The assignment for tonight is to write an e-mail "pieno zeppo" of verbs with modal auxiliaries.

Example: Dear Nonno Frank,

You may think it a bit strange that I write you in this way, and I certainly wouldn't want you to misunderstand my intentions, but I must insist on making one thing very clear: you should give up all hope of being a successful English teacher. You might have some good qualities (although many would probably contest that assertion too), but you'll never be able to convince this class that you can do what ought to be done. You need not take offense at these comments, which I shall hold in strictest confidence.
