President's Message Karen Fletcher, RN, BSN

The Healthiness of Water

Recently, the American Organization of Nurse Executives conducted a research study of licensed nurses in the United States to learn more about the issues that surround the nursing shortage. An overwhelming 83% of the respondents stated that they were "very/moderately satisfied with their present job" in nursing. Do you fit in this 83% of respondents? As I reflected upon this research article and its' findings from the respondents, I thought about the impact of leadership in nursing and the satisfaction that a nurse receives from their work. I believe that a nurse in any setting of health care is viewed as a leader. A leader can be defined as an expert, guide or authority. I am reminded of a favorite author, John Heider, who wrote about leadership as follows:

Consider water: water cleanses and refreshes all creatures without distinction and without judgment; water freely and fearlessly goes deep beneath the surface of things; water is fluid and responsive; water follows the law freely.

Consider the leader: the leader works in any setting without complaint, with any person or issue that comes on the floor; the leader acts so that all will benefit and serves well regardless of the rate of pay; the leader speaks simply and honestly and intervenes in order to shed light and create harmony.

From watching the movements of water, the leader has learned that in action, timing is everything.

Like water, the leader is yielding. Because the leader does not push, the group does not resent or resist

There are so many opportunities in health care today for nurses to be effective leaders and be satisfied with the job that they are employed to perform. One example of an employment setting for nurses to demonstrate leadership effectively is in the home health care field. As the population continues to age and increase in numbers of people living longer, the opportunities for nurses to provide care to people in their own place of residence will continue to escalate. Many different options for work will develop as the demands for alternative health care settings continue to increase.

We are fortunate in Oklahoma to have many excellent home care agencies that employ thousands of licensed nurses to provide quality health care to individuals in their own homes. Almost every community in Oklahoma has a home care agency that employs nurses to provide care to citizens living in its' area. Many nurses lead these agencies by being the owner of the entity and providing the management and leadership of the patient care provided by the agency. Two key goals of home health care that have

On-Line Licensure Renewal & Verification

As of February 25, 2002, Oklahoma nurses may renew and verify their license online through the Board's new website at www.youoklahoma.com/nursing. The service is the result of a public-private partnership between the agency and Government firm NIC USA Inc. Licensees can take care of their renewal transactions in the manner that best meets their needs, rather than having to conform to regular business hours or spending time filling out and mailing in paperwork. A typical Online Renewal process takes about five minutes to complete, and an applicant has an opportunity to print a confirmation of the completed Online Renewal.

Online Renewal

Each nurse will receive a confidential PIN number, which should be secured by the licensee and not given to any other individual (as utilization of the PIN number for online renewal is the equivalent of the applicant's signature.)

The PIN number may be obtained (1) on the licensure renewal application mailed to each applicant three months prior to the expiration date of the current license, to the current address on file in the Board office, and (2) 90 days in advance of the licensure expiration date per request from the Online Renewal section of the website.

Nurses renewing online should be prepared by having the renewal notice with PIN number and a credit card (MasterCard or Visa) ready. During the renewal process, the applicant will certify the information is correct and the applicant is the individual completing the Online Renewal. The final step of the renewal process is an opportunity for the renewal applicant to print a confirmation receipt verifying the online renewal application processed was completed and accepted. After a minimum of two business days, the applicant may verify the license was renewed on the online verification system of the website. If the applicant is unable to complete the renewal process online for any reason, the applicant must submit a paper renewal, available by contacting the Board office. Advanced Practice Nurse Recognition and Prescriptive Authority are currently not renewable online.

Online Verification

Nurses and employers can have immediate access to licensing information by entering the Online Verification section of the Board's website. Information available through Online Verification includes name, city/state of residence, type of license (RN or LPN), license number, licensure status, and expiration date. Information required to verify a license is the licensee's name as it appears on file in the Board office or license number. Currently, Advanced Practice Recognition or Prescriptive Authority may not be verified on the website.

remained constant during more than 100 years of health care services are: direct provision of health care services to those at home and education of both client and family toward the goals of health and independence from formal care system.

In the home care setting, the demonstration of effective leadership is directly impacted by the licensed nurses' satisfaction with their job role. That satisfaction is based upon the nurse being confident of his/her skills, providing quality nursing care to a client and developing a relationship with that client to help in the healing of a client's illness.

Moral of this article:

As a nurse, make the decision to be satisfied in your area of practice and demonstrate your effective leadership skills. You are a respected professional and should be proud of the career that you have chosen to work in. Utilize the healing effects of water for the body, mind and spirit.

Proposal for Continued Competence Requirements

The mission of the Oklahoma Board of Nursing is to safeguard the public's health, safety, and welfare through regulation of nursing practice and nursing education. In keeping with that mission, the Board works to ensure that nurses meet a safe level of competence in their practice. Currently, nurses in Oklahoma demonstrate their competence to practice through graduating from a state-approved nursing education program and passing the licensure examination. After that, the nurse is not required to demonstrate to the Board that he/she continues to remain competent in the area of practice.

A subcommittee of the Oklahoma Board of Nursing has developed a proposal for evaluation of continued competence, which will be considered by the Board in the Fall of 2002. To assist with the decision, the Board has asked for input from Oklahoma nurses. The Board will review this input, and in the Fall of 2002, they will vote on whether to submit legislation during the 2003 legislative session that will enable them to move forward with the development of continued competence requirements.

Key Elements of the Proposal

- All nurses would be required to participate in continued competence activities and would need to certify such participation at the time of license renewal.
- Random audits of licensees for compliance would be conducted.
- If audited, the licensee would be required to provide evidence of participation in the required continued competence activities during previous 24 months.
- Disciplinary action could result from failure to complete continued competence requirements and/or from falsely certifying participation in the requirements.
- A variety of methods could be utilized to meet continued competence requirements.

These methods include any of the following:

- Obtaining 15 contact hours of CE that is focused on the nurse's area of practice, or if the nurse has worked in nursing for at least 520 hours in the 24 months, 5 contact hours of CE. The contact hours could be earned through attendance at seminars, conferences, and workshops, completing correspondence study, a journal article, or an online presentation that is approved for CE, obtaining academic credit, completing a nursing research project, publishing an article or book, or making a professional nursing presentation to other health professionals; or
  - Maintaining nursing specialty certification or re-certification; or
  - Completing a nursing refresher course; or
  - Successfully passing the licensure examination.
- Nurses whose licenses were not active for a specified period of time would be required to meet additional requirements which include:
    - Completing a nursing refresher course; or
    - Successfully passing the licensure examination; or
    - Successfully completing at least seven (7) hours of nursing course work; or
    - Holding an active license in another state with evidence of continued work experience.

The Oklahoma Board of Nursing welcomes your input into the development of these requirements. To facilitate this process, a survey has been placed on the Board's website. We encourage all licensed nurses to complete the survey online at: www.youroklahoma.com/nursing. This survey will remain on the Board's website until August 1, 2002. If you have questions about these requirements, please contact Gayle McNish, MS, RN, at the Board office.

Oklahoma Board of Nursing Rule Revisions

Changes in the Rules effective July 1, 2002 include:

- Only one duplicate license will be issued to a licensee;
- Applicant's for recognition as a Clinical Nurse Specialist will not be required to submit a letter from the Dean/Program Director verifying completion of a minimum of two semesters of course work in which the major focus of study was a clinical nurse specialist track or pathway if this information is submitted with the application as part of the transcript or other documentation;
- Applicant's for renewal of prescriptive authority are not required to submit documentation verifying documentation of the required pharmacology contact hours for those individuals' renewing within 24 months of initial prescriptive authority approval. However, the applicant will be required to complete the Application for Renewal of Prescriptive Authority and submit the required fee with this renewal.
- Minimum standards for nursing education programs were revised, in order to delete redundant language, clarify the intent of the current standards, and re-order some of the standards in order to enhance the ability of the reader to locate relevant information.
- Requirements for nurse administrators and faculty in nursing education programs are standardized for all levels of education, with the exception of those delineating educational requirements, which are different for the administrator and faculty in practical nursing education.
- Requirements for clinical experiences were moved to a new section. Two new standards were added, which identify that clinical experiences must provide a safe environment and the types of experiences necessary to meet the objectives of the rotation, and must prepare students for practice at the appropriate level.
- Curricular requirements for nursing education programs were amended to update and simplify language pertaining to curricular requirements in order to ensure that the curriculum prepares students for licensure at the appropriate level.
- Requirements for the minimum number of Advanced Unlicensed Assistant (AUA) training hours in classroom/laboratory and clinical instruction were added.
- Clarifying language was added that an AUA training program may offer training in basic nursing assistant skills as well as Advanced Unlicensed Assistant skills, provided the length of the training for Advanced Unlicensed Assistant skills meets the established requirements.
- A requirement was added that the written and the skills portions of the AUA certification examination must be completed within one year from each other.
- Alternative methods for qualifying for recertification as an Advanced Unlicensed Assistant were added.

Do You Need the Peer Assistance Program?

Have you ever gone to work with a hangover? Do you ever call-in because you just did a little too much partying last night? Ever been arrested for or convicted of DUI? Think your nursing practice is not affected by drinking or drug use because you only do it after hours or on days off? Or maybe you have recognized that your substance use is problematic and have even gone to treatment, but you do not think it has anything to do with nursing practice. Think again. These all have the potential to result in action against your nursing license. While you may not be using at work, your use can affect your ability to practice nursing and the Peer Assistance Program has something to offer you.

The Peer Assistance Program is a voluntary, structured monitoring program for licensed nurses with an alcohol or drug problem. Nurses who self-report and voluntarily enter the program do not have disciplinary action and their participation is not a matter of public record. Nurses who are referred here by the Board do have disciplinary action and it will result in a public record with reports to the National Council of State Boards of Nursing, the National Practitioners Databank, and the Healthcare Integrity and Protection Data Bank.

The Peer Assistance Program is not just for nurses who have diverted drugs. Any licensed nurse who recognizes that substances are causing them a problem, may apply to the program. Do not wait until you are contacted by the Board to ask for help. Contact the Peer now, before you get into trouble with your practice, and maybe you will avoid trouble altogether.

For confidential assistance, call (405) 525-2277. You do not need a referral from an employer, the Board, or a treatment provider. You can make the call yourself.

Seeking Peer Assistance Committee Members

The program is currently looking for volunteers with expertise in chemical dependency in the Oklahoma City area. The Board of Nursing appoints committee members for a three-year term. Their responsibilities include: determining acceptance of nurses into the program, developing the contract for participation with the nurse, determining when the nurse is ready to leave the program either for successful completion or termination for noncompliance, and reporting terminations to the Board of Nursing.

If you have expertise in chemical dependency and would like more information about volunteering, please contact:

A Decision-Making Model for Determining RN/LPN Scope of Practice Model for Scope of Nursing Practice Decisions

The Oklahoma Nursing Practice Act enacted by the Legislature, defines a scope of practice for nurses in this state. It is impossible for a practice act to list all of the duties that licensed nurses are or are not permitted to perform. The Board has endorsed the following guidelines to assist nurses in determining a personal scope of practice based upon legal parameters of practice and one's education, knowledge and experience.

1. Describe the act being performed.
2. Is the act expressly permitted/prohibited by the Oklahoma Nursing Practice Act?
  - a. This may be all the information you need to make your decision. If not, continue to the next step.
3. Does the act require you to have substantial specialized nursing knowledge, skill and independent judgment?
  - a. If you answer 'No' to this question, the act may be within the basic scope of practice for an RN or LPN.
  - b. If you answer 'Yes,' it may be an act within the scope of practice of an RN only for an advanced practice role.
4. Is the act consistent with the scope of practice based upon at least ONE of the following factors?
  - a. Standards of practice of a national nursing organization.
  - b. Positive and conclusive data in nursing literature and research.
  - c. Appropriately established policy and procedure of employing facility.
    - i. If you answer "no" to this question, the act is NOT within your scope of practice.
    - ii. If you answer 'Yes,' continue to the next step.
5. Do you personally possess the depth and breadth of knowledge to perform the act safely and effectively as demonstrated by knowledge acquired in a pre-licensure program, post-basic program, or continuing education program?
  - a. If you answer 'No,' the act is NOT within your scope of practice.
  - b. If you answer 'Yes,' maintain documented evidence and continue on.
6. Do you personally possess current clinical competence to perform this act safely?
  - a. If you answer 'No,' the act is NOT within your current scope of practice until competence is achieved.
  - b. If you answer 'Yes,' continue on.
7. Is the performance of the act within the accepted "standard of care" which would be provided in similar circumstances by reasonable and prudent nurses who have similar training and experience?
  - a. If you answer 'No,' the act is NOT within your scope of practice. Performance of the act may place both nurse and patient at risk.
  - b. If you answer 'Yes,' continue on.
8. Are you prepared to accept the consequences of your action?
  - a. If you answer 'No,' the act is NOT within your scope of practice.
  - b. If you answer 'Yes,' then:
    - i. Perform the act based upon valid order when necessary, and in accordance with appropriately established policies and procedures.
    - ii. Assume accountability for provisions of safe care.

SUMMARY OF DECISION-MAKING MODEL

Acknowledgments

The Oklahoma Board of Nursing acknowledges the original model development by the Kentucky State Board of Nursing. Other contributors: Boards of Nursing from Florida, North Carolina, South Dakota, Pennsylvania and National Council of State Board of Nursing.

Abandonment Statement

I. Rationale for Abandonment Statement:

The Board has received many calls from nurses seeking guidance to use to protect their license due to concerns of staffing levels, floating, and working beyond their scheduled hours.

II. Definitions:

A. Patient Abandonment:

Patient Abandonment may include the failure of a nurse to provide adequate patient care until the responsibility of care of the patient is assumed by another licensed nurse. Abandonment can only occur after the nurse has come on duty for the shift. Patient safety is the key factor in determining the nurse's responsibility in a given situation.

Examples of abandonment may include but not be limited to:

1. Leaving the employment site during an assigned patient care shift without properly advising appropriate personnel;
2. Leaving an emergency patient care situation that would be overtly dangerous, based on the standard of actions of a reasonable, prudent nurse;
3. Inattention to, or the leaving of a patient in acute distress, without proper notification of supervisor and appropriate arrangements for continuity of care;
4. Sleeping while on duty;
5. Insufficient observation (frequency of contact) of a patient;
6. Leaving without reporting to the oncoming shift;

B. Issues Not Considered by the Board to Constitute Abandonment:

The following are examples of employment issues and are not considered by the Board to constitute patient abandonment:

1. Failure of a nurse to work beyond her/his scheduled shift;
2. Refusal to work in an unfamiliar, specialized, or "high tech" area when there has been no orientation, no educational preparation, or employment experience;
3. Refusal to report to work;
4. Failure to return from a scheduled leave of absence;
5. Resigning from a position and not fulfilling the remaining posted work scheduled;
6. Ending the employer-employee relationship without providing the employer with a period of time to obtain replacement staff for that specific position (such as resigning without notice);

Provision of appropriate and adequate personnel to care for patients is the responsibility of the employer.
