

NC STATE ENERGY FAIR EXHIBITOR APPLICATION:

We invite you to exhibit at our Energy Fair happening on Earth Day 2009:

Wednesday, April 22nd
10am-2pm
NC State Brickyard

We rely on our exhibitors to professionally showcase their organization's environmental focus to thousands of attendees, of all ages, who attend from all over the Triangle.

NC State's 2009 Earth Day will focus on energy with the title 'Energy Fair'. The fair will be comprised of energy related organizations, information and research. For those who have exhibited in the past this is the same great event but with a highlight on energy. Please do not let this sway you from participating if your product/service does not focus on energy. There will be plenty of space for all who wish to participate!

Exhibiting at Earth Day is fun, easy, and FREE!

The following is provided: One exhibit table, Two chairs, 10x10 space, and One parking pass
