school was enthusiastically welcomed by the students. It was a good class of students that asked good questions and showed great interest in sailing. The weather was much better then last years wet stuff and the students enjoyed two Saturdays of hands on sailing on Tenmile Lake. We have received at least one application to the CBYC by a family taking the class. Our thanks to class room instructors Bruce Harlan and Tom Mills and to Herb Ocobock who used his C Lark to demonstrate and lecture on rigging a sailboat and to those who volunteered boats and sailing instruction to the students during the two Saturdays on the lake: Bruce Harlan, Butch Gulseth, Randy Lau, Jim Moore and Herb Ocobock. Incidentally the class yielded $400 in revenue to the CBYC education program. [Each year, Bob contributes his instructor pay.] Submitted by Bob Mason

FOR SAIL: Geary-18 # 934. New paint, trailer, aluminum mast, cut down center board. Has been under cover storage Space #22 CBYC for several years. This boat is in great condition and is well worth the asking price of $950.00. Call Colin Jenkins at (360)378-3163 or e-mail colin@rockisland.com

FOR SALE: The San Juan 21 Mark 1 "Tallyho" #782 is in good shape. Always in the garage through the winter. All controls (Back-Stay etc.) are on both sides (Port and Starboard). No blisters. Bottom paint put on last year. Jib sail used just two sailing seasons. Main sail four years. All in good shape. The "Easyloader" trailer is in excellent condition. Junior Sailing School 2005

By George Tinker

Junior Sailing School 2005 began with an intimidating enrollment of 40 students, an unprecedented high by a large margin. The end of the week had almost as many competing in three separate race groups. The week was almost a repeat of last years perfect wind. All week the winds were steady and mostly from the west away from the dock. Any capsizing was mostly due to part of the learning how to handle gybes and not gusty wind shifts. The program was centered around classroom instruction for 30 beginning sailors in the morning. This group then split up on the dock in the afternoon with seven high school students sailing Sunfish led by Lynnae Biasca and the remainder sailing Holder Hawks with George Tinker. The 10 experienced advanced students were led by Brit and Jim Gastreich and assisted in strategy lessons by Tom Mills and George Cardas. The advanced group sailed the five newly acquired CBYC Lasers and some additional privately owned Lasers for a Laser class competition. CBYC is very fortunate to be able to provide boats and a program to so many young sailors. We hope they will become life time sailors.

Many parents and regular helpers were present to make the Sailing school a success. A special thanks to Thad and Bernadine Vincent for repair and upkeep of all the CBYC boats. On Thursday two Holder Hawks got parts broken and they were repaired and back in use for Friday sailing. On the water supervision and safety are the top worries of the instructors. All week on safety boats were Herb Ocobock, Dick Vigue and Butch Gulseth along with parent volunteers. On the docks for many years Janice Vigue was catching boats and motivating sailors.

The most improved sailor award is always goes to a first time student in the Holder Hawk group. Devon Carter, age 11, received the award for persistence and every day improvements. We were proud of his progress and always getting back in the boat after capsizing for another cruise rounding the buoys. The Turtle Award went to Blake Kemp.

The Holder Hawk sailors competed on Saturday with elimination races resulting in 10 sailors for the finals.

- First Place - Logan Emlet
- Second Place - Rhys Emlet
- Third Place - Kelly Riley
- Fourth Place - Angel Crabill
- Fifth Place - Brendan Fitzhugh
- Sixth Place - Adam Hood

The Sunfish results were:

- First Place – Anna Helland
- Second Place – Josh Wallace
- Third Place – Devon Carter
- Fourth Place – Danielle Shimotakahara
- Fifth Place – Ben Inokuchi
- Fifth Place – Jaycee Richey

Following the races, the boats were scrubbed and put away. The Awards, photos, cake & ice cream ceremony took place at the Fire Pit Point with students and family.

Advanced Junior Sailing Class

By Britt and Jim Gastreich

Just when we thought the Advanced class couldn't WOW us any more than last year - they did it again! AWESOME as ever, the group showed the true spirit of sportsmanship on the water and off. They all pitched in to help each other rigging boats, catching boats and casting off. We had a new award from the advanced safety boat for "OUTSTANDING SPORTSMANSHIP" which was given to Emily Vincent and Dustin Ocobock for their tireless and selfless efforts at rescuing other sailors and boats in time of need. This year we also had our first "Foreign Exchange Student" - Fillipo Broggin, from Italy, who was visiting with the Martins. Fillipo received the "Most Improved" award after capsizing and turtling many times, getting hit with the boom, never complaining and ending up in 5th place for the final races! Marty Paterson received the infamous "Turtle Award", although he was hotly challenged by many other sailors, especially Chris Sundberg, his final Turtle after the last race on the way in to the dock clinched the award!

The race results after six races and throwing out the worst were as follows:

Place	Sailor	Points
1 st	Emily Vincent	8
2 nd	Dustin Ocobock	11
3 rd	Laura Vincent	13
4 th	Sabrina Ocobock	23
5 th	Fillipo Broggin	26
6 th	Chris Sundberg	28
7 th	Ryan Biasca	33
8 th	Marty Paterson	37
9 th	Tristin Gates	37

Thanks to all of you who helped out with the sailing class - we couldn't have done it without you! Thad & Bernie Vincent, for fixing boats, rigging and generally being there to help out, Stephanie Thomas for the T-shirt design and helping out all week on the docks and safety boat, George Cardas for taking pictures and along with Tom Mills, parting with their secrets to successful racing, Jim Gastreich, Sheryl Sundberg & Tom Mills & their crews for safety boat duties, Devon Biasca and Kris Ocobock and all the parents and other club members who helped out and last, but not by any means least - George Tinker - for sending us these great sailors!

Thanks Advanced Jr. Sailing Class for another wonderful week! Britt & Jim Gastreich

A Moveable Feast

By Bernadine Vincent

Hungry sailors and friends were seen on Tenmile Lake in kayaks, canoes and speedboats making their way to various docks for an afternoon of food and fun for a five course progressive luncheon lasting from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Boaters traveled to three docks on North Lake for the first three parts of the meal. An array of appetizers to delight the senses was waiting for them at the first dock – stuffed mushrooms, spinach and cheese quiche, watermelon, crackers, dip and red salmon mixed with cream cheese and spices to nourish the hungry crew.

Back into vessels and heading to the second dock our water wanderers were not disappointed as zesty no bean chili with carne and cilantro was served with dashes of sour cream on top – it went well with this ravenous group and stirred their senses.

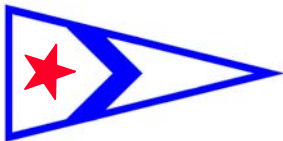

The sun was getting higher in the sky and the sailors headed for the third dock for salads that were cool, crispy and mouthwatering – fruit salad with blueberries dotting the surface, potato salad and seven layered salad along with drinks covered with ice in an ice chest that reflected the rays of the hot blaring sun overhead.

Looking at the compass and the clock it was time to say good-bye to our Northern hosts (and taking some of them on the journey as well). This seafaring group made their way through the canal to South Lake for more of the festivities as hearts beat quickly from miles of paddling oars to arrive to their fourth destination.

A barbecue was in progress as the hosts spotted the sailors. Cool drinks and sizzling sounds from the grill greeted the boaters as they flopped into chairs and hammocks on this summer day as chatter and laughter filled the air. Exhaustion was replaced with renewed energy as the group was nourished once again at the skilled hands of hosts who gave so much.

One more dock and one more part of the meal to conclude this delightful trip. As all good things must come to an end – what a sweet parting for our motley crew with windblown hair, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes as they arrived at their final destination where masts and canvas came into view. The travelers eagerly climbed out of their vessels exchanging oars for spoon...knowing that the best was yet to come!
