 Account Distributions
 The amount in box 1 of Form 1099-R should be reported on line 15a or 16a of IRS Form 1040 or line 11a or 12a of IRS Form 1040A. (Special reporting rules may apply for direct distributions to qualified charities made by taxpayers age 70½ or over. See IRS instructions for form 1040 or 1040A.)

 Taxable Life Insurance Dividends
 A dividend on a participating life insurance contract is reportable and taxable once the total dividends paid out on a policy has exceeded the total premiums paid into the policy.

 NOTE: The amount in Box 1 of Form 1099-R received as a result of a taxable life insurance dividend should be reported on line 16a.

If you made nondeductible IRA contributions for 2013 or in previous years, report the amount of these contributions on IRS Form 8606 (Nondeductible IRAs) to determine the taxable portion of your distribution. Report the distribution amount from box 1 of Form 1099-R on line 7 or 8 of Form 8606.

Distribution Code Box 7 of Form 1099-R identifies the code for the distribution you received. See Instructions for Recipient, Box 7, of your Form 1099-R for an explanation of the code(s).

Code 1 indicates distributions made before you reached age 59 1/2 and that are, in general, subject to a 10% additional tax. You may be required to file Form 5329 (Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans [Including IRAs] and Other Tax-Favored Accounts). Report the amount in box 2a of your Form 1099-R on Form 5329, line 1.

Distribution Code 1 — However, as explained in the Form 5329 instructions, certain exceptions to the additional tax apply with respect to qualified withdrawals for first-time homebuyers' expenses, higher education expenses, medical insurance premiums and deductible medical expenses. If your Form 1099-R shows distribution code 1 in box 7 and you qualify for an exception to the additional tax, you should file Form 5329 and report the amount from box 2a of your Form 1099-R that can be excluded on Form 5329, line 2.

Distribution Code D Reports payments from nonqualified annuities and distributions from life insurance contracts that may be subject to the net investment income tax.
