ABOUT LOVED TWICE

Loved Twice clothes newborns in need with recycled baby clothing for their first year of life. Our nonprofit's community volunteers collect gently-used baby clothing, sort these precious garments into boy and girl wardrobes-in-a-box, and distribute the boxes through licensed social workers in hospitals, shelters, and clinics. Each baby receives approximately 75 items, including newborn onesies, sleepers, hats, booties, books, and a warm soft blanket.

Founded in 2005 to help the infant victims of Hurricane Katrina, Loved Twice has since clothed 4000 newborns in need with over 30,000 pounds of baby clothes. Considering a newborn onesie weighs just over one ounce, this significant volume has been saved from landfills and recycled back to the most precious among us.

3500 newborns in need, please visit...
