

Program Instructor

Scott Nelson Foster, M.F.A.

Besides courses in drawing and painting, Professor Foster has also taught cartooning, watercolor and plein air workshops to artists of all ages. His interest in esoteric and unusual artistic practices has allowed him to work with many types of artists and artisans including: alchemists, iconographers, fresco painters, and performance artists. An avid experimenter, Professor Foster uses both ancient and contemporary materials to create nuanced images of the suburban and urban landscape which he has exhibited in solo and juried shows in the western United States.

Join us this Summer at Siena College!

Have fun exploring art with Professor Foster. Campers will make new friends, become acquainted with the Creative Arts at Siena College, and so much more.

This week-long program includes all materials and supplies, lunch daily, instruction by a Siena College professor in the morning, and collaborative and physical projects led by trained and supervised college camp counselors in the afternoon. The program also includes an afternoon field trip to the Empire State Plaza Contemporary Art Collection.
