On your FAFSA you indicated that you or someone in your family is a dislocated worker.

Please complete this form and submit supporting documentation to verify the dislocated worker status.

In general, a person may be considered a dislocated worker if he or she:

- Is receiving unemployment benefits due to being laid off or losing a job and is unlikely to return to a previous occupation (excludes seasonal workers)
- Has been laid off or received a lay-off notice from a job
- Was self-employed but is now unemployed due to economic conditions or natural disaster; or
- Is a displaced homemaker. A displaced homemaker is generally a person who previously provided unpaid services to the family (e.g., a stay-at-home mom or dad), is no longer supported by the husband or wife, is unemployed or underemployed, and is having trouble finding or upgrading employment.
- If a person quits work, generally he or she is not considered a dislocated worker even if, for example, the person is receiving unemployment benefits.
