Consider purchasing a site license for all the literacy leaders in your school or district. Whether it's instant access to a new observation protocol for a coaching session, a video example of launching a literature circle, or a booklist of the best new nonfiction texts for struggling readers, Choice Literacy provides the resources literacy leaders need to mentor, coach, lead workshops, and assess professional development goals. All in short, practical, ready-to-use formats from some of the top names in literacy education today, including Jennifer Allen, “The Sisters” (Gail Boushey and Joan Moser), Debbie Miller, Franki Sibberson, and many others.

For less than the price of sending one person to a national conference, your entire leadership team can receive advice, support, and strategic tools from nationally known literacy experts all year long.

Members receive:

- ▶ Expert advice from the Choice Literacy network of contributors—all literacy leaders with decades of experience in diverse classrooms.
- ▶ Access to the Choice Literacy print library of strategies, lesson suggestions, and classroom-tested wisdom. The archives include over 500 resources for K–12 literacy instruction, with a focus on reading and writing coaching and instruction, assessment tools, and planning grids.
- ▶ Continuously updated materials, with an average of 20 new features each month. The weekly Big Fresh literacy resource e-newsletter will keep you posted on what's new when you're too busy to visit.
- ▶ A wealth of workshop suggestions, guidance, and support for literacy coaches and specialists at all levels of experience and need.
- ▶ Strategies for building communication and collaboration between mentors and new teachers.
- ▶ Over 100 videos posted on-line of expert teachers working with children for analysis, guidance, and reflection. This is professional video from our award-winning multi-camera crew.
- ▶ Wonderful stories of success, failure and everything in between—because like Crow in Crow and Weasal, sometimes we all need a story more than food to survive.

Just a note to say how much I am enjoying both my membership to the Choice Literacy site and also my free subscription to the Big Fresh newsletter. This is my first year out of the classroom in a literacy coaching role and I have found your resources extremely helpful . . . even in my 17th year of teaching!

I have been talking up your website up with many others! I really love it! The articles are fantastic, as well as the book lists, forms, video clips, etc. It is so great that you have so many "big names" in literacy. I enjoy getting your email every Saturday morning with the updates!
