Please read the following information to assist you in making your decision. If you have questions, please call 1-218-755-3750 or email reslife@bemidjistate.edu. Changes are allowed through the second week of each semester. Once classes begin, weekly charges are applied for weeks already used on the original meal plan.

- New entering students starting either fall or spring semester with less than 18 credits must maintain a meal plan for the academic year.
- Students have until the end of the day on August 27, 2012 (fall semester) and January 14, 2013 (spring semester) to make changes and to be not charged for the first full week. After those dates, weekly charges begin accruing. All changes and cancellations must be completed by the end of the day on the Friday of the second week of the semester (September 7, 2012 for fall semester; January 25, 2013 for spring semester)
- Changing from the "Any 200 meals" or the "Any 100 meals" plan to a "Beaver Buck" plan will result in a weekly charge for each week on the "Any" plan (including the week the change is made), regardless if the student eats meals. The weekly charge, along with any Beaver Bucks spent on the "Any" plan, will be deducted from the new Beaver Buck plan balance.
- Changing from a "Beaver Buck" plan to the "Any 200 meals" or "Any 100 meals" will result in the amount of Beaver Bucks spent being deducted from the new Beaver Buck balance.
- Canceling the "Any 200 meals" or "Any 100 meals" plans will result in weekly charges as discussed above in the "Changing from the 'Any 200 meals' or the 'Any 100 meals'" section.
- A meal plan may be added, or additional Beaver Bucks may be purchased, at any point during the semester.
- A maximum of 200 Beaver Bucks may be carried over from the end of fall semester to spring semester (meals are nontransferable). No Beaver Bucks (or meals) transfer after spring semester.
