2011-2012 FEDERAL WORK-STUDY APPLICATION
DEADLINE: FEBRUARY 15, 2011 5:00 p.m.

What is Federal Work-Study?

The Federal Work-Study Program provides funding for students with financial need, allowing them to earn money to help pay education expenses. Work-study jobs can be on-campus or off-campus. If you work off campus, your employer must be a private nonprofit organization or a government agency, and the work performed must be in the public interest. The Federal Work-Study Program is a matching funds program, which means your employer must be able to pay a percentage of your total earnings (currently set at 40% of total earnings in 2011-12).

To apply for Federal Work-Study at Hastings College of the Law students must submit:

1. Financial Aid Supplement
2. Federal Work-Study Application

To receive consideration for Federal Work-Study, Hastings College Grants, or Federal Perkins Loans the Supplement and the FAFSA must be submitted or postmarked on or before February 15, 2011. DID YOU KNOW:

Work-study allotments are part of your 2011-12 academic year financial aid package. Since your total package is limited to the Cost of Attendance for the academic year, using your work-study in the summer will decrease the amount of other financial aid available to you during the academic year. The impact of this decrease can be mitigated by carefully budgeting your academic year financial aid, but you must think about this in advance and determine if you wish to accept this arrangement.

I understand how summer work-study impacts my academic year financial aid.
