

Requirements in General

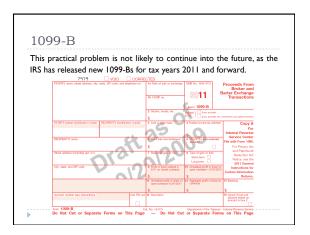

The "1099" is the prescribed information form businesses are required to file with the IRS to comply with their reporting requirements. Treas. Reg. §1.6041-1(a)(2).

There are multiple 1099's and various uses thereof depending on the circumstances. Some of the common 1099's your clients are likely to encounter include:

- 1099-A
- 1099-B
- 1099-C
- 1099-S 1099-MISC

099-A
9-A is generally used by a lend uisition or abandonment of pr cally includes: (a) Abandonmer	operty that is	s security t	for a debt. Th
8080 □ VOID □ CORR	ECTED
LENDER'S name, street address, city, state, ZIP code, and telephone no.		20 10 Form 1099-A	Acquisition or Abandonment of Secured Property
LENDER'S federal identification number BORROWER'S (dentification number	1 Date of leader's acquisition or knowledge of abandonment	2 Balance of principal outstanding	Copy A For Internal Revenue
BORROWER'S name	8	4 Fair market value of pro	Service Center File with Form 1096. For Privacy Act and Paperwork
Street address (including apt. no.)	5 Was borrower personally lial	ble for repayment of the de	ebt? Reduction Act
City, state, and ZIP code	6 Description of property		2010 General Instructions for Account number (see instructions)	+		Certain Information Returns.

A 1000 C :-				المائد المائد
A 1099-C is a	,
owed to a	financiai inst	itution or	another	organizatio
having a signific	ant trade or b	usiness of le	nding mo	ney.
				-/-
8585	VOID COR		OMB No. 1545-1424
O'LLOTO TO TAIN, SHALL BUT	and one man in the same and anything		2010
		2 Amount of debt canceled	ZU 1 U	Cancellation
		$
		$ a Interest if included in box 2	4000 0	of Debt
CREDITOR'S tederal identification	number DEBTOR'S identification number	$ 3 Interest if included in box 2 $ 4 Debt description	Form 1099-C
	number DEBTOR'S identification number	$	Form 1099+C	Copy A For
CREDITOR'S federal identification DESTOR'S name	number DEBTOR'S identification number	$	Form 1099-C	Copy A For Internal Revenue Service Center
DEBTOR'S name		$ 4 Debt description		Copy A For Internal Revenue Service Center File with Form 1096.
		$		Copy A For Internal Revenue Service Center File with Form 1096. For Privacy Act and Poperson's Reduction
DEBTOR'S name		$ 4 Debt description	le for repayment of the del	Copy A For Internal Revenue Service Center File with Form 1096. For Privacy Act and Expensive Reduction Act Notice, see the 2001 General
DESTOR'S name Street address (including apt.)	no.)	$ 4 Debt description	de for repayment of the del	Copy A For Internal Revenue Service Center File with Form 1096. For Privacy Act and Paperson's Heckuston Act Motics, ase the 2010 General Instructions for

ents are unaware Return ("SFR"). 99-B's, i.e., no basi	The typical pr	til 1	the IRS pre lem encou	pares and the state of the stat	files ne s	a Substitut ame as wit
7575	□ VOID □ CORRE	СТЕ	D
FILER'S name, street address, city, st	ste, ZIP code, and telephone no.	1	Date of closing	OMB No. 1545-0997
				0040	De	nceeds From Real
		2	Gross proceeds	2010		state Transactions
		5		Form 1099-S
FILER'S federal identification number	TRANSFEROR'S identification number		Address or legal description	in (including city, state, and	ZIP code	Copy A
TRANSFEROR'S name		t				For Internal Revenue Service Center
Street address (including spt. no.)		†				File with Form 1096. For Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act
		1.	man to the state of the state of	or received or will receive		Notice, see the 2010
City, state, and ZIP code		11		art of the consideration		General Instructions for

Do Not Cut or Separate Forms on This Page — Do Not Cut or Separate Forms on This Page

1099-MISC

The MOST common 1099 you and your clients are likely to encounter with respect to litigation awards is 1099-MISC.

Boxes 3, 7 and Box 14 are the most common reporting items with respect to litigation recoveries.

>

1099-MISC
PAYER'S name, street address, city, state, 2IP code, and telephone no. 1 Rents OMB No. 1546-01 2 Togettes From 1099-MIS	Miscellaneous Income
S Other booms 4 Februal some 3 Other booms 4 Februal some 4 Februal some 5 S PAYER'S federal identification number RECPRENT'S identification number 8 Fishing load proceeds 6 Media and helf	tax withheld Copy A For h care payments Internal Revenue Service Center
SECPENT'S name S SEction Symme S S S S S S S S S	and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice, see the
Selection of the selec	2010 General Instructions for Certain Information Returns.
Account number (see instructions) Part IN not 93 Discuss golden parachise (4 Gross prode parachise (4 Gross prode parachise) (4 Gross prode parachise) (5 S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S	state no. 18 State income $ $
Form 1099-MISC Cat. No. 14425J Department of the Do Not Cut or Separate Forms on This Page — Do Not Cut or Separate	re Treasury - Internal Revenue Service de Forms on This Page
Specific Events Triggering a 1099 R	enorting
Requirement and Surrounding Issu
Two questions must be asked when	- thholding requirements for a litigation recovery:
What does the recovery represent?
2. How will it be paid?
>
1 What does the Payment Penre	Sent2
1. What does the Payment Repre Whether a litigation recovery is or is not income, ar type of income, will largely dictate its tax treatment reporting requirements.
The regulations say that:
The amount to be reported as paid to a payee is the amount gross income of the payee.	includible in the
Treas. Reg.	§1.6041-1(f)(1).
Thus determining whether a recovery is income or	not is crucial.
J

What is Income?
Except as otherwise provided in this subtitle, gross income means all income from whatever source derived, including (but not limited to) the following items:
 Compensation for services, including fees, commissions, fringe benefits, and similar items; Gross income derived from business;
(3) Gains derived from dealings in property; (4) Interest;
(7) interest, (5) Rents; (6) Royalties;
(7) Dividends;
(8) Alimony and separate maintenance payments; (9) Annuities; (10) Income from life insurance and endowment contracts;
(11) Pensions;
(12) Income from discharge of indebtedness; (13) Distributive share of partnership gross income;
(14) Income in respect of a decedent; and (15) Income from an interest in an estate or trust.
IRC §61
yo.
>
What is Income?	_
T1 ": "
Thus "income" is extremely broad. Any economic gain, i.e., an accession to wealth, should be treated as income unless specifically exempted under the Code.
·

, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,
Awards and Prizes
(a) General rule Except as otherwise provided in this section or in section 117 (relating to qualified scholarships), gross income includes amounts received as prizes and awards. IRC §74
•
Thus, initially assume an award or prize as a litigation recovery is gross income unless an exception applies.
Moreover, the regulations state that:
Amounts paid as prizes and awards that are required to be included in gross income when paid in the course of a trade or business are required to be reported in returns of information Treas. Reg. §1.6041-1(d)(3)
Instructions to Form 1099-MISC say to "enter in box 3 prizes and awards that are not for services performed."

	•
4 1 15
Awards and Prizes
But a litigation award could represent many things. Two fundamental types of awards and prizes exist:
a. Wage Compensation
b. Non-Wage Damages
)
	1
a Wasa Arrand
a. Wage Award If a litigation award represents compensation for wages in some way, it is subject to withholding and employment taxes. See IRC §3402.
• "Wages" are defined as "all remuneration for services performed by an employee for his employer, including the cash value of all remuneration (including benefits) paid in any medium other than cash"	-
IRC §3401(a)
.
- 117
a. Wage Awards
 Back Pay – most find that back wages are wages for services rendered, and subject to withholding and employment taxes.
See Social Security Board v. Nierotko , 327 U.S. 358 (1946).
 Font Pay – not all courts find that front pay, i.e., payment for services not yet rendered, are wages subject to withholding and employment taxes.
This dichotomy is in a current state of flux, and the IRS is in the process of looking at the issue.

b. Nonwage Damages
That part of a litigation award that does not represent wages (e.g., punitive damages, emotional suffering, etc.) may or may not be taxable to your client.
taxable to your client.
A 11
As a result, they may or may not require a 1099.
P	-
Award and Prize Exception
nward and rize Exception
The principle exception to the taxation of an award or prize is IRC §104:
	•
gross income does not include (2) the amount of any damages (other than punitive damages) received (whether by suit or agreement and whether as lump sums or as periodic payments) on account of personal physical injuries or physical sickness

Punitive Damages
Thus as a general rule punitive damages would be included in your client's gross income and would require a 1099-MISC.
Exception to the Exception - §104(c):
The phrase "(other than punitive damages)" shall not apply to punitive damages awarded in a civil action—
(1) which is a wrongful death action, and
(2) with respect to which applicable State law (as in effect on September 13, 1995 and without regard to any modification after such date) provides, or has been construed to provide by a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to a decision issued on or before September 13, 1995, that only punitive damages may be awarded in such an action.
This subsection shall cease to apply to any civil action filed on or after the first date on which the applicable State law ceases to provide (or is no longer construed to provide) the treatment described in paragraph (2).
>

Cancellation of Debt
A debt is any amount owed to another, including principal, interest, fees, penalties, etc. When a debt is canceled, that amount is considered income because the borrower has been unjustly enriched due to the discharged obligation to repay the debt.
C
Cancellation of debt is reported on Form 1099-C, NOT 1099-MISC.
There are many exclusions to the tax consequences of cancellation of debt income; however, it will still be reported on Form 1099-C.
,
Unlike a 1099-MISC, the instructions to 1099-C specifically state that:
Form 1099-C must be filed regardless of whether the debtor is required to report the debt as income.
report the debt as income.
N
Cancellation of Daht Evaluations
Cancellation of Debt Exclusions
Although not an exception to the reporting requirements, there are exclusions to the taxation of discharged debt.
and an analysis of the analysis of district good depth
The typical exclusions where discharge of debt is not included in
The typical exclusions where discharge of debt is not included in gross income include:
The discharge occurred in a Title 11 case (bankruptcy),
The taxpayer was insolvent immediately before the discharge,
3. The debt was "qualified farm indebtedness,"
4. The debt was "qualified real property business indebtedness," or
5. The debt was "qualified principle residence indebtedness."
IRC §108(a)(1)

Ingolyanov
Insolvency
If, immediately before the debt was cancelled,
•
your client's total liabilities exceed the fair market value of their assets, the canceled debt income is not included in their gross income to the extent they are insolvent.
To report the exclusion, your client should usually file
Form 982 with their federal income tax return.
)

Insolvency	-
Example I
— ·················
Your client is released from an obligation to pay a debt of $5,000. Their financial situation is as follows immediately before the $5,000 debt is canceled:
Assets: $7,000 Liabilities: $15,000
Thus your client is insolvent to the extent of $8,000 ($15,000)
- $7,000).
Your client would not have to include in their gross income the $5,000 canceled debt.
	_
Ingolyronov
Insolvency
Example 2
Similar situation, in that your client is relieved of an obligation to pay $5,000. However, their financial situation immediately before the cancellation is as follows:
Assets: $7,000 Liabilities: $10,000
7 155 Cts. 47,500 Elabilities. 410,500
Thus your client is insolvent to the extent of $3,000
($10,000 – $7,000). Accordingly, $3,000 of the $5,000 discharged debt can be excluded from your client's gross income.
	_
	¬
Qualified Principal Residence Indebtedness
If the debt is "qualified principle residence indebtedness" (e.g., home mortgage), your client may be able to exclude some, or all of the canceled debt.
Consulting date to analytical autorials and the control of the con Generally, a debt is qualified principle residence indebtedness if it is incurred to buy, build, or substantially improve your client's main home. It does include a refinance if incurred to buy, build, or substantially improve the main home, to the extent of the first mortgage principle balance before refinancing. The discharge cannot be a result of services performed for the lender or any other factor not directly related to a decline in the home's value or financial condition of the taxpayer.
Geemie in the nomes value of imancial condition of the taxpayer.
A principle residence is generally a home that your client owned and used as their principle place of residence for 2 years or moré in a 5 year period leading up to the discharge.
·
 The limit is generally $2,000,000 ($1,000,000 for married filing joint clients).
	1

	,
Attorneys Fees
Attorney fees paid as a component of a litigation recovery may be taxable and require a 1099.
,
Two theories exist:
L Payment of Liability
2. Anticipatory Assignment of Income
r e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e e 1
Attorneys Fees as Income Payment of Liability Index this theory your client is contractually obligated to you (by Under this theory, your client is contractually obligated to you (by expressed retainer agreement or implied) for their fees. When the litigation concludes they are indebted to you and the payment of that litigation concludes, they are indebted to you, and the payment of that obligation (i.e., a discharged debt) by the other party creates an economic gain for your client.
See Old Colony Trust Co. v. CIR, 279 U.S. 716 (1929).
 Anticipatory Assignment of Income Under this more modern theory, the total recovery thought of as an economic gain to your client, and they cannot assign that income to you in an attempt to avoid taxation.
› See CIR v. Banks , 543 U.S. 426 (2005).
Suffice it to say, it is well established that attorney fees are taxable income to your client However, they may be able to deduct certain attorneys fees, but that is beyond the scope of this presentation.
	•
Attorney Fees as Income
Exception – PLR 135328-09
This involved a case where the client had no expressed or implied obligation to pay attorneys fees. No contingency fee existed because the client has expressly agreed to a pro bono fee arrangement
 As a result, there can be no anticipatory assignment of income No legal fees were sought on behalf of the client as part of the litigation
 As a result, there was no payment of liability doctrine.

	٦
2. How Will it Be Paid?
We've addressed what the litigation recovery represents, but how it is paid out will impact the reporting of it.
reporting or it.	-
Three basic scenarios exist:
Payment directly to the client
Payment to you (the attorney)Payment from you (the attorney)
)
	1
Paid Directly to Client	-
If the recovery is included in your client's gross income under the principles above, the amount is over $600, and the other side is operated for gain or profit and the payment is made in the course of that trade or business, the opposition will likely file an appropriate 1099.
>
Paid Directly to Client Example
You are successful in a breach of contract action, and the	- defendant must pay your client \$140,000. Of that \$140,000, \$100,000 represents damages and \$40,000 represents attorney fees. The defendant must issue a 1099-MISC to your client reporting \$140,000 as other income because it is $\rm \acute{i}$ included in their gross income.
This rule holds true even if two checks (i.e., $100,000 to your client and $40,000 directly to you) are written, as discussed infra.
Treas. Reg. §1.6041-2(f)(2)

	7
Paid to You (attorney)
Special rules exist for the reporting of recoveries paid to attorneys.
Any person engaged in a trade or business and making a payment (in the course of such trade or business) to which this subsection applies shall file a return with respect to such payment.
(2) Application of subsection
(A) In general This subsection shall apply to any payment to an attorney in connection with legal services (whether or not such services are performed for the payor).
(B) Exception This subsection shall not opply to the portion of any payment which is required to be reported under section 8041. (a) (or would be so required but for the dollar limitation contained therein) or section 8051.
IRC §6045(f)
Paid to You (attorney)
If applicable, payments to you as an attorney are reported on 1099-MISC, box 14. The instructions to that form state that:
Under section 6045(f), report in box 14 payments to an attorney made in the course of your trade or business in connection with legal services, for example, as in a settlement agreement, unless the attorney's fees are reportable by you in box 7These rules apply whether or not the legal services are provided to the payer and whether or not the attorney is exclusive payee (for example, the attorney's and claimant's names are on one check) or other information returns are required for some or all of a payment under section 6041A(a)(1). For example, a person who, in the course of a trade or business, pays $600 of taxable damages to a claimant by paying that amount to a claimant's attorney is required to furnish Form 1099-MISC to the claimant under section 6041 and furnish Form 1099-MISC to the claimant's attorney under section 6045(f).
>
]
	1
Paid to You (attorney)
Exceptions – some payments may not qualify or be exempt from this requirement:
F
 Payment to attorney acting as trustee in Title 11 bankruptcy case.
 Payments not giving attorney right to negotiate the check Having the check made payable to "client c/o attorney" would not make the attorney the sole, joint, or alternative payee and no 1099- MISC would be required.Treas. Reg. § 1.6045-5(d)(4).
	1

Paid to You (attorney) Example I ▶ You successfully sue Defendant for your client's back wages and settle for $300,000. Defendant writes a settlement check payable jointly to you and your client. Defendant gives you the check, and you retain $100,000 for legal services and give the $200,000 to your client. Defendant must file a 1099-MISC for your client, putting $300,000 in box 3, AND a 1099-MISC for you putting $300,000 in box 14. Paid to You (attorney) Example 2 You represent a client who successfully sues for damages stemming from a personal physical injury and settle for $300,000. ▶ They physical injury award is excluded from you client's gross income because of IRC §104. Defendant writes the $300,000 check payable to you and your client, of which you retain $120,000 for your services and remit the remaining $180,000 to your client. Defendant must file a 1099-MISC for YOU, putting $300,000 in box 14, but Defendant does NOT have to file a 1099-MISC for your client. Paid to You (attorney) Example 3 You successfully sue for a client and recover $300,000 from Defendant, which is included in your client's gross You instruct Defendant to issue two checks: $200,000 to your client and $100,000 to yourself for legal fees. Defendant file a 1099-MISC for YOU putting $100,000 in box 14,AND a 1099-MISC for your client, putting $300,000 in box 3.

	1
Paid by You
You generally do NOT have to report payment to your clients. However, there are exceptions.
Under the regulations, you as an attorney need to issue a 1099-MISC if one of the following is true:
You perform management or oversight functions in connection with the litigation recovery. This excludes the ministerial function of writing a check to your client.
 You have a significant economic interest in the litigation recovery such that your interest would be compromised if the payment were not made (e.g., a lien existed).
Treas. Reg. §1.6041-1(e)(1)
However, the oversight and economic interest tests are payee specific, i.e., with respect to the specific recipient, have you met one of the two tests?
)
	•
Paid by You
Example I
You receive a settlement payment from Defendant and deposit the funds into your IOLTA account.
You make payments to service providers (e.g., expert witnesses, private investigators) incurred during litigation. You decide who to hire, negotiated amounts, and handle disputes about payment thereof.
 With respect to these payments, you ARE performing management or oversight functions and are required to 1099 the payee.
•
	1
Paid by You
Example 2
Same as previous example, but at the end of the day you pay the remaining funds (net legal fees) to the client.
You are not performing management or oversight functions with respect to that payment and are NOT required to 1099 your client.

State Law Concerns
Variance in Reporting There is little or no independent reporting requirement at the State level. 1099 information is generally shared between the IRS and FTB and no separate filing is necessary
Variance on Income Doctrines There are significant income doctrine differences.
	1
Different Approach to Income
Under the first question (i.e., what does the payment represent), there is no change to the reporting requirement, but the taxation thereof may be different for State law purposes.
California follows the Federal definition of gross income, unless specified elsewhere. Cal. Rev. & Tax. Code § 1707 1. Thus gross income for California purposes still includes: • Awards and Prizes.
 Cancellation of Debt Attorney Fees
 California follows the Federal definition of items specifically excluded from gross income, unless specified elsewhere. Cal. Rev. & Tax. Code §17131.
	1
Different Approaches to Income
The critical difference for our purposes is the exclusions from discharge of indebtedness income, namely the "qualified principal residence indebtedness" exclusion.
 Under Federal law, the exclusion applies to a discharged debt that occurs before January 1, 2013.
 The previous version allowed for the exclusion only if the discharge occurred before January 1, 2010. However the passage of Pub. L. 110-343 (Emergency Economic However the passage of Pub. L. 110-343 (Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008) changed the date to apply to discharges up to January 1, 2013.
 Under California law, no corresponding extension was passed. The California exclusion for "qualified principle residence indebtedness" applies to discharges before January 1, 2009. Cal. Rev. & Tax. Code §17144.5(b).
>	