Mission Statement:

Who is the population your agency serves?

What local, national, and/or global social issue(s) does your agency address and what service(s) do you provide to the community?

Are there any specific requirements for volunteers (i.e., certifications, background check, fingerprinting, etc.)? And, do volunteers need to pay any fees to work with your organization?

What experience has your agency had working with Academic Service-Learning students in the past?

What specific projects could an academic service-learning student contribute to at your agency?

Before answering the following question, consider what challenges your agency experiences in providing services to the community in which you serve. A S-L students can help you address these challenges. Think broadly! We have students that could help with marketing, business services, or even writing grants in addition to the main projects your organization coordinates. The more info you can provide below for specific project ideas, the better!

How will your agency orient, train, supervise, and evaluate FAU academic service-learning students?

Please consider the environment before faxing; this form may be completed and returned via email to Nori Carter at ncartel0@fau.edu.
