Instructions

The following instructions are for the use of the Performance Evaluation Form for the District 1199/SEIU represented staff of the University of Cincinnati. The performance factors that are identified on the evaluation form should be reviewed and the employee should be rated only on those factors that are applicable to his/her job. It is not necessary to use all factors and factors can be weighted as you wish. The process of identifying the appropriate factors and developing performance standards should be a joint process that takes place between the employee and the immediate supervisor. This evaluation should be based on the employee's progress toward achievement of already mutually agreed upon performance standards. The standards should apply for all employees performing the same duties. Development of goals, objectives, and standards for the factors should be completed at the beginning of the evaluation period and should have been mutually determined by the employee and the immediate supervisor and communicated to the employee. These goals, objectives, and standards should coincide with and be compatible with those of the department and of the University. Evaluations should contain specific and relevant examples of the employee's performance. The immediate supervisor of the employee should serve as the evaluator. The reviewer, where applicable, will be the next level supervisor/manager. "The process for evaluation is the employee and the evaluator should meet and establish goals. The evaluator should sign the form. The form is then sent to the reviewer, where applicable, for comments and signature. After all comments have been written by the evaluator and the reviewer the form should be returned to the employee for comments and signature."

Original completed form should be stored in the Department File.
Copy the completed form and send one each to Human Resources and employee.
