

Cornell notes

Support Description

There is no one right way to take notes in class. One effective note-taking system is called The Cornell System, which was designed by Walter Pauk, emeritus, at Cornell University. To use this system you will need a large loose-leaf notebook. This allows you to insert class handouts, rearrange notes easily, or remove notes to spread them out and study.

<http://www.eleven21.com/notetaker/examples/ruled.pdf>

The Cornell Note-taking System

Adapted from How to Study in College 7^e by Walter Pauk, 2001 Houghton Mifflin Company