Our success as a company is built on the bedrock of delivering high quality services, and products, so reliably that our customers -- successful retailers -- overwhelmingly choose us as their fixture supplier. We have built our reputation as leader of the industry on operational excellence: reliably providing superior service, offering short lead times, and a broad array of high quality products.

Our success as a company is also built on providing a challenging and growth oriented environment for our employees. Just as our customers, we want our employees to overwhelmingly choose us as their employer. We have high expectations and strive for open, direct communication. We try to place an emphasis on teamwork, participation, and consensus. Being a successful employer means engaging with our employees by constantly challenging them to be their best so we can be our best.

Our success as a company depends on how effectively we meet our customers' needs and connect with our employees. We believe core values matter. And we know we have to continuously embrace change in our organization in order to drive growth. We have zero tolerance for complacency.

We hope you will consider Lozier as your employer to keep us strong and successful for the benefit of our customers, our people, and our company. The caliber of our people determines our success.
