Applicant: Patricia S. King

Knowledge & Creativity

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: Pat's knowledge of the field is very strong.

D. Edwards: Pat has a greater breadth of knowledge of the field than do many graduate students. She reads voraciously and loves to discuss what she has read.

R. Gauthier: Patricia is very creative and an excellent writer.

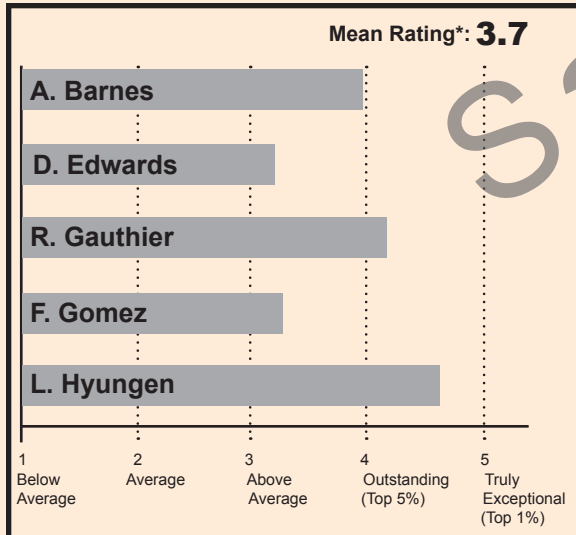

F. Gomez: Patricia consistently came up with novel and interesting ideas in our staff meetings.

L. Hyungen: Patricia is one of our strongest undergraduate majors. She has genuine intellectual curiosity, a quality that will serve her well in graduate school.

*The bars represent each evaluator's average rating for the category. "Insufficient opportunity to evaluate" responses are excluded.

Communication Skills

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: Pat's communication skills, especially in writing, are very strong.

D. Edwards: Patricia is an excellent writer and expresses herself well orally.

R. Gauthier: Patricia is an excellent writer.

F. Gomez: Patricia speaks very well. Her writing is also very good.

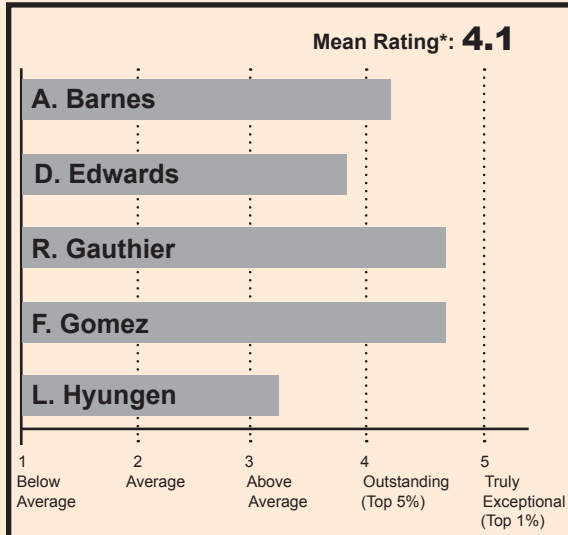

L. Hyungen: Patricia is one of the very best undergraduate writers I have encountered in recent years. Her writing is polished and well-organized, with a definite flair. Her oral communication skills are also very strong. She gave an outstanding presentation on Emily Dickinson in the senior seminar.

*The bars represent each evaluator's average rating for the category. "Insufficient opportunity to evaluate" responses are excluded.

Applicant: Patricia S. King

Teamwork

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: Patricia comes across as very open and friendly. She did a really nice group presentation with the other honors majors.

D. Edwards: My strong impression is that Patricia works well with others.

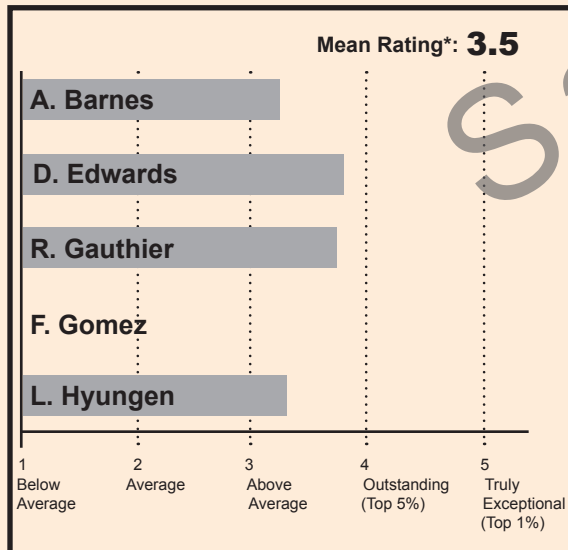

R. Gauthier: I emphasize collaboration and teamwork in my classes and Patricia shines in this area.

F. Gomez: Patricia works well with the other people at the company.

L. Hyungen: Patricia is an active participant in class discussions but does not dominate the discussion. She listens to others' ideas and gives honest yet respectful feedback.

*The bars represent each evaluator's average rating for the category. "Insufficient opportunity to evaluate" responses are excluded.

Resilience

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: Patricia has really grown in this area. I find her very open to feedback and willing to learn from other points of view.

D. Edwards: Patricia is able to accept feedback without getting defensive.

R. Gauthier: Patricia is a very hard worker and seems able to handle the stresses of attending classes, writing an honors thesis and applying to grad school while working more than twenty hours a week.

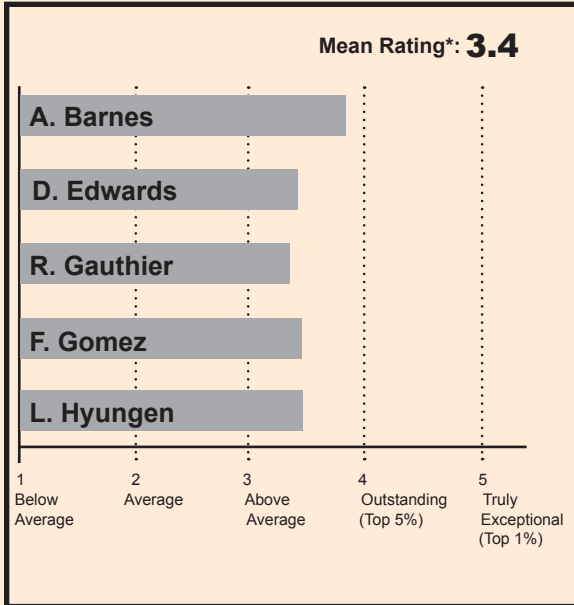

F. Gomez:

L. Hyungen: Patricia is a very hard worker.

*The bars represent each evaluator's average rating for the category. "Insufficient opportunity to evaluate" responses are excluded.

Planning and Organization

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: Patricia is an exceptionally organized young woman. She planned her thesis very carefully and stuck to her schedule. She met all her deadlines and handed in the work on time. The result was a polished product.

D. Edwards: Patricia is very organized and plans her time well. I have never known her to not be prepared for class or to hand in work late.

R. Gauthier: Very organized, well-prepared.

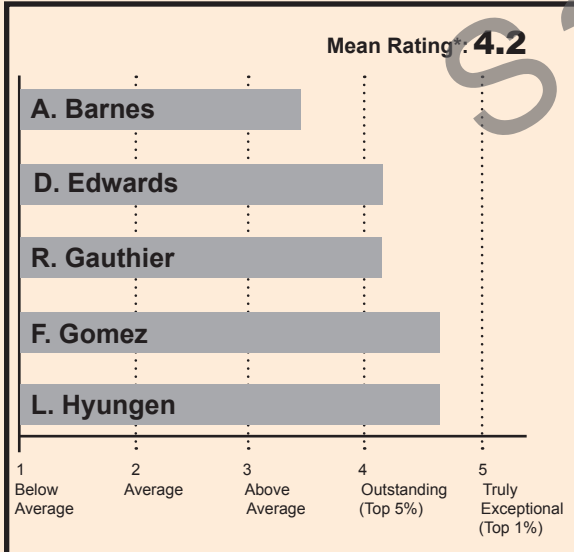

F. Gomez: Patricia organizes her time well. She does an impressive job of managing the competing demands of working half-time while going to school full-time.

L. Hyungen: Dependable and well-organized in all respects.

*The bars represent each evaluator's average rating for the category. "Insufficient opportunity to evaluate" responses are excluded.

Ethics and Integrity

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: I have found Patricia to be a very ethical person. I have no concerns in this regard whatsoever.

D. Edwards: I trust Patricia implicitly.

R. Gauthier: Very sincere, straightforward, honest.

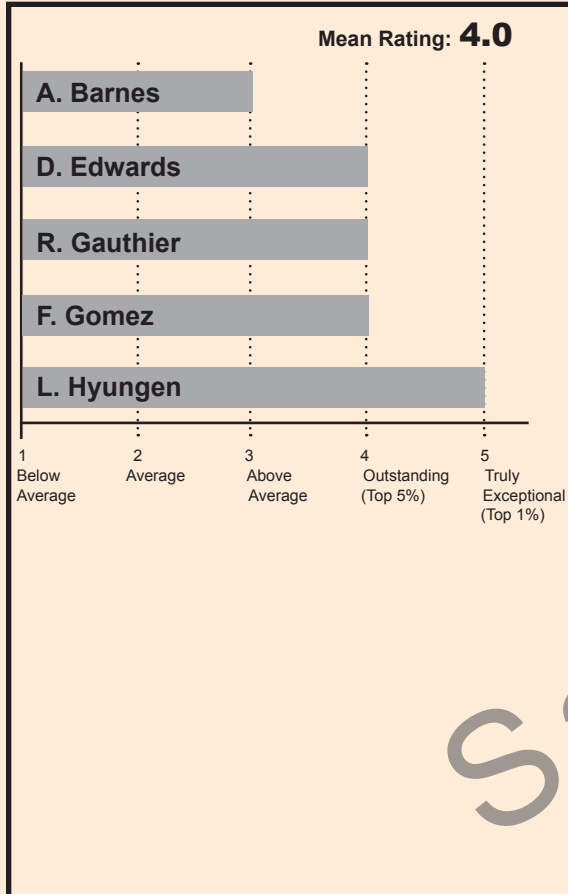

F. Gomez: Patricia is a very dependable and honest person.

L. Hyungen: Patricia maintains the highest ethical standards.

*The bars represent each evaluator's average rating for the category. "Insufficient opportunity to evaluate" responses are excluded.

Overall Evaluation

Evaluator Comments

A. Barnes: I first knew Patricia when she was a freshman. She was a good student then, but she has really blossomed in the past two years as she has become more confident and experienced. Her honors thesis was excellent – thoroughly researched and well-written. She would do well in any graduate program.

D. Edwards: Patricia is the exactly the sort of person who should be in graduate school. She is smart, knowledgeable, totally captivated by American literature, and eager to share her discoveries with others. Furthermore, she has just the right temperament to be a successful grad student. She is rarely discouraged or thrown off-course and she will stick with the program and get her degree.

R. Gauthier: Patricia is extremely hardworking and conscientious. She was always prepared for class and contributed regularly to class discussions.

F. Gomez: I have employed many Carlisle State students over the years, and Patricia is one of the best. Not only is she thoroughly dependable, but she also takes initiative to spot problems and suggest solutions. I recommend her without reservation.

L. Hyungen: She will be an asset to your program. Her enthusiasm for literature is infectious; she’s an extremely hard worker; she’s well-organized; she writes beautifully; and she always accomplishes what she sets out to do.
