and debating the
new world order
in collection development.”*

Join us for the eighth in this series of important discussions about the future of libraries, publishing, collections, and scholarship. The Fiesole Retreat Series offers you a unique opportunity to interact with a select group of your colleagues in a relaxed and thoughtful setting. Sessions are carefully balanced to assure equal and exciting representation from three communities: the library, the publisher, and the vendor, with viewpoints from the U.S., the U.K., Europe and other countries throughout the world.

Lund 2006 is set in the historic and charming city of Lund, Sweden. The city of Lund has been in the heart of Scania in southern Sweden for a thousand years and is among the oldest and largest university towns in Sweden. Founded in 1666, Lund University can be compared to Oxford. The city also has a dramatic past marked by, among other things, two shifts between Danish and Swedish governing powers. Lund also offers a rich cultural life that to this day reveals traits of its period of greatness as a religious, political, cultural and mercantile forum throughout the centuries.

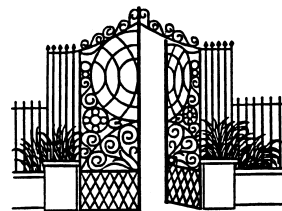

As always, invitations to this year's retreat are being issued on a limited basis. Interested parties should return this registration form as early as possible to reserve a space. Participants will also be invited to tour a number of significant libraries on the campus of the University of Lund. Our opening dinner on Thursday evening will be held at the Kronovall Wine Castle (<http://www.petripumpa.se/>) and will include a tour of the cellars.

We have booked a limited number of rooms at The Grand Hotel which will serve as the retreat headquarters. The hotel is a very short walk from the Lund train station. Lund is a 30 minute train ride from Copenhagen Airport.
