D. Please use this space to share special/unique qualities about your son/daughter that can add to his/her college application. Your familial perspective is the best resource to pinpoint your child's traits and talents. It doesn't have to be a long dissertation-use your own style, choose your own format, and speak freely from the heart. Examples and anecdotes are helpful. Keep in mind it is perfectly acceptable to "brag" about your child on this page! The information you provide is confidential and will only be read by the counselor. Your time and assistance are greatly appreciated. Also, I urge you to share your response to this section with your child. Children of all ages need to hear the good things about themselves. Thank you!
