If you agree with the information reported by other sources

Differences between your 2008 Form 1040 and information from other sources

This section tells you specifically what income information the IRS received about you from others (including your employers, banks, mortgage holders, etc.). This information doesn't match the information you reported on your tax return.

Use the table to compare the data the IRS received from others to the information you reported on your tax return to understand where the difference(s) occurred. To assist you in reviewing your income amounts, the table may include both reported and unreported amounts.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Received from	Address	Account Information	Shown on return	Reported to IRS by others	D fference
[REDACTED]	[REDACTED]	[REDACTED]	$ [REDACTED]	$ [REDACTED]	$ [REDACTED]

MISIDENTIFIED INCOME

If any of the income shown on this notice is not yours, send us the name, address, and social security number of the person who received the income. Please notify the payers to correct their records to show the name and social security number of the person who actually received the income, so that future reports to us are accurate.

FORM W-2 OR 1099 NOT RECEIVED

The law requires you to report your income correctly. If your payers did not send you a yearly income statement (Form W-2, Form 1099, etc.), you must use the information you have (pay stubs, monthly income statements, deposit slips, etc.) to estimate the total amount of income you received during the year.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION

Our records show that you sold or transferred real estate during 2008. However, your tax return does not show this transaction. The gain from real estate transactions in excess of any applicable exclusion amount must be reported on your tax return for the year the transaction(s) occur. Refer to Publication 523, Selling Your Home, for information regarding applicable exclusions and the correct forms or schedules needed to report the sale. Refer to Publication 544, Sales and Other Dispositions of Assets, for information regarding the correct forms or schedules needed to report the disposition of other types of assets. Please complete the appropriate form(s) or schedule(s) and provide them to us along with:

- Verification of your cost or adjusted basis in the property,
- The date the asset was acquired for each Form 1099-S transaction shown on this notice.
- A statement as to how you used each property, e.g. personal residence, second home, rental, investment or business use.

POTENTIAL ADJUSTMENT OF NONREFUNDABLE CREDITS

You included unused nonrefundable credits on your tax return. Please review your tax return to determine if, based on our proposal, the IRS needs to adjust any of these credits. In order to claim additional unused nonrefundable credits, send us a signed statement showing the additional unused credits you want to use. If you have already applied the unused credits to another tax year, you need to file a Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Tax Return for the other year with the appropriate Internal Revenue Service Center. If the tax return for the affected period has not yet been filed, confirm with a signed statement that your records have been corrected.

ACCURACY PENALTY FOR SUBSTANTIAL TAX UNDERSTATEMENT - IRC SECTION 6662(d)

If we increase your tax, and the increase exceeds 10% of the corrected tax and is also equal to or greater than $5,000, the law requires an accuracy-related penalty due to substantial understatement of tax. The penalty is 20% of your tax increase. The penalty may be reduced or not charged if you:

- Provide the substantial authority (such as, Internal Revenue Code, Regulations, Revenue Rulings, Revenue Procedures, etc.) you used to decide how to treat your income or deduction, or
- Tell us where on your return you clearly show the facts supporting your treatment of the income or deduction, or
- Submit a signed statement that clearly outlines the facts supporting your treatment of the understated income.
