FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What do Summer Sessions at Alfred University offer?

We offer a variety of graduate and undergraduate courses. Two six-week sessions, special short-term courses of one, two, three or four weeks in length, internships and independent studies allow you to easily plan a schedule that fits your needs and interests. (We also offer several on-line and "on-line hybrid" courses. See page 5 for details.)

What are short-term courses?

Short-term courses are offered in one, two, three or four-week intensive formats. Classes meet for several hours each day, Monday through Friday. Some of these courses require students to do some reading, or complete some assignments ahead of time, or after the course ends. It's a great way to get a course out of the way in a brief period of time and have the rest of the summer free.

What about course cancellations?

At least two students must be enrolled in most summer courses in order for classes to be held (not counting tuition remission students). In the event we have no choice but to cancel a course, students will be notified via their official AU email accounts as soon as possible and given the opportunity to enroll in a different course or receive a refund. (Note: The decision to cancel might not be made until the first class meeting.)

What does it cost?

For part-time summer students (taking 11 credit hours or less) tuition for non-art undergraduate courses is $842/credit hour. The tuition for non-art graduate courses is $756/credit hour. Tuition for summer art courses (both undergraduate and graduate) is $478/credit hour (plus applicable studio fees). In addition to the tuition cost, all part-time students must pay a $76 student service fee. Some classes also require lab or materials fees. Tuition and fees for full-time summer students (taking more than 11 credit hours over the course of the summer) are listed on page 3.

Where would I live and get meals?

Housing is available on campus from May 13-August 4 for students aged 18 or older. Students requiring housing must submit the Summer Housing Contract at least four weeks prior to their first class (see page 17). While no meal plan is available during Summer Session I, the dining hall will be open during most of Session II and a limited meal plan may be available. Interested students should contact the Residence Life Office (607-871-2186) for further details. Students will be housed in suites or apartments with kitchen facilities so those who do not have a meal plan can prepare their own food. Meals may also be obtained at restaurants in the Village of Alfred. A list of local restaurants can be found at www.alfred.edu/community/dining.html.

Can I get a summer job on campus?

Some summer jobs may be available. The Human Resources Office staff can assist you in making contact with offices on campus that have positions available. (The Office of Summer Programs hires several students to work as camp counselors each summer. Interviews take place in March and hiring decisions are made by mid-April. Contact us at 607-871-2612 or summerpro@alfred.edu for further information.)

What's Alfred's summer weather like?

It is warm and sunny most of the time. Typical daytime highs are in the high 70s and low 80s. During the months of May and June the evenings can be cool, but it usually warms up during the day. Students should be sure to bring umbrellas, though, to be prepared for occasional summer thunderstorms.

Is there anything else happening on campus?

Many students like to spend their spare time hiking, swimming or biking on campus and in the local area. Other summer activities include carillon concerts, various conferences, residential institutes for high school students, sports camps, non-credit workshops and other programs.

SUMMER SESSIONS ADMISSION

Classes are open to current AU students, incoming freshmen, transfer students and undergraduate and graduate students from other colleges. (Courses at the 100 and 200 levels are also open to local high school students. Please see details on next page.) No examinations are required for admission to Summer Sessions. Students may enroll in courses for which their experience or previous preparation fits them. Certain advanced courses may not be taken unless prerequisites have been fulfilled. Regular class attendance is expected. (International students, please see additional requirements on page 5.)

Eligibility of High School Students to take Summer Classes

Local high school juniors and seniors, commuting from home, can take summer courses at the 100 and 200 levels. High school students must use the special registration form on page 23. The approval of the student's school counselor or principal is required each year. Special arrangements made for high school students to attend AU classes during the fall and spring do not apply during the summer. If a high school student wishes to take a course during the summer, he/she must register, pay in full for the class and provide proof of immunization (see below). (If the student is eligible for tuition remission, forms must be submitted at least two weeks before the class begins.) Registration for any course depends on available openings. High school students enrolled in summer courses are not guaranteed acceptance into any AU degree program at a later date. Campus housing is not available for high school students attending summer courses.

Transfer of Credits

It is a good idea for students regularly enrolled at other colleges and universities, who intend to transfer credits from Alfred University to their home institutions, to secure advance approval of their course selections from their home institutions. Even though courses at AU are fully accredited and are generally accepted for transfer credit, decisions on transferability rest with the receiving college/university.

Advising

Current students should consult their faculty advisors if they have questions about the courses they wish to take. Prospective students with questions are invited to call the Office of Summer Programs at 607-871-2612 for referral to the appropriate academic department for advice and information.

Immunization Requirements for Admission

All Summer Sessions students must provide the AU Health Service with appropriate proof of immunity by submitting an immunization form. The form must be submitted directly to the AU Health Service at time of registration (please see check-list and immunization form, pages 19 & 21, for further information). Students who do not comply are not allowed to complete registration for courses. If registration is already accomplished, students not in compliance with the immunization law will be removed from courses. (Current AU students who already have this information on file at the AU Health Service are not required to provide this proof again.) Direct questions about immunization requirements to the AU Health Service at 607-871-2400, or via email to richardsonr@alfred.edu.

CLASS SCHEDULE

Summer Course List

A quick-reference list of courses being offered this summer is included on pages 6. Detailed course information, including descriptions, can be found on pages 8 through 13. Please note: The information in this booklet is subject to change. For the most up-to-date information, please check the Summer Sessions course list in Banner at https://banweb.alfred.edu.

Summer Course Schedule Changes

Summer Sessions faculty members are prepared to teach all of the courses listed in this booklet. Although great care has been taken to finalize the schedule at the time this booklet is printed it must be recognized that unusual changes can take place before Summer Sessions actually begin. The administration reserves the right to cancel any courses that do not meet their minimum paid required enrollment. (For most non-art courses, the minimum is 2. The minimum required for art courses is higher and varies from course to course.) We will attempt to notify students enrolled in cancelled courses prior to the first class meeting via messages to their official AU e-mail accounts. It is the students' responsibility to check their AU e-mail regularly for course additions, changes and cancellations. Students traveling a distance to campus for summer courses should check course status before setting out on their trip to avoid the expense and inconvenience of a wasted trip in the event their course has been cancelled. The Summer Sessions website will also be kept up-to-date: www.alfred.edu/ summer/school/. It must be understood, however, that due to circumstances beyond our control the decision to cancel a course may not be made until the first class meeting.

REGISTRATION

Registration Dates

All students must register for courses. Summer course registration begins Monday, March 12. Students may register up until the first day of class, but are strongly encouraged to register as early as possible to reserve a place in the class(es) of their choice. Courses with less than the required minimum enrollment may be cancelled a few days before the course begins. Early registration can help to avoid the unnecessary cancellation of a course.

Registration Procedure

Currently enrolled full-time and part-time students must register for courses on-line using BannerWeb (https://banweb.alfred.edu). Contact the Student Service Center for help if you have questions about web registration by calling 607-871-2123 or by e-mail to registrar@alfred.edu. Web registration is available 7 days a week from 8:00 a.m. to midnight.

Others wishing to take summer courses must complete the attached registration form (p. 15, or p. 23 for high school students) and return it to the Student Service Center. (Registrations should be mailed to the address listed on the form or faxed to 607-871-2347.) Registration may also be done in person at the Student Service Center in Seidlin Hall.

All Summer Sessions students are required to submit immunization forms when they register for courses, if they haven't already done so. Please see "Immunization Requirements"(left).

Tuition and fees must be paid in full prior to the first day of class. (Registration will be denied to applicants with past due balances from previous semesters and students who have not received financial clearance for the current semester.) Students who have registered, submitted immunization forms, and paid their bills should go directly to their classes at the start of the session.

Contact Residence Life (607-871-2186) for details.

Housing Reservations

There are no linens, phones or TVs, no maid service, fans or air conditioning. (Bed linens may be rented through an outside contracted linen service for $12 per week. Students must contract for this when making arrangements for on-campus housing, if desired.) Additional information concerning where to go upon arriving on campus, how to obtain room keys, etc., will be provided to students with their housing confirmation. For information on meningococcal vaccines, see next page, or visit: www.cdc.gov/vaccines/pubs/vis/downloads/vis-mening.pdf

MENINGOCOCCAL VACCINES

1. What is meningococcal disease? Meningococcal disease is a serious bacterial illness. It is a leading cause of bacterial meningitis in children 2-18 years old in the U.S. Meningitis is an infection of the fluid surrounding the brain and spinal cord. It also causes blood infections. About 1,000-2,600 people get meningococcal disease each year in the U.S. Even when treated with antibiotics, 10-15% of these people die. Of those who survive, another 11-19% lose arms or legs, become deaf, have problems with their nervous systems, become mentally retarded, or suffer seizures or strokes. Anyone can get meningococcal disease, but it is most common in infants less than 1 year of age and people with certain medical conditions, such as lack of a spleen. College freshmen who live in dormitories, and teenagers 15-19 have an increased risk of getting meningococcal disease. Meningococcal infections can be treated with drugs such as penicillin. Still, about 1 out of every 10 people who get the disease dies from it, and many others are affected for life. This is why preventing it through use of meningococcal vaccine is important for people at highest risk.

2. Meningococcal Vaccine There are two kinds of meningococcal vaccine in the U.S.:

• Meningococcal conjugate vaccine (MCV4) was licensed in 2005, and is the preferred vaccine for people 2 through 55 years old.

• Meningococcal polysaccharide vaccine (MPSV4) has been available since the 1970s. It may be used if MCV4 is not available, and is the only meningococcal vaccine licensed for people older than 55.

Both vaccines can prevent 4 types of meningococcal disease, including 2 of the 3 types most common in the United States and a type that causes epidemics in Africa. Meningococcal vaccines cannot prevent all types of the disease. But they do protect many people who might become sick if they didn't get the vaccine. Both vaccines work well, and protect about 90% of people who get them. MCV4 is expected to give better longer-lasting protection. MCV4 should also be better at preventing the disease from spreading from person to person.

3. Who should get meningococcal vaccine and when? A dose of MCV4 is recommended for children and adolescents 11 through 18 years of age. This dose is normally given during the routine preadolescent immunization visit (at 11-12 years). But those who did not get the vaccine during this visit should get it at the earliest opportunity. Meningococcal vaccine is also recommended for other people at increased risk for meningococcal disease:

• College freshmen living in dormitories. • Microbiologists who are routinely exposed to meningococcal bacteria. • U.S. military recruits. • Anyone traveling to, or living in, a part of the world where meningococcal disease is common, such as parts of Africa. • Anyone who has a damaged spleen, or whose spleen has been removed. • Anyone who has terminal complement component deficiency • People who might have been exposed to meningitis during an outbreak. MCV4 is preferred vaccine for people ages 2-55 in these risk groups. MPSV4 can be used if MCV4 isn't available & for adults over 55.

How Many Doses? People 2 years of age & older should get 1 dose. Sometimes a 2nd dose is recommended for those at high risk. Ask your provider. MPSV4 may be recommended for children 3 mo. to 2 yrs under special circumstances. These should get 2 doses, 3 months apart.

4. Some people should not get meningococcal vaccine or should wait

• Anyone who has had a severe (life-threatening) allergic reaction to a previous dose of either meningococcal vaccine should not get another dose. • Anyone who has a severe (life threatening) allergy to any vaccine component should not get the vaccine. Tell provider if you have allergies. • Anyone who is moderately or severely ill at the time the shot is scheduled should probably wait until they recover. Ask your provider. People with a mild illness can usually get the vaccine. • Anyone who has ever had Guillain-Barré Syndrome should talk with their provider before getting MCV4. • Meningococcal vaccines may be given to pregnant women. However, MCV4 is a new vaccine and has not been studied in pregnant women as much as MPSV4 has. It should be used only if clearly needed. • Meningococcal vaccines may be given at the same time as other vaccines.

5. What are the risks from meningococcal vaccines? A vaccine, like any medicine, could possibly cause serious problems, such as severe allergic reactions. The risk of meningococcal vaccine causing serious harm, or death, is extremely small.

Mild problems - As many as half the people who get meningococcal vaccines have mild side effects, such as redness or pain where the shot was given. If these problems occur, they usually last for 1 or 2 days. They are more common after MCV4 than after MPSV4. A small percentage of people who receive the vaccine develop a fever.

Severe problems – Serious allergic reactions, within a few minutes to a few hours of the shot, are very rare. A serious nervous system disorder called Guillain-Barré Syndrome (or GBS) has been reported among some people who received MCV4. This happens so rarely that it is currently not possible to tell if the vaccine might be a factor. Even if it is, the risk is very small.

6. What if there is a moderate or severe reaction?

What should I look for? Any unusual condition, such as a high fever, weakness, or behavior changes. Signs of a serious allergic reaction can include difficulty breathing, hoarseness or wheezing, hives, paleness, weakness, a fast heart beat or dizziness.

What should I do? Call a doctor, or get the person to a doctor right away. • Tell your doctor what happened, the date and time it happened, and when the vaccination was given. • Ask your doctor, nurse, or health department to report the reaction by filing a Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) form. Or file this report through the VAERS web site at www.vaers.hhs.gov, or by calling 1-800-822-7967. VAERS does not provide medical advice.

7. The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program

A federal program exists to help pay for the care of anyone who has had a rare serious reaction to a vaccine. For information about the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, call 1-800-338-2382 or visit their website at www.hrsa.gov/vaccinecompensation.

8. How can I learn more?

• Ask your doctor or nurse. They can give you the vaccine package insert or suggest other sources of information.

- Call your local or state health department.
- Contact the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC): Call 1-800-232-4636 (1-800-CDC-INFO)
  - Visit CDC's National Immunization Program website at www.cdc.gov/vaccines

Local high school juniors and seniors, commuting from home, can take summer courses at the 100 and 200 levels. The approval of the student's school counselor or principal is required each year. Special tuition arrangements made for high school students to attend AU classes during Fall and Spring Semesters do not apply during the summer. If a high school student wishes to take a course during the summer, he/she must register, pay full tuition for the class, and provide proof of immunizations (see pages 19-21). If the student is eligible for tuition remission, forms must be submitted at least two weeks before the class begins. Registration for any course depends on available openings. High school students enrolled in summer courses are not guaranteed acceptance into any AU degree program at a later date. Campus housing is not available for high school students attending summer courses.
