

September, 2012

Dear Undergraduate Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in a Teacher Education program at the University of Rhode Island! All of the materials that you need to prepare a complete application are included in this Admissions Packet. They are as follows:

- Overview of Admissions Requirements, Advisement, and Decisions Process
- Admissions Testing Requirements
- BCI check information
- Admission Portfolio Requirements (undergraduate)
- Admission Portfolio Rubric
- Forms A, C, and D (for Portfolio)
- Admission Interview Rubric
- Rhode Island Professional Teaching Standards (RIPTS)
- School of Education Diversity Vision

Please review the Admissions Packet with care; the materials provide a clear roadmap of admissions expectations for the School of Education. Remember to complete the online School of Education application as specified. If you are required to take the Praxis 1 Pre-Professional Skills Tests (PPST), it is especially important to prepare thoroughly and take them as soon as possible. Plan to attend a Portfolio Training Session for an overview of the admissions process and specific requirements, and to ask questions; the dates and locations are listed on the website. Keep in mind that if you have not had experience working with children or adolescents, it will be important for you to explore ways to do so prior to January. EDC 250 provides an excellent opportunity, along with volunteering in a school or after-school program.

Often students are apprehensive about the admissions interview. This is your opportunity to present yourself in person and express yourself. Despite any understandable nervousness, it is important to feel confident, review Admissions Rubrics and the contents of your portfolio, and dress in a way that conveys respect (to yourself and to your interviewer).

If you meet the GPA and testing requirements to sign up for an interview, we look forward to receiving your application, and to meeting you. You are aspiring to a challenging and fulfilling career working with young people, and we hope to help you reach that goal.

With best wishes,

Annie G. Kammerer
Director, Office of Teacher Education

URI School of Education Overview of Admission Decision Process

Applicants will be evaluated in the four categories (I-IV) below. To apply, applicants must have a score of 3 (meets the standard) or above in categories I and II.

- 1) Categories III and IV will be scored according to the portfolio and admission rubrics provided in this packet. Applicants who receive a score of 3 (meets the standard) or above on each of the criteria (A-D) in categories III and IV will be recommended for admission.
- 2) Those with an average score of 3 in categories III or IV will still be eligible for admission. Serious and/or multiple deficiencies in any of the criteria (A-D) in these sections, however, may result in program faculty using professional judgment to deny admission.
- 3) Applicants whose final score is below a 3 will not be recommended for admission.

I. General Academic Knowledge

Preparing for and Taking the Praxis I / PPST (Pre-Professional Skills Tests)

1. The best strategy is to take these tests early: spring or summer of 2012. Review all pages of this document to see if you are required to take one or more of the PPST tests in Reading, Writing, and Math. (See next page for tips on preparing for the Praxis I.)
2. If yes, visit <http://www.ets.org/praxis/about/praxisi> for an overview. To register for either the Computer-based or Paper-based tests, go to <http://www.ets.org/praxis/register>.

IMPORTANT:

- Applicants with disabilities who wish to request testing accommodations need to read the information provided by ETS at <http://www.ets.org/praxis/register/disabilities>; call 1-866-387-8602 with any questions. Be sure to seek assistance from the URI Office of Student Disabilities Services in Memorial Union early. Requests to ETS for accommodations take several weeks to process.
- Praxis tests are only given in English. If you are a test taker whose primary language is not English (PLNE), you may be eligible for extended testing time. For more information visit <http://www.ets.org/praxis/register/accommodations/plne> and print out required forms. For help with this process, contact Dr. JoAnn Hammadou: joannah@uri.edu.

The PPST is offered in a computer-based or paper-based format:

Computer-based (CBT): Many students prefer taking the test in this format, as they can choose an available date that works well in their schedule. To see a helpful 7-minute video about the test, visit Welcome to Your Computerized Praxis™ Testing Experience. The best strategy is to take the computer-based test in spring semester prior to application in January, so if you need to re-take one or more of the tests, you will have plenty of time to attain a passing score. You may only take each test once every 30 consecutive days, not including the day of your test. The C-PPST tests in Reading (5710), Writing (5720), and Mathematics (5730) are composed of computer-delivered questions that require selecting a single or multiple responses, highlighting or reordering information, or providing constructed responses. Each testing session is 2 hours to allow time for tutorials on computer use, the test itself, and the collection of background for score reporting. Candidates can choose to take the Reading, Mathematics and Writing assessments as single tests, or as a combined test available in a single testing session with an optional 15-minute break. When you finish the Reading and Math sections, you will find out your score immediately; the Writing test is hand-scored, and will be available in about 2 weeks. The latest date to take the CBT Praxis tests is January 12, 2013. There are two CBT testing centers in Rhode Island:

Prometric Testing Center
2346 Post Rd; Suite 104
Warwick, Rhode Island 02886
(401) 738-9172

Prometric Testing Center
1300 Highland Corporate Drive
Cumberland, RI 02864
(401) 658-1560

Paper-based (PBT): The PPST tests in Reading (0710), Writing (0720), and Mathematics (0730) are each one hour long. The Writing test consists of a 30-minute multiple choice and a 30-minute essay section. The PPST is typically given on campus at URI in March, April, July, and November. Many other test sites are available in RI or out of state. Visit ETS online as noted above. (No walk-ins allowed.) The latest possible paper-based test date to meet the application deadline in January is November 3, 2012 (register by October 4 without late fees). After that test date, the computer-based tests are the only option.

Important—About Test Scores:

Make sure to create a 'My Praxis' account online at the Praxis I PPST website. ALL test takers, regardless of registration method, will access their score reports online. Computer-based test results will be available online in 10-15 days; Paper-based test results will be available online in a month plus 1 day. Make sure to print a copy of your scores and save them to your hard drive! As of September 2012, scores are available on-line for 1 year (if taken prior, available for only 45 days!); after that, you have to pay to obtain them. Please note: PPST scores are not sent to URI. Test takers may also print admission tickets (for paper-based testing only, except test takers requesting special accommodations); change personal information; and order additional score reports via their My Praxis account.

Praxis I / PPST: Exemptions, Explanations, and Examples

*For All Applicants to Teacher Education*

Do I need to take any of the PPST tests?

If you have taken the SAT, ACT, or GRE tests, and your scores meet certain benchmarks, you may be exempt from part or all of the Praxis I/PPST.

If you have taken the SAT

To qualify for a whole or partial exemption, your SAT scores (Critical Reading and Math scores only) must meet the following requirements:

- If your total SAT score is below 1150, you must take all three PPST tests, regardless of your individual scores.
- If you have a total SAT score of at least 1150, and both individual scores are at least 530, you do not need to take any PPST tests.
- If your total SAT score is at least 1150, but your SAT Critical Reading score is below 530, you must only take the PPST test in Reading.
- If your total SAT score is at least 1150, but your SAT Math score is below 530, you must only take the PPST test in Math.

If you have taken the ACT

To qualify for a whole or partial exemption, your ACT scores must meet the following requirements:

- If your ACT Reading score is at least 24, your score is acceptable. If not, you must only take the PPST test in Reading.
- If your ACT Math score is at least 20, your score is acceptable. If not, you must only take the PPST test in Math.

Graduate Students Only:

- If your undergraduate cumulative GPA is 3.0 or above, you are not required to provide any test scores at admissions.
- If your cum. undergraduate GPA is less than 3.0 (minimum 2.5), you must provide passing scores on the PPST tests or the SAT, ACT or GRE as specified on chart.

If I take one or more of the PPST tests, what are the scoring requirements?

---

The Praxis I / PPST tests have individual cut (minimum) scores, and a composite score. The following are the cut scores for the tests:

Math 179 Reading 179 Writing 177

- If you take either the Reading or Math PPST test due to an ACT or SAT exemption, you must earn at least the cut score for the test you take.
- If you are taking all three PPST tests (Reading, Math, and Writing) you must earn a composite score of 535 that is equal to the total of the three cut scores.

$$179 + 179 + 177 = \underline{535}$$

Note: It is permissible to achieve the composite score while having one or more individual scores up to three points below the cut for that individual test.

Following are examples of acceptable and unacceptable scoring combinations, with cut scores in parentheses:

- Acceptable: Math 176 (179)
Reading 179 (179)
Writing 182 (177)
The composite score is 537, and the lowest score is 3 points below the cut.
- Acceptable: Math 181 (179)
Reading 178 (179)
Writing 176 (177)
The composite score is 535, and two scores (reading and writing) are fewer than 3 points below the cut.
- Not acceptable: Math 176 (179)
Reading 179 (179)
Writing 177 (177)
The composite score is 532, and it must be 535 or above. One or more of the tests would need to be retaken so that composite score is 535. Choose the best strategy for you.
- Not acceptable: Math 182 (179)
Reading 174 (179)
Writing 178 (177)
The composite score is 534, and it must be 535 or above. The Reading test would need to be retaken for a score of at least 176 (3 points below cut).

BCI (Bureau of Criminal Identifications / Investigations) Check

A current BCI must be submitted with your application to the School of Education. The BCI is valid for one year from date of issue. For example, if you had a BCI check in September of '12, it will still be valid for application in January of 2013. (If this is your first BCI check at URI, you may also be able to use it for a spring semester 2013 practicum, as long as it will not expire prior to the end of the semester).

The BCI check may take place at one of the following locations:

- 1) The Attorney General's office in Providence ($5, payable by check only). To do the BCI in Providence, visit the Attorney General's office at 150 South Main Street in Providence. They are open from 8:30 to 4:30. Driving directions are available by calling 274-4400 and selecting that option. Make sure to bring a photo ID with your birth date. Parking can be tricky, so students sometimes go together and take turns. The AG's office will provide your letter to you before you leave.
- 2) CertifiedBackground.com. This option is convenient because you can get your BCI on-line for a fee of $18. Please see the next page of this document for instructions and more details.
- 3) Your local police station in home town (price varies). Call ahead because some towns do not offer this service or it takes weeks to get the result. NOTE: South Kingstown Police Department does not do background checks for any student.

If you have questions, please call the Office of Teacher Education at 874-5930.

Thank you for your cooperation!

Preparing your Admissions Portfolio:

- Admission Teams review many portfolios, so it is essential that you provide a neat, well-organized Admissions Portfolio.
- Forms A, C, and D are available in the Admissions Packet at <http://www.uri.edu/hss/education/applicants/index.html>.
- The required elements above are best presented in a 3-ring binder; a 1-inch binder should be sufficient.
- Please clearly label the front and spine of the binder with your name and the program you are applying to.
- Separate binder into 4 sections as designated above. You may choose to use sheet protectors for the materials (not required).
If you do so, please be sure that all sides of the document are visible (i.e. each page of transcript, etc.) so that reviewer does not need to pull out any materials in order to see all the information you provide.
- Do not include your BCI in your portfolio; submit it to the Office of Teacher Education with your application materials.
- A sample generic portfolio is available for reference in the Curriculum Materials Library (1st floor of the URI library Kingston).
- Bring your Admissions Portfolio with you to your interview; do not submit prior to interview appointment.
- Please remember to collect your portfolio in Chafee 701 after you receive your admissions decision letter.

URI School of Education Admission Portfolio Rubric

Writing Rhode Island Professional Teacher Standard (RIPTS) Captions (categories C and D)

Captions are short statements that describe how the specified evidence in your portfolio is related to the RIPTS. Applicants should refer to a few of the key standards (1-10), and may reference indicators as well (i.e. 1.4) if applicable.

Example: This paper on autism spectrum disorders addresses RIPTS 2 (content knowledge) and RIPTS 4 (diversity of learners) as it demonstrates my commitment to learning about issues of diversity and how these issues impact children in schools. It made me think specifically about RIPTS 4.3: how to ‘develop alternative instructional strategies’ for students with autism, as well as those with other learning differences.

A. Interpersonal & Communication Skills

Required Evidence: SOE Form A-Overview Statement

5- Well Above Standard

Statement reflects the following:

- Compelling focus on “teaching” and desire to work with children/adolescents in a school setting;
- A sophisticated and thoughtful understanding of the role of a teacher in the lives of children;
- Decision to become a teacher has evolved from compelling and varied life experiences;
- Sophisticated and thoughtful reference to academic experiences related to decision to become a teacher;
- Specifically references RIPTS and SOE Diversity Vision and directly relates to candidate’s life experiences;
- Mastery of mechanics and usage (i.e. no grammar and spelling errors; no inappropriate use of slang); clarity of writing and organization are exemplary

4- Above Standard

Statement reflects the following:

- Articulate focus on “teaching” and desire to work with children/adolescents in a school setting;
- A thoughtful understanding of the role of a teacher in the lives of children;
- Decision to become a teacher has evolved from compelling life experiences;
- Thoughtful reference to academic experience(s) related to decision to become a teacher;
- References RIPTS and SOE Diversity Vision;
- Mastery of mechanics and usage (i.e. one or two grammar and spelling errors; no inappropriate use of slang); clarity of writing and organization are noteworthy

3- Meets Standard

Statement reflects the following:

- Focus on “teaching” and desire to work with children/adolescents in a school setting;
- An appropriate understanding of the role of a teacher in the lives of children;
- Decision to become a teacher has evolved from appropriate life experiences;
- Reference to academic experience(s) relates to decision to become a teacher;
- Near mastery of mechanics and usage (i.e. one or two grammar and spelling errors; no inappropriate use of slang); clarity of writing and organization are acceptable

2- Approaches Standard

Statement reflects the following:

- Weak or marginal focus on “teaching” and desire to work with children/adolescents in a school setting;
- A superficial or weak understanding of the role of a teacher in the lives of children/adolescents;
- Decision to become a teacher has not clearly evolved from life experiences;
- Little reference to academic experience as it relates to decision to become a teacher;
- Mechanics and usage are still developing (i.e. several grammar and spelling errors and/or inappropriate use of slang); writing and organization are sometimes confusing

1- Little Evidence

Statement reflects the following:

- Little or no focus on “teaching” and desire to work with children/adolescents in a school setting;
- Little or no understanding of the role of a teacher in the lives of children/adolescents;
- No evidence that decision to become a teacher has evolved from life experiences;
- No reference to academic experience as it relates to decision to become a teacher;
- Poor mechanics and usage (i.e. numerous grammar and spelling errors and/or inappropriate use of slang); weak writing and organization

B. Academic Knowledge Base

Diversity Vision

The University of Rhode Island's Teacher Preparation Programs view the documented low achievement levels of students of color, language minority students, students from poverty backgrounds, and students with disabilities, and the marginalizing of diverse cultural groups as educational injustices. In response, we assume the moral responsibility of preparing all teachers to meet the needs of diverse learners.

Informed by this knowledge base, we collaborated on a vision that defines diversity and identifies the dispositions, knowledge, and skills our teacher candidates must possess to meet the needs of an increasingly diverse student population.

Definition

Diversity is differences among groups of people and individuals including ethnicity, race, socioeconomic status, gender, learning and physical exceptionalities, language, religion, sexual orientation, and geographical area.

Dispositions

- High expectations for all students
- Assumption of responsibility and self-efficacy for high level student achievement
- A sense of equity characterized by equality of opportunity and achievement
- Respect and appreciation for diversity
- To seek world views different from one's own
- Advocacy for empowerment of diverse students
- A commitment to social justice and advocacy of diverse students

Knowledge

- Cultural and individual strengths of diverse learners
- Informed and nuanced view of cultural labels
- Informed knowledge of parents and primary caretakers of diverse students with emphasis on their strengths and commitment to children
- Structural roadblocks that impede success for diverse learners
- Impact of stigma associated with disability labels and segregated educational environments
- The significance and role of community groups to diverse cultural groups

Skills

- Use cultural and individual strengths as a basis for learning so as to operate from a "Strength" rather than a "Deficit" paradigm
- Engage diverse learners
- Implement differentiated instruction
- Support English language learners
- Convene parental, community, and other relevant personnel to support the diverse learner
