DECLARATION

IMPORTANT: THE BASIC CARD APPLICANT MUST READ THE INFORMATION AND SIGN OVERLEAF.

American Express Australia Limited ("American Express"):

By submitting this application, you acknowledge that American Express relies on this information to consider this application and request us to issue you the Card specified in the application. In addition, you declare that:

- the information given on this application is true and complete and you authorise us to check that information;
- you are financially solvent and able to pay your respective debts when due;
- you understand that you will be solely liable for all charges incurred with the Card and any Supplementary Cards; and
- if you reside in the ACT, you will provide further financial information, if required, prior to your application being assessed.

Your invitation (or your opt-out)

You invite American Express, our agents and our preferred alliance organisations (including insurance companies) to use your personal information to inform you of and offer products or services from us or a related company, or any third party providing products marketed jointly with us. We may contact you by phone, mail or electronically to do this. If you wish to withdraw this invitation and remove your name from the American Express marketing list, call us on 1300 362 991. This invitation will remain in place until you withdraw it or until twelve months after you cease being an American Express Cardmember.

Authority to American Express under the Privacy Act:

To assess this application, and if it is approved, to establish and manage the Card account, you understand American Express needs to:

- collect your personal information in this application and from other sources; and
- obtain your agreement in relation to the handling of your personal information.

If you do not provide the information requested in the application or do not agree to the matters set out in this declaration, American Express may decline your application and will be unable to provide certain benefits associated with the Card.

The American Express Privacy Policy sets out our policies on the management of personal information. In accordance with the Privacy Act, any person may access their personal information held by us, and advise if they think it is inaccurate, incomplete or out of date.

To arrange access to personal information, request a copy of the American Express Privacy Policy or enquire about privacy matters write to The Privacy Officer, American Express, GPO Box 1582, Sydney NSW 2001.

Collection, use and disclosure of credit information

American Express may obtain both consumer and commercial credit reports about you from a credit reporting agency to assess this application, to collect overdue payments from you, or for any other use in connection with your account as permitted under the Privacy Act 1988.

American Express may disclose information about you to credit reporting agencies before, during or after credit is provided to you. This includes:

- the fact that you have applied for a Card and the credit limit, and that American Express is a credit provider to you;
- advice about Card payments that are at least 60 days overdue and in collection (and advice that payments are no longer overdue);
- advice that cheque(s) drawn by you, or Direct Debit requests to your financial institution account which you have authorised American Express to make, which are more than $100 have been dishonoured more than once;

- American Express's opinion that you do not intend to meet your credit obligations or that you have committed some other serious credit infringement; and
- that credit provided to you has been paid or otherwise discharged.

American Express may exchange information about you with credit providers named in your application or in a credit report issued by a credit reporting agency. Among other things, this is to:

- assess your creditworthiness as to this and future applications by you for credit;
- notify other credit providers of a default by you;
- exchange information about your account when you are in default with other credit providers;
- complete any approval process as to any transactions you wish to make on your account; and
- administer your account.

Collection, use and disclosure of personal information

American Express collects personal information about you in a number of ways, including from:

- you, including in your credit application and when you use your account (e.g. when you make a purchase using your account) or one of our websites;
- people named in your credit application (e.g. your employer or accountant);
- service providers which service your account or provide services to us (e.g. marketing agencies, mail houses and collection agents);

Your personal information is collected, used and disclosed for purposes that include:

- assessing your application and administering and managing your account;
- providing you with special offers or benefits and marketing our products and services;
- planning, product development and research;
- modelling and assessing risks and preventing or investigating fraud and other crime; and
- complying with legislative and regulatory requirements, including for identity verification purposes.

For the purposes set out in this notice, we may share your personal information with:

- persons (e.g. additional Cardmembers) you authorise to use or access your account;
- persons named in your application (e.g. to confirm employment and income details);
- service providers who provide services related to your account (e.g. Card manufacturers, collection agents and mail houses); and
- other organisations, including government and regulatory bodies, for identity verification purposes or as required or authorised by law.
- organisations whose name, logo or trademark appears on the application for the account or on the Card for marketing, planning, product development and research purposes and seek from and exchange with such organisations personal information about you;
- our related companies for the purposes set out in this notice; and
- the provider of any payment service you use to make payments to American Express.

American Express may also monitor and record your telephone conversations with us for staff training and service quality control purposes. American Express may transfer your personal information to the United States or other countries for data processing and servicing.

Information about other persons

If you provide personal information about someone else to us, you must make sure that the individual has seen, understood and agreed to:

- their personal information being collected, used and disclosed in accordance with this notice;
- their ability to access that information in accordance with the Privacy Act 1998 and to advise us if they think the information is inaccurate, incomplete or out of date; and
- the contact details of American Express's Privacy Officer.
