

PARTNERING FOR THE GLOBAL GOOD

HOW CORPORATIONS, UNIVERSITIES AND THE UNITED NATIONS ARE JOINING HANDS TO TACKLE TOUGH ISSUES

August 21, 2008

Presentation ~ 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Dean's Reception ~ 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The Commerce Club, Atlanta, Georgia

Some may contend that our globalizing world is flat, but there is no question that corporations worldwide face uneven challenges and mountainous ethical terrain. Come learn how Georgia's leading corporations and educational institutions are partnering with the United Nations to solve global challenges and bridge ethical divides.

Join us at the Commerce Club for an afternoon of learning from some of the innovators who are shaping the ethical face of global commerce, from the halls of the United Nations, to corporate boardrooms, to classrooms and beyond. We will feature leaders from the United Nations, The Coca-Cola Company, Coles College of Business at Kennesaw State University, LaGrange College, and the J. Mack Robinson College of Business at Georgia State University.

Through this informative seminar, you will

- Learn from the UN about the ten principles of the UN Global Compact regarding human rights, labor rights, environmental responsibility and anti-corruption.
- Discover why leading corporations and educational institutions have committed themselves to the Global Compact and what they are doing to enact the ten principles.
- Become part of the local UN Global Compact network promoting responsible business practices.

We hope you will join us for an afternoon exploring what each of us can do to promote an ethical, responsible future for our globalizing world.
