Goal: Goals are broad, generalized statements about what is to be learned.	To develop a comprehensive understanding of the Hematology/Oncology subspecialty as it applies to the practice of primary care medicine.
Objectives: Learning objectives or outcomes are statements that clearly define what the learner is expected to do in order to demonstrate mastery and accomplish the goal. (specific, measurable, observable student skills or behaviors.)	At the conclusion of this rotation, the student should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • complete a physical examination to evaluate palpable tumors masses and estimate size.
Course Outline:	What topics are to be covered and types of activities which students will be involved? Example: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The student is assigned to the consultation service under supervision of the attending. 2. The student functions as a OB/GYN consultant, obtaining histories and physicals on assigned patients, gathering data, performing or observing procedures, and determining, in written form, a diagnostic, therapeutic and patient education plan. Student will be expected to read about their particular patient's problem and be able to discuss appropriate evaluation and therapy. 3. The student will attend at least 5 clinics a week. 4. The student will actively participate in conferences, presenting any assigned patients if they are to be discussed.
Methods of Evaluation: Topics and skills identified under the objectives will be observed and informally evaluated, discussed, and feedback provided to the student on a daily basis. The attending(s) and resident(s) will evaluate the student's performance at the end of the elective, using the standardized evaluation form.	Example: Evaluation will be dependent on an observed patient neurological history taking, neurological exam, and care of patients examined in the hospital.
