Keynote Speaker

Kathleen T. Heinrich, RN, PhD is a speaker, author, researcher and award-winning educator. Combining her background in Jungian psychology with her educational expertise, she has developed an integrative approach that gives nurses the self-confidence and the know-how to publish and present. Her evidence-based, best presenting and publishing practices for nurses are meant to enhance careers, recover their passion for the profession, and foster zestful workplaces. She is the author of A Nurse's Guide to Presenting and Publishing: Care to Share. Kathleen will present two interactive sessions, including "Work Smart! Turn Practice Challenges into Research Projects" and "You Can Do It! A Starter Kit for Publishing."
