

Refund Application—Instructions

GENERAL INFORMATION

You may choose to refund your contributions and interest if you terminate CalSTRS-covered employment. If you worked in a CalSTRS-covered position after January 1, 2001, you have both a Defined Benefit and a Defined Benefit Supplement account. Taking a Defined Benefit and Defined Benefit Supplement refund terminates your membership with CalSTRS and forfeits your rights to all CalSTRS benefits. CalSTRS cannot issue a partial Defined Benefit or Defined Benefit Supplement refund.

Employment Termination: You must terminate all CalSTRS-covered employment in the California public school system before applying for a refund. Substitute teaching, including part-time substituting, qualifies as employment and must be terminated in order to receive a refund. Termination means an action by you as the employee, such as employment resignation, or action by your employer, such as dismissal or layoff. Termination does not automatically occur at the end of the school year.

Payment Time Frame: Your Defined Benefit refund may be processed in two phases. The initial payment will include contributions and interest posted to your account as of the date your refund was processed and will be mailed approximately 30 days after CalSTRS receives your complete Refund Application. If additional contributions and interest are posted to your account after the initial payment is issued, CalSTRS will issue a second payment approximately four months later.

Your Defined Benefit Supplement refund, or termination benefit, may be paid at a later date than your Defined Benefit refund. Current law prohibits CalSTRS from distributing your Defined Benefit Supplement Termination Benefit until six months after your employment termination date. Defined Benefit Supplement funds continue to earn interest while they remain in your Defined Benefit Supplement account. If you return to CalSTRS-covered employment within the six-month waiting period, you are not eligible for a Defined Benefit Supplement Termination Benefit.

By law, CalSTRS cannot distribute more than one Defined Benefit Supplement Termination Benefit to a member within a five-year period. If you apply for a Defined Benefit Supplement Termination Benefit prior to five years since your last Defined Benefit Supplement Termination Benefit payment, CalSTRS cannot process your request until five years have passed.

Cancellation of a Refund: You may cancel your refund if you return the Defined Benefit and Defined Benefit Supplement funds in full to CalSTRS within 30 days of the payment issue date.

COMPLETING THE REFUND APPLICATION

Fill out your application form in black or blue ink and keep a copy for your records. If the information is not correct and legible, your refund payments will be delayed and your application will be returned to you for correction. If you make a mistake completing the application, line through the error, make your correction and initial the change.

CalSTRS Pension2® Rollovers: You may select CalSTRS Pension2 for your rollover of contributions and interest without obtaining the financial institution representative's signature. CalSTRS will obtain the required signatures on your behalf.

SECTION 6: TAX WITHHOLDING PREFERENCES

CalSTRS is required to withhold 20 percent federal tax on all payments distributed directly to you. If you choose to have state tax withheld from your benefit payment, CalSTRS will withhold at 10 percent of your federal income tax withholding. For example, if you have 20 percent federal tax withholding, your state withholding will be 2 percent.

CalSTRS is generally required to withhold 30 percent federal income tax from all distributions mailed to a foreign country.

Addresses Outside California: In compliance with federal law, CalSTRS will not withhold California income tax from your payment if you live outside the state unless you choose to have state tax withheld. CalSTRS does not withhold income tax for states other than California.

Previously taxed member contributions are not taxable but are eligible for rollover. All interest is taxable and is eligible for rollover. Separate payments will be issued for the taxable and nontaxable portions of the distribution. CalSTRS is not able to process rollovers to financial institutions outside the U.S. In addition, CalSTRS does not roll over or withhold federal or state income tax from refunds that are less than $200.

SECTION 7: REQUIRED SIGNATURES

Sign and date your Refund Application. If you are married or registered as a domestic partner, your spouse or partner also must sign and date your application. Your signature date is the date you signed your application. Your signature must be within six months of the date CalSTRS receives your application.

If your spouse or registered domestic partner does not sign your application, you must include a completed and signed Justification for Non-Signature of Spouse or Registered Domestic Partner form with your application.

If you divorced or terminated a registered domestic partnership and a portion of your CalSTRS benefits was awarded to a former spouse or partner, check the box that indicates this. You may need to refer to your settlement agreement to make this determination. In addition, if your court documents have not been reviewed by CalSTRS, you may be asked to provide them later.

Section 8: Special Tax Notice: Your Rollover Options

INTRODUCTION

You are receiving this notice because all or a portion of your CalSTRS Defined Benefit, Defined Benefit Supplement or Cash Balance payment is eligible to be rolled over to an IRA or an employer plan. This notice is intended to help you decide whether to do such a rollover.

Rules that apply to most CalSTRS payments are described in the “General Information About Rollovers” section. Special rules that only apply in certain circumstances are described in the “Special Rules and Options” section.

Certain California tax information also is provided. In general, California law conforms to the Internal Revenue Code. However, there are continuing differences between California and federal law. For additional information, visit ftb.ca.gov.

30-Day Notice Period and Your Right to Waive

Generally, CalSTRS cannot make a direct rollover or a payment to you until at least 30 days after you receive this notice. If you do not wish to wait until this 30-day notice period ends before your payment is processed, you may waive the notice period.

GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT ROLLOVERS

How can a rollover affect my taxes?

You will be taxed on your CalSTRS payment if you do not roll it over. If you are under age 59½ and do not do a rollover, you also will have to pay a 10 percent additional federal income tax and a 2.5 percent additional California state tax on early distributions, unless an exception applies (see page 8).

If you do a rollover, however, you will not have to pay tax until you receive payments later and the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax will not apply if those payments are made after you are age 59½, or if an exception applies.

Where may I roll over my CalSTRS payment?

You may roll over the payment to either an IRA (an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity) or an employer plan (a tax-qualified plan, section 403(b) plan, or governmental section 457(b) plan) that will accept the rollover. The rules of the IRA or employer plan that holds the rollover will determine your investment options, fees and rights to payment from the IRA or employer plan. For example, no spousal consent rules apply to IRAs and IRAs may not provide loans. Further, the amount rolled over will become subject to the tax rules that apply to the IRA or employer plan.

How do I do a rollover?

There are two ways to do a rollover. You can do either a direct rollover or a 60-day rollover.

Direct rollover: If you do a direct rollover, CalSTRS will make the payment directly to your IRA or an employer plan. You should contact the IRA sponsor or the administrator of the employer plan for information on how to do a direct rollover.

60-day rollover: If you do not do a direct rollover, you still may do a rollover by making a deposit into an IRA or eligible employer plan that will accept it. You will have 60 days after you receive your CalSTRS payment to make the deposit.

If you do not do a direct rollover, CalSTRS is required to withhold 20 percent of the payment for federal income taxes and, if you choose, will withhold state tax at 10 percent of your federal income tax withholding. This means that, in order to roll over the entire payment in a 60-day rollover, you must use other funds to make up for the 20 percent withheld for federal tax and any state tax withheld. If you do not roll over the entire amount of the payment, the portion not rolled over will be taxed and will be subject to the 10 percent additional federal income tax and the 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions if you are under age 59½, unless an exception applies.

How much may I roll over?

If you wish to do a rollover, you may roll over all or part of the amount eligible for rollover. Any CalSTRS payment is eligible for rollover, except:

- Benefit payments spread over a period of at least 10 years or over your life or life expectancy (or the lives or joint life expectancy of you and your beneficiary).
- Required minimum distributions after age 70½ (or after death).
- Corrective distributions of contributions that exceed tax law limitations.

CalSTRS can tell you what portion of a payment is eligible for rollover.

If I don't do a rollover, will I have to pay the 10 percent additional federal income tax and the 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions?

If you are under age 59½, you will have to pay the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions for any CalSTRS payment, including amounts withheld for income tax, that you do not roll over, unless one of the exceptions listed below applies. This tax is in addition to the regular federal and state income taxes on the payment not rolled over.

The 10 percent additional federal income tax and the 2.5 percent additional state income tax do not apply to the following CalSTRS payments:

- Payments made after you separate from service if you will be at least age 55 in the year of the separation.
- Payments that start after you separate from service if paid at least annually in equal or close to equal amounts over your life or life expectancy (or the lives or joint life expectancy of you and your beneficiary).
- Payments made due to disability.
- Payments after your death.
- Corrective distributions of contributions that exceed tax law limitations.
- Payments made directly to the government to satisfy a federal tax levy.
- Payments made under a qualified domestic relations order (QDRO).
- Payments up to the amount of your deductible medical expenses.

If I do a rollover to an IRA, will the 10 percent additional federal income tax and the 2.5 percent additional state income tax apply to early distributions from the IRA?

If you receive a payment from an IRA when you are under age 59½, you will have to pay the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions from the IRA, unless an exception applies. In general, the exceptions to the additional federal and state income taxes for early distributions from an IRA are the same as the exceptions listed above for early distributions from a plan. However, there are a few differences for payments from an IRA, including:

- There is no exception for payments after separation from service that are made after age 55.
- The exception for qualified domestic relations orders does not apply. However, a special rule applies under which, as part of a divorce or separation agreement, a tax-free transfer may be made directly to an IRA of a spouse or former spouse.
- The exception for payments made at least annually in equal or close to equal amounts over a specified period applies without regard to whether you have had a separation from service.
- There are additional exceptions for (1) payments for qualified higher education expenses, (2) payments up to $10,000 used in a qualified first-time home purchase, and (3) payments after you have received unemployment compensation for 12 consecutive weeks, or would have been eligible to receive unemployment compensation but for self-employed status.

SPECIAL RULES AND OPTIONS

If Your Payment Includes After-Tax Contributions

After-tax contributions included in a CalSTRS payment are not taxed. If a payment is only part of your benefit, an allocable portion of your after-tax contributions is generally included in the payment. If you have pre-1987 after-tax contributions maintained in a separate account, a special rule may apply to determine whether the after-tax contributions are included in a payment.

You may roll over to an IRA a CalSTRS payment that includes after-tax contributions through either a direct rollover or a 60-day rollover (see page 7). You must keep track of the aggregate amount of the after-tax contributions in all of your IRAs (in order to determine your taxable income for later payments from the IRAs). If you do a direct rollover of only a portion of the amount paid from CalSTRS and a portion is paid to you, each of the payments will include an allocable portion of the after-tax contributions.

If you do a 60-day rollover to an IRA of only a portion of your CalSTRS payment made to you, the after-tax contributions are treated as rolled over last. For example, assume you are receiving a complete distribution of your benefit that totals $12,000, of which $2,000 is after-tax contributions. In this case, if you roll over $10,000 to an IRA in a 60-day rollover, no amount is taxable because the $2,000 amount not rolled over is treated as being after-tax contributions.

You may roll over to an employer plan all of a payment that includes after-tax contributions, but only through a direct rollover—and only if the receiving plan separately accounts for after-tax contributions and is not a governmental section 457(b) plan. You can do a 60-day rollover to an employer plan of part of a CalSTRS payment that includes after-tax contributions, but only up to the amount of the payment that would be taxable if not rolled over.

If You Miss the 60-Day Rollover Deadline

Generally, the 60-day rollover deadline cannot be extended. However, the IRS has the limited authority to waive the deadline under certain extraordinary circumstances, such as when external events prevented you from completing the rollover by the 60-day rollover deadline.

To apply for a waiver, you must file a private letter ruling request with the IRS. Private letter ruling requests require the payment of a nonrefundable user fee. For more information, see IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements.

If You Were Born On or Before January 1, 1936

If you were born on or before January 1, 1936, and receive a lump-sum distribution that you do not roll over, special rules for calculating the amount of the tax on the payment might apply to you. For more information, see IRS Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income.

If You Roll Over Your Payment to a Roth IRA

You can roll over a payment from CalSTRS made before January 1, 2010, to a Roth IRA only if your modified adjusted gross income is not more than $100,000 for the year the payment is made to you and, if married, you file a joint return. These limitations do not apply to CalSTRS payments made to you after 2009. If you did a rollover to a Traditional IRA because you were not eligible to do a rollover to a Roth IRA until after 2009, you can now elect to convert the Traditional IRA into a Roth IRA.

If you roll over your CalSTRS payment to a Roth IRA, a special rule applies under which the amount of the payment rolled over (reduced by any after-tax amounts) will be taxed. However, the 10 percent additional income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions will not apply (unless you take the amount rolled over out of the Roth IRA within five years, counting from January 1 of the year of the rollover). For payments from CalSTRS during 2010 that are rolled over to a Roth IRA, the taxable amount can be spread over a two-year period starting in 2011.

If you roll over the payment to a Roth IRA, later payments from the Roth IRA that are qualified distributions will not be taxed, including earnings after the rollover. A qualified distribution from a Roth IRA is a payment made after you are age 59½—or after your death or disability, or as a qualified first-time homebuyer distribution of up to $10,000—and after you have had a Roth IRA for at least five years. In applying this five-year rule, you count from January 1 of the year for which your first contribution was made to a Roth IRA. Payments from the Roth IRA that are not qualified distributions will be taxed to the extent of earnings after the rollover, including the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions, unless an exception applies. You do not have to take required minimum distributions from a Roth IRA during your lifetime. For more information, see IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements.

You cannot roll over a payment from CalSTRS to a designated Roth account in an employer plan.

CalSTRS is not responsible for assuring your eligibility to make a rollover to a Roth IRA. Consult your tax adviser if you are interested in rolling over your payment to a Roth IRA.

If You Are Not a CalSTRS Member

Payments after a member's death. If you receive a distribution after a CalSTRS member's death that you do not roll over, the distribution will generally be taxed in the same manner described elsewhere in this notice. However, the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions do not apply. The special rule described under the section "If you were born on or before January 1, 1936" applies only if the CalSTRS member was born on or before January 1, 1936.

If you are a surviving spouse. If you receive a CalSTRS payment as the surviving spouse of a deceased member, you have the same rollover options that the member would have had, as described elsewhere in this notice. In addition, if you choose to do a rollover to an IRA, you may treat the IRA as your own or as an inherited IRA.

An IRA you treat as your own is treated like any other IRA of yours, so that payments made to you before you are age 59½ will be subject to the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions, unless an exception applies. In addition, required minimum distributions from your IRA do not have to start until after you are age 70½.

If you treat the IRA as an inherited IRA, payments from the IRA will not be subject to the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions. However, if the member had started taking required minimum distributions, you will have to receive required minimum distributions from the inherited IRA. If the member had not started taking required minimum distributions, you will not have to start receiving required minimum distributions from the inherited IRA until the year the member would have been age 70½.

If you are a surviving beneficiary other than a spouse.

If you receive a CalSTRS payment because of the member's death and you are a designated beneficiary other than a surviving spouse, the only rollover option you have is to do a direct rollover to an inherited IRA. Payments from the inherited IRA will not be subject to the 10 percent additional federal income tax and 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions. You will have to receive required minimum distributions from the inherited IRA.

Payments under a qualified domestic relations order.

If you are the spouse or former spouse of a CalSTRS member who receives a payment from CalSTRS under a qualified domestic relations order (QDRO), you generally have the same options the member would have (for example, you may roll over the payment to your own IRA or an eligible employer plan that will accept it). Payments under the QDRO will not be subject to the 10 percent additional federal income tax or 2.5 percent additional state income tax on early distributions.

If You are a Nonresident Alien

If you are a nonresident alien and you do not do a direct rollover to a U.S. IRA or a U.S. employer plan, CalSTRS is generally required to withhold 30 percent of the payment for federal income taxes. If the amount withheld exceeds the amount of tax you owe (as may happen if you do a 60-day rollover), you may request an income tax refund by filing IRS Form 1040NR and attaching your IRS Form 1042-S. See Form W-8BEN for claiming that you are entitled to a reduced rate of withholding under an income tax treaty. For more information, see also IRS Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, and IRS Publication 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities.

OTHER SPECIAL RULES

If a payment is one in a series of payments for less than 10 years, your choice whether to make a direct rollover will apply to all later payments in the series, unless you make a different choice for later payments.

If your payments for the year are less than $200, CalSTRS is not required to allow you to do a direct rollover and is not required to withhold for federal income taxes. However, you may do a 60-day rollover.

When electing how to receive a CalSTRS payment, any amount not designated for rollover will be mailed directly to you.

You may have special rollover rights if you recently served in the U.S. Armed Forces. For more information, see IRS Publication 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide.
