

Supplemental Application Form
Extended LL.M.: Three-Semester Enrollment

Prospective students with impressive qualifications but who lack the required level of English language proficiency to begin their LL.M. studies on a full-time basis may be eligible for BU Law's three-semester "Extended LL.M." option. During the first semester of the Extended LL.M. option, students enroll in intensive English language courses at Boston University's Center for English Language and Orientation Programs (CELOP), as well as introductory courses at BU Law. Students then complete the LL.M. degree requirements over the following two semesters.

The minimum English language proficiency scores required to apply for the Extended LL.M. are:

- TOEFL: 85 internet-based total; 563 paper-based total
- IELTS: 6.5
- ILEC: Narrow fail

To apply directly to this program, please:

- 1) Complete the form below and email it to bullm@bu.edu before or at the time of submitting your program specific application; and
- 2) Explain in your personal statement why you are best suited for this enrollment option
