Document Summary

The Call for Tender profile describes a process providing electronic messaging support for the business process of inviting economic operators in a pre-awarding phase. The key aspects covered by this profile are:

- The Contracting authority has decided to invite an Economic operator to participate in a pre awarding procedure, sending the Call for Tender document, possibly with the invitation to tender information included.
- The Economic operator decides whether he participates in the tendering process, but no communication has to be sent back to the Contracting authority.

The profile additionally allows the Contracting authority to send a formal invitation to tender document in an unstructured form to the Economic operator.

1 Introduction

This profile is a deliverable of the CEN ISSS BII2 workshop.

The original CEN Workshop on Business Interoperability Interfaces for public procurement in Europe (CEN ISSS BII) was concluded in December 2009, and its results, including a set of profiles, were issued as CWA 16073:2010. The objective of the second phase of the workshop – CEN WS/BII2 – was to provide a framework for interoperability in pan-European electronic procurement transactions, expressed as a set of requirements and technical specifications. The requirements are input into UN/CEFACT and the specifications are compatible with UN/CEFACT in order to ensure global interoperability.

Based on user input the CEN WS/BII2 has reviewed and updated a number of the profiles published as part of CWA 16073:2010. One of the updated profiles is profile BII22 that describes the Call for Tender process. This version 2 of BII22 – Call for tender is an updated version of the original BII22 profile. The update is not strictly upward compatible. See the BII document on Versioning and Change Management Policy for definition of upward compatibility in BII workshop documents.

1.1 CEN WS/BII2 profiles

A CEN WS/BII2 profile description is a technical specification describing

- the choreography of the business process covered, i.e. a detailed description of the way the business partners collaborate to play their respective roles and share responsibilities to achieve mutually agreed goals with the support of their respective information systems,
- the electronic business transactions exchanged as part of the business process, with their information requirements, and the sequence in which these transactions are exchanged,
- the business rules governing the execution of that business process, as well as any constraints on information elements used in the transaction data models

The profiles focus on the standardization on the organisational and semantics interoperability levels rather than on syntax or technical interoperability levels. Consequently the business transactions within a profile can be structured based on different message standards/syntax as long it can carry all the necessary information elements.

Although the profile descriptions and transaction data models provided by CEN WS/BII2 are neutral of syntax, the workshop also published specifications of how its data models may be mapped to defined syntaxes. This is done in order provide implementable specifications.

The main focus of the profile description and the associated transaction data models is to address generally expressed business requirements, applicable throughout the European market. Although the profile description is designed to meet generally expressed requirements, it is still the responsibility of the users to ensure that the actual business transactions exchanges meets all the legal, fiscal and commercial requirements relevant to their business.

1.2 CEN WS/BII2 Pre award support

The BII workshop has developed a set of profiles to support interoperability in the pre and post award areas. The scope of BII2 is public procurement but the profiles apply as well to private trade since many private customers use tendering as good business practice. In those cases official Notification of calls and contracts is often not applicable.

The scope of BII2 pre award profiles include processes that support communication of qualifications, calls for tender with and without catalogue templates, tenders with and without catalogues and contract notices. During these processes additional information need to be exchanged between awarding authorities and economic operators, such as questions and answers and documents supporting a final guarantee. These sub processes are currently out of scope for the workshop.

The set of BII profiles for supporting the pre award area are:

	Profile	Process	Transactions	Version
BII11	Qualification	eTendering	Qualification Qualification Reception Notification	BII2
BII12	Tendering Simple	eTendering	Tender Tender Reception Notification	BII2
BII22	Call for Tender	eTendering	Call for Tender	BII2
BII10	Tender Notification	eNotification	Publication Request Notice Publication Response Publication Correction Request Publication Confirmation	BII2
BII34	Call for Tender with Catalogue Template	eTendering	Call for Tender Pre-award Catalogue Template	BII2
BII35	Tendering Simple with Catalogue	eTendering	Tender Tender Reception Notification Pre-award catalogue	BII2

1.3 Implementation, conformance and customization

CEN WS/BII2 profiles define the core functionality that is required in order to achieve interoperability for the business processes that are covered. Parties, claiming conformance to a CEN WS/BII2 profile must be capable of:

- Processing all non-optional transactions that are defined in the profile
- Sending all mandatory elements within the transactions
- Processing all elements within the transactions they receive

Parties may agree bilaterally or within certain communities to extend the core set of information elements, or to adapt their cardinality. This extension mechanism is described in the BII Technical Guideline: BII conformance and customization, which is annexed to CEN CWxxxx0.

In order to implement a profile, the transactions are to be represented in some syntax. Syntax representation is outside the scope of the profiles; however, the mapping of the profile transactions to UBL 2.0 and to UN/CEFACT has been described. In the profiles, reference is made to technical documents such as XML schemas, Schematron files and example messages to support technical implementation.

Implementations of the profiles may be validated by means of tools and supporting material, as described in the BII Technical Guideline: BII implementation and use of validation artefacts, annexed to CEN CWxxxx0. More background information and support material can be found on the CEN WS/BII2 website <http://www.cenbii.eu/>.

2 Business environment

2.1 Introduction

Individual pre awarding processes can be followed using different procedures. In open procedures, Economic Operators request access to contract documents (including the call for tender). Restricted, negotiated and competitive dialogue procedures require Contracting Authorities to invite the candidates to the tendering process and to send them the contract documents (including the call for tender). Negotiated procedures require sending the invitation to tender to the selected candidates.

2.2 Objectives

The main business benefits to be gained by implementing this profile are:

1. The profile is a basis for an EDI agreement between the parties and enables trading partners to communicate without a previous bi-lateral setup or agreements.
2. The electronic Call for Tender allows the Contracting Authority to install a systematic invitation process.
3. Tenderers can automatically generate tenders issuing tendering documents.
4. Receipt of tendering information allows for an automated tendering process.

2.3 Scope

This profile supports the dispatch of the call for tender to facilitate Economic Operators to submit a tender electronically. It is intended to support transmission of electronic documents for processing in semi-automated processes by the receiver. The legal requirements that were taken into account are requirements from European legislation, in particular the EU directives, mentioned in section 6 of this profile. The intended scope for this profile includes Business to Business (B2B) and Business to Government (B2G) relations, with a focus on B2G.

The transactions, specified in this profile are intended to be exchanged between the tendering systems of economic operators and contracting authorities. This means that it is expected that the parties have connected their systems to the internet, and that they have middleware in place to enable them to send and receive the transactions in a secure way, using an agreed syntax.

The content model of the transactions can also be used in procurement platforms or portals, so that these platforms as well as procurement systems of Economic Operators and Contracting Authority are based on the same information and process models, which makes them more interoperable. Even if platforms are not technically interoperable, the content model facilitates understanding the tendering documents and to participate in the tendering process.

2.4 Tendering procedures

Article 28 to 34 from Directive 2004/18/EC and article 40 from Directive 2004/17/EC describe the different tendering procedures used by Contracting Authorities. By focusing on the exchange of information steps three abstract process models remain: Open procedure, Restricted procedure and Award of a contract without a prior publication of a contract notice.

The Open procedure

This procedure starts with the publication of a Contract notice. Economic operators have access to the notice and the contract documents. The contract authority provides the Call-For-Tender to all interested economic operators. After preparing the tenders, all economic operators submit their qualification and tender documents. The contracting authority evaluates all tenders and awards the contract to the winning economic operator. The procedure ends by the publication of the Award of a contract.

The Restricted procedure

This procedure starts with the publication of a Contract notice. Economic operators have access to the notice and the contract documents. The contract authority provides the Call-For-Tender to all interested economic operators. Based on the Call-For-Tender all economic operators submit their qualification documents first. The contracting authority evaluates the economic operators and invites only the selected ones to submit their tender. After preparing the tenders, the invited economic operators submit their tender documents. The contracting authority evaluates all tenders and awards the contract to the winning economic operator. The procedure ends by the publication of the Award of a contract.

This process covers the procedures Competitive dialog and Negotiated procedure with a call for competition as well. The actual dialog or negotiation will most likely not be standardized and is therefore not in scope of this model.

Award of a contract without a prior publication of a contract notice

This procedure starts with the invitation to selected economic operators to submit their tenders. The contract authority provides the Call-For-Tender to these economic operators. After preparing the tenders, the invited economic operators submit their qualification and tender documents. The contracting authority evaluates all tenders and awards the contract to the winning economic operator. To provide maximum transparency the contracting authority may publish the Voluntary ex ante transparency notice two weeks before the actual Award of a contract.

This process covers the Negotiated procedure without a call for competition as well. The actual negotiation will most likely not be standardized and is therefore not in scope of this model.

e-Notification

Official notification through publishing bodies is part of all procedures. The process of eNotification is described in a separate BII profile document: BII10: Tender Notification.

3 Requirements

3.1 Process requirements

The Contracting authority decides to invite a reduced number of candidates based on a previous selection (either based on a pre-qualification business process or on a pre-selection list based on other criteria). In open procedures Economic Operators can request access to all contract documents.

The Contracting Authority prepares the Call for Tender as a structured document, a template for a pre-award catalogue and optionally an unstructured Invitation to Tender and sends it to the pre-selected Economic operators or to those who requested access.

The Economic operator receives and evaluates the Call for Tender, including the pre-award catalogue template, and decides whether to participate or not in the tendering process.

It is the responsibility of the Contracting Authority that data contained in the transactions is valid from a technical as well as a business point of view. By definition, it is the task of the Contracting Authority to gather and to compile the data for the call for tender.

The Call for Tender submission as described in this profile includes a template for catalogue information to submit with the Tender. Calls for Tenders that are not to include a catalogue template are described in profile BII22.

3.2.2 Pre-award Catalogue Template transaction business requirements

General

ID	Requirement
tbr69-057	The transaction must contain all information necessary for its application i.e. it shall not rely on the availability of external references such as a centralised repository of item information. No external data sources should be needed in order to ease the processing of a Pre-Award Catalogue Template.
tbr69-058	It must be possible to check the integrity and authentication of the information content and to audit these aspects of the content. It must be possible to check that the Pre-Award Catalogue Template is authentic.

Header

ID	Requirement
tbr68-001	A pre-award catalogue template must be uniquely identifiable, to ensure that the pre-award catalogue template can be referenced.
tbr68-004	A reference to the corresponding call for tender by its identifying property document this pre-award catalogue template is a part of must be always specified, in order to support a tendering process by a formal and machine-process able specification of the tendered products and services.

Item

ID	Requirement
tbr68-005	An item in a pre-award catalogue template must be uniquely identifiable by a single language-independent token, to ensure that the item can be referenced, e.g., by an id.
tbr68-041	It must be possible to use standard item identification codes, e.g., GTIN.
tbr68-040	The CPV code for an item must always be specified. In tenders, the CPV nomenclature is mandatory for EU countries. For some countries it is mandatory only in the notification process but in many other countries it may be also be also relevant as a call for tender document.
tbr68-006	It must be possible to refer an item to the corresponding classes from one or more classification systems. Although, the CPV is mandatory there are many other classification systems, e.g., UNSPSC, eCl@ss, or GS1 GPC, that are, on the one side, widely used in practice, in particular in the industry, and on the other side have more features than CPV to describe products and services. By this requirement, it should possible to use these classification systems additional to CPV.
tbr68-007	It must be possible to specify the semantic relationships with cardinalities between different items in the pre-award catalogue template. In particular, it must be possible to specify part-of relationships, to specify that not only an item is tendered, but also additional items belonging to it. E.g., items that are accessories for other items or are replacements for defect components of an item. This helps to specify for instance that not only printers are tendered, but also print cartridges.

Item property

tbr68-039	An item property has to be uniquely identifiable, to ensure that the item property can be referenced.
tbr68-011	It must be possible to refer from an item property to any property from a product/service classification system as well as product groups that are specific, using standardized and predefined properties from accepted standards. Such predefined classification system helps to improve the description of an offered item. E.g., a ballpoint pen in eCl@ss is described in: http://www.eclasscontent.com/index.php?id=24240501&version=7_0&language=en&action=det . Here, several properties (net weight, line thickness, etc.) are attached to this class allowing a detailed and structured description of the products of this class in a standardized manner. I.e., according to eCl@ss an ballpoint pen can/should be described by those properties attached in eCl@ss to this class.

tbr68-012	It must be possible to specify a range of allowed values for an item property. In order to allow the supplier to offer only values in the range the Contracting Authority needs (e.g. for a RAM memory the Contracting Authority needs values of 1, 2 or 3 GB and no other values, for a maintenance service the action is request within 1 day). The values information allows also a validation check with respect to the offer of the Economic Operator.
